Water and War at Pyreneus Mountains: Historical Eco-Archaeology of Lavras do Abade Diogo M. Costa, 2011-02

The Lavras do Abade research is a multiple perspective archaeological study about the environmental impacts of a gold mining village in Mid Western Brazil that was destroyed by neighboring villages at the end of the nineteenth century According to local narratives the conflict was the consequence of a dispute about the control and use of natural resources such as water However this investigation reveals that the conflict was caused also by economic and political disputes between the villages in the region In this work each stage of investigation is presented in separate chapters Research was conducted to validate hypotheses and to combine different approaches to each element that compounds this mosaic of information The result of this work is a combination of various complementary investigations into the same object and is a theoretical and methodological referential that establishes the Lavras do Abade case study as an original bridge to understanding many Water Wars in the modern world today

A history of disability in England Simon Jarrett, 2023-12-01

Throughout history numerous individuals with disabilities have had to pit themselves against huge obstacles placed in their way because of the type of person they were born as the type of person they became through accident illness or circumstances or the type of person they have been perceived as This book tells the story of how disabled people have done this how they have seen themselves how they have been perceived and treated by others and how they have influenced society People with disabilities have always been a part of English society and this concise thousand year history ranges from the surprisingly integrated communities of the medieval and early modern periods to the institutionalisation of the 19th and 20th centuries Sometimes the history of disability is described as a hidden history This book argues that it is no such thing The history of people with disabilities is often in front of our eyes yet we frequently choose to ignore it or simply do not see it Accounts of daily life events art literature family histories and political debate have always featured people with disabilities who are there for all to see but too often observers particularly non disabled observers gaze straight past them Qanat Dale Lightfoot,2024-08-22 Qanats are ubiquitous yet unseen and a clever way to create streams where none exist in nature For 3 000 years they have made life possible in impossible places and still sustain life and livelihoods in many countries today After 30 years of field research Dale Lightfoot provides the first comprehensive study of the qanat and sheds new light on their unique locations and distribution their origins and history their ecology current status and use Qanats are remarkably engineered underground aqueducts using gravity to bring water to villages and towns where reliable flowing surface water is scarce or absent Although an ancient technology more than 46 000 of them still flow around the world today with their sustainable nature making them a focus of renewed interest Richly illustrated with images and a series of original maps this is the most complete record to date of the locations and distribution of qanats worldwide including examples from the Middle East North Africa Europe Central Asia China India Mexico and South America The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History Dan Stone,2012-05-17 The postwar period is no longer current affairs but is becoming the recent past As such it is increasingly attracting the attentions of historians Whilst the Cold War has long been a mainstay of political science and contemporary history recent research approaches postwar Europe in many different ways all of which are represented in the thirty five chapters of this book As well as diplomatic political institutional economic and social history The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History contains chapters which approach the past through the lenses of gender espionage art and architecture technology agriculture heritage postcolonialism memory and generational change and shows how the history of postwar Europe can be enriched by looking to disciplines such as anthropology and philosophy The Handbook covers all of Europe with a notable focus on Eastern Europe Including subjects as diverse as the meaning of Europe and European identity southern Europe after dictatorship the cultural meanings of the bomb the 1968 student uprisings immigration Americanization welfare leisure decolonization the Wars of Yugoslav Succession and coming to terms with the Nazi past the essays in this Handbook offer an unparalleled coverage of postwar European history that offers far more than the standard Cold War framework Readers will find self contained state of the art analyses of major subjects each written by an acknowledged expert as well as stimulating and novel approaches to newer topics Combining empirical rigour and adventurous conceptual analysis this Handbook offers in one substantial volume a guide to the numerous ways in which historians are now rewriting the history of postwar Europe Environmental History of India Mr. Rohit
