No other text is as comprehensive and foundational when it comes to taking key marketing principles and applying them to campaigns and efforts to influence social action. It provides a solid foundation of fundamental marketing principles and techniques and then expands them to illustrate techniques specific to practitioners and agencies with missions to enhance public health, prevent injuries, protect the environment, and motivate community involvement. This book is coauthored by arguably the most influential individual in the field of marketing, Philip Kotler, who coined the term social marketing in 1971, with Gerald Zaltman and Nancy R. Lee, a preeminent lecturer, consultant, and author in social marketing. Key Features: Presents an introductory case for each chapter and a concluding case for a majority of chapters to demonstrate for students why and how social marketing works. Enhances understanding with chapter summaries of key points and questions for discussion. Provides a step-by-step guide to developing a marketing plan with chapters presented sequentially to support planning, development, and the inclusion of worksheets in the appendix. Social Marketing and Social Change R. Craig Lefebvre, 2013-02-18 How can we facilitate more effective, efficient, equitable, and sustainable solutions to the problems that confound our communities and world? Social marketing guru R. Craig Lefebvre weaves together multi-level theories of change, research, and case studies to explain and illustrate the development of social marketing to address some of society's most vexing problems. The result is a people-centered approach that relies on insight and empathy as much as on data for the inspiration, design, and management of programs that strive for changes for good. This text is ideal for students and professionals in health, nonprofit, business, social services, and other areas. This is it: the comprehensive, brainy road map for tackling wicked social problems. It's all right here: how to create and innovate, build and implement, manage and measure, scale up and sustain programs that go well beyond influencing individual behaviors all the way to broad social change in a world that needs the help. Bill Novelli, Professor, McDonough School of Business, Georgetown University; former CEO, AARP, and founder, Porter Novelli and the Campaign for Tobacco-Free Kids. I'm unaware of a more substantive treatise on social marketing and social change. Theoretically based, pedagogically focused, transdisciplinary, innovative, and action-oriented, this book is right for our time, our purpose, and our future thinking and action. Robert Gold, MS, PhD, Professor of Public Health and Former Dean of the School of Public Health at the University of Maryland, College Park. This book, like its author, is innovative and forward-looking yet also well-grounded in the full range of important social marketing fundamentals. Edward Maibach, MPH, PhD, University Professor and Director, Center for Climate Change Communication, George Mason University.
