The Early Modern City 1450-1750 Christopher R. Friedrichs, 2014-06-06 A pioneering text which covers the urban society of early modern Europe as a whole Challenges the usual emphasis on regional diversity by stressing the extent to which cities across Europe shared a common urban civilization whose major features remained remarkably constant throughout the period After outlining the physical political religious economic and demographic parameters of urban life the author vividly depicts the everyday routines of city life and shows how pitifully vulnerable city dwellers were to disasters epidemics warfare and internal strife

"In His Image and Likeness" Kristin Zapalac, 2019-05-15 In this ground breaking book Kristin Zapalac brings together the methods of social intellectual and art history to achieve a new understanding of how the Protestant Reformation altered the terms of political discourse in a German free imperial city In Zapalac's view visual and verbal images many of them having their origins in conceptions of the sacred were more central to sixteenth century political thought within the city walls than was the rationalized language of law Drawing on a wealth of sources including bookbindings sermons wills frescoes decrees and woodcuts she traces the impact of religious change on the languages of judgment and authority used in the city of Regensburg and thereby sheds light on the nature of political thought in early modern Germany

Sacred Boundaries Keith P. Luria, 2005-08 Religious rivalry and persecution have bedeviled so many societies that confessional difference often seems an unavoidable source of conflict Sacred Boundaries challenges this assumption by examining relations between the Catholic majority and Protestant minority in seventeenth century France as a case study of two religious groups constructing confessional difference and coexistence

Confessionalization in Europe, 1555-1700 John M. Headley, Hans J. Hillerbrand, 2017-03-02 Confessionalization in Europe 1555-1700 brings together a closely focused set of essays by leading scholars from the USA UK and Europe in memory of Bodo Nischan They address what historians of the Early Modern period have recently come to define as the pre eminent issue in the history of the Reformation as they turn their emphases from the earlier part of the 16th century to the relatively neglected latter half of the century By the time of his death Bodo Nischan had distinguished himself as a significant contributor to this central problem of confessionalization The concept involves the practice of confession building which in relation to that of social disciplining promoted interrelated processes contributing decisively to the formation of confessional churches greater social cohesion and the emergence of the Early Modern absolute state Many religious practices earlier considered as adiaphora indifferent matters now became treated as marks of demarcation between the emerging Protestant confessional churches and at the same time politicized as the early modern state sought to impose greater social control Through the analysis of such liturgical ritual and ceremonial practices Nischan helped show the way towards a better understanding of the Reformation's engagement with the people These are the themes treated in this volume

A Companion to Multiconfessionalism in the Early Modern World Thomas Max Safley, 2011-06-09

In the sixteenth century the Christian church and Christian worship fragmented into a multiplicity of confessions that has grown to the present day The essays in this volume demonstrate that multiconfessionalism understood as the legally recognized and politically supported coexistence of two or more confessions in a single polity was the rule rather than the exception for most of early modern Europe The contributors examine its causes and effects They demonstrate that local religious groups across the continent could cooperate with confessional opponents and oppose political authorities to make decisions about their religious lives depending on local conditions and contingencies In so doing this volume offers a new vision of religion state and society in early modern Europe Contributors include Bernard Capp John R D Coffey Jr. Foa David Frick Raymond Gillespie Benjamin Kaplan Howard Louthan David Luebke Keith Luria Guido Marnef Graeme Murdock Richard Ninness Penny Roberts Jesse Spohnholz Peter Wallace Lee Palmer Wandel

The Thirty Years' War Geoffrey Parker, 2006-03-20 This thoroughly revised new edition of Geoffrey Parker's classic text incorporates the latest research about this central episode of early modern history Judicious lively enlightening Times Literary Supplement
