Social Worlds Of Sentencing:

Social Worlds of Sentencing Jeffery T. Ulmer, 1997-07-31 Combines quantitative and qualitative data in a careful investigation of sentencing processes and context under Pennsylvania's sentencing guidelines Introduction to Criminal Justice Lawrence Travis III, 2017-10-23 This student friendly introductory core text describes the criminal justice process in the United States outlining the decisions practices people and issues involved It provides a solid introduction to the mechanisms of the criminal justice system with balanced coverage of the issues presented by each facet of the process including a thorough review of practices and controversies in law enforcement the criminal courts and corrections

Transforming Criminal Justice Jon B. Gould, Pamela R. Metzger, 2022-12-06 America's criminal justice system requires reform but those efforts too often rest on anecdotes or assumptions Drawing on the contributions of America's top justice researchers this compendium provides an evidence based blueprint to guide the movement toward criminal justice reform

Selective Incapacitation and Public Policy Kathleen Auerhahn, 2012-02-01 From the 1970s to the new millennium the prison population in the United States has quadrupled while an unprecedented amount of sentencing reform has taken place largely intended to protect the public from dangerous criminals This book details the California experience including the history and politics of criminal sentencing policy reform as well as the consequences of this activity to the criminal justice system Using cutting edge computer simulation modeling Kathleen Auerhahn explores the impact that sentencing reforms dating back to the 1970s have had on the composition and structure of the criminal justice system with specific focus on prison populations She illustrates how dynamic systems simulation modeling is used to both examine possible futures under a variety of sentencing structures and sentencing policy alternatives including narrowing strike zones and the early release of elderly offenders in order to more effectively target the dangerous criminals these policies promise to remove from society via incarceration

Trial by Treatment Mary Ellen Stitt, 2025-05-20 A troubling account of the unexpected impacts of treatment based alternatives to criminal punishment Every year courts send hundreds of thousands of people to treatment based programs as alternatives to traditional punishment These alternatives known as diversion programs are widely celebrated as reforms that reduce the punishment of the mentally ill But in Trial by Treatment Mary Ellen Stitt shows that they have in fact expanded the reach of the criminal legal system and its power over the lives of the most vulnerable The inner workings of diversion programs are obscure partially by design and data on outcomes is hard to come by Stitt draws on two years of fieldwork in criminal courtrooms and court mandated treatment sessions as well as an original national dataset in depth interviews and experimental survey data to document the hidden impacts of diversion She shows that placing mental healthcare under the control of the courts has helped to legitimize the criminalization of illness warped treatment environments and amplified inequalities in punishment In vivid and humanizing detail Trial by Treatment shows how reforms that keep power and discretion in the same hands can entrench the very problems they promised to solve Routledge

Handbook on American Prisons Laurie A. Gould, John J. Brent, 2020-11-01 The Routledge Handbook on American Prisons is an authoritative volume that provides an overview of the state of U S prisons and synthesizes the research on the many facets of the prison system The United States is exceptional in its use of incarceration as punishment It not only has the largest prison population in the world but also the highest per capita incarceration rate Research and debate about mass incarceration continues to grow with mounting bipartisan agreement on the need for criminal justice reform Divided into four sections Prisons Security Operations and Administration Types of Offenders and Populations Living and Dying in Prison and Release Reentry and Reform the volume explores the key issues fundamental to understanding the U S prison system including the characteristics of facilities inmate risk assessment and classification prison administration and employment for profit prisons special populations overcrowding prison health care prison violence the special circumstances of death row prisoners collateral consequences of incarceration prison programming and parole The final section examines reform efforts and ideas and offers suggestions for future research and attention With contributions from leading correctional scholars this book is a valuable resource for scholars with an interest in U S prisons and the issues surrounding them It is structured to serve scholars and graduate students studying corrections penology institutional corrections and other related topics

How Do Judges Decide? Cassia Spohn, 2002-01-28 The appropriate amount of punishment for a given crime is an issue that has been debated by scholars philosophers and legal professionals since the beginning of civilizations This book seeks to address this issue in all of its complexity by providing a comprehensive overview of the sentencing process in the United States The book begins by discussing the overall concept of punishment and then proceeds to dissect individual aspects of punishment Topics include the sentencing process responsibility of the judge disparity and discrimination in sentencing and sentencing reform This book is an ideal text for introductory courses on the judicial system criminal law law and society It can be an essential resource to help students understand patterns in the wide discretion and latitude given to judges when determining punishments within the framework of the United States judicial system

Judging Juveniles Aaron Kupchik, 2006-11-20 2007 Ruth Shonle Cavan Young Scholar Award presented by the American Society of Criminology 2007 American Society of Criminology Michael J Hindelang Award for the Most Outstanding Contribution to Research in Criminology By comparing how adolescents are prosecuted and punished in juvenile and criminal adult courts Aaron Kupchik finds that prosecuting adolescents in criminal court does not fit with our cultural understandings of youthfulness As a result adolescents who are transferred to criminal courts are still judged as juveniles Ultimately Kupchik makes a compelling argument for the suitability of juvenile courts in treating adolescents Judging Juveniles suggests that justice would be better served if adolescents were handled by the system designed to address their special needs

Criminal Courts Craig Hemmens, David C. Brody, Cassia Spohn, 2019-02-04 Written by three nationally recognized experts in the field Criminal Courts A Contemporary Perspective explores all the fundamental topics court structure courtroom actors and the trial and appeals process as well as other ground breaking topics such as specialty courts and comparative court systems This bestseller provides you with a foundation for understanding key concepts by reviewing the judicial function the role and purpose of law sources of law the various types of law and the American court system s structure and operations You will build on this foundation by learning about participants in the system and the pretrial trial and post trial processes Packed with contemporary examples and new pedagogical tools the Fourth Edition has been thoroughly revised with the most up to date content and resources to give you a more comprehensive understanding of the criminal courts system The Contexts of Juvenile Justice Decision Making Michael J. Leiber,2012-02-01 An in depth examination of the contextual nature of decision making and the causes of disproportionate minority confinement in four relatively homogenous juvenile courts in Iowa this book explores the subjective social psychological processes of juvenile court officers and the factors that influence those processes Iowa although a state with a predominantly white population has one of the highest minority incarceration rates for juveniles Michael J Leiber focuses on the relationships between adherence to correctional orientations such as retribution and rehabilitation and decision makers views concerning race crime family and respect for authority with judgments and differential outcomes for youth Quantitative and qualitative methodologies are used to determine the extent to which correctional ideologies and decision makers stereotyping of minorities are fueled by a wide range of contingencies the impact of case processing and outcomes of whites African Americans and Native Americans and how it varies by jurisdiction

Psychology and Law Andreas Kapardis,2014-02-10 Now in its fourth edition Psychology and Law is a comprehensive guide to the complex interactions between psychology and criminal law Andreas Kapardis explores contemporary psycho legal issues both in and out of the courtroom from eyewitness testimony investigative interviewing jury decision making and sentencing as a human process to restorative justice terrorism police prejudice and offender profiling The book draws upon sources from Europe North America and Australia to investigate the subjectivity and human fallibility inherent in our systems of justice It suggests ways of minimising undesirable influences on judicial decision making and discusses procedures for dealing with witnesses and suspects Fully revised and with greater emphasis on relevant law Psychology and Law remains the leading text on legal psychology for students and practitioners in psychology law criminology social work and law enforcement

Race and Ethnicity in the Juvenile and Criminal Justice Systems Jennifer H Peck,2018-11-07 Over the last few decades the racial and ethnic composition of the United States has changed dramatically This seismic transformation has important implications for theory research policy and public opinion perhaps most crucially around the topic of race ethnicity and our justice systems Recent national events from Ferguson to ferocious public debate about racism to media depictions of police violence have reawakened the tense question of race relations in the 21st century This edited collection of research aims to highlight contemporary issues surrounding the overrepresentation of racial and ethnic minorities throughout both the juvenile and adult criminal justice systems Our contributors cover both formal sources of social control e g police courts correction facilities and perceptions and public opinions of the relationship between race ethnicity and offending behaviors As the intellectual sphere ignites with fresh debate old questions redefined and new ones asked this publication provides innovative insight into how race and ethnicity interconnect with all aspects of criminology and criminal justice Furthermore it helps encourage directions for future research practice and public policy This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Crime and Justice

Sentencing Without Guidelines Rhys Hester, 2024-06-07 This book looks to the case of South Carolina to show how its attempt to achieve sentencing uniformity through guidelines reform was successfully resisted by South Carolina judges but how other mechanisms arose to ensure fair expectations in criminal sentencing there nonetheless

Decisions to Imprison Rasmus H. Wandall, 2016-05-13 Rasmus Wandall uses quantitative and qualitative methods from studies carried out in Denmark to address the formal and informal norms and ideologies that are used to generate decisions to imprison Focusing on the operations of the courtroom participants his work investigates how court decision making is organized to allow the sentencing procedure to be open to more than its formal legal framework while at the same time keeping the sentencing within the boundaries of law and legal validity The author uses the theory of law s operational closure developed by Niklas Luhmann The theory provides an advantageous point of departure to capture the close and subtle interactions between law s need for validity and for contextual openness in every legal operation including court decision making

Handbook on Sentencing Policies and Practices in the 21st Century Cassia Spohn, Pauline Brennan, 2019-06-14 Sentencing Policies and Practices in the 21st Century focuses on the evolution and consequences of sentencing policies and practices with sentencing broadly defined to include plea bargaining judicial and juror decision making and alternatives to incarceration including participation in problem solving courts This collection of essays and reports of original research explores how sentencing policies and practices both in the United States and internationally have evolved explores important issues raised by guideline and non guideline sentencing and provides an overview of recent research on plea bargaining in the United States Australia and the United Kingdom Other topics include the role of criminal history in sentencing the past and future of capital punishment strategies for reducing mass incarceration problem solving courts and restorative justice practices Each chapter summarizes what is known identifies the gaps in the research and discusses the theoretical empirical and policy implications of the research findings The volume is grounded in current knowledge about the specific topics but also presents new material that reflects the thinking of the leading minds in the field and that outlines a research agenda for the future This is Volume 4 of the American Society of Criminology's Division on Corrections and Sentencing handbook series Previous volumes focused on risk assessment disparities in punishment and the consequences of punishment decisions The handbooks provide a comprehensive overview of these topics for scholars students practitioners and policymakers Courts Cassia Spohn, Craig Hemmens, 2009 Courts A Text Reader provides the best of both worlds authored text Sections with carefully selected accompanying Readings that illustrate the questions and controversies legal scholars and court researchers are investigating in the 21st century The articles from leading journals in criminology and criminal justice reflect both classic studies of the criminal court system and state of the art research and often have a policy perspective that makes them more applied less theoretical and more interesting to both undergraduate and graduate students This unique Text Reader is primarily intended for undergraduate and graduate courses on the criminal court system and or judicial processes BOOK JACKET

Sentencing and Society Cyrus Tata, Neil Hutton, 2017-03-02 Combining the latest work of leading sentencing and punishment scholars from twelve different countries this major new international volume answers key questions in the study of sentencing and society It presents not only a rigorous examination of the latest legal and empirical research from around the world but also reveals the workings of sentencing within society and as a social practice Traditionally work in the field of sentencing has been dominated by legal and philosophical approaches Distinctively this volume provides a more sociological approach to sentencing so allowing previously unanswered questions to be addressed and new questions to be opened This extensive collection is drawn from around one third of the papers presented at the First International Conference on Sentencing and Society Almost without exception the chapters have been revised cross referenced and updated The overall themes and findings of the international volume are set out by the opening Introduction and the closing Reflections chapters Research findings on particular penal policy questions are balanced with an analysis of fundamental conceptual issues making this international volume essential reading for sentencing and punishment scholars criminal justice policy makers and graduate students Handbook on Punishment Decisions Jeffery T. Ulmer, Mindy S. Bradley, 2017-10-16 Handbook on

Punishment Decisions Locations of Disparity provides a comprehensive assessment of the current knowledge on sites of disparity in punishment decision making This collection of essays and reports of original research defines disparity broadly to include the intersection of race ethnicity gender age citizenship immigration status and socioeconomic status and it examines dimensions such as how pretrial or guilty plea processes shape exposure to punishment how different types of sentencing decisions and or policy structures sentencing guidelines mandatory minimums risk assessment tools might shape and condition disparity and how post sentencing decisions involving probation and parole contribute to inequalities The sixteen contributions pull together what we know and what we don t about punishment decision making and plow new ground for further advances in the field The ASC Division on Corrections Sentencing Handbook Series publishes volumes on topics ranging from violence risk assessment to specialty courts for drug users veterans or people with mental illness Each thematic volume focuses on a single topical issue that intersects with corrections and sentencing research
