Sociolinguistics outlines and evaluates the major approaches and methods used in Arabic sociolinguistic research with respect to diglossia, codeswitching, language variation and attitudes and social identity. This book outlines the main research findings in these core areas and relates them to a wide range of constructs including social context, speech communities, prestige, power, language planning, gender and religion. It examines two emerging areas in Arabic sociolinguistic research: internet-mediated communication and heritage speakers in relation to globalization, language dominance and interference and language loss and maintenance. It analyses the interplay between the various sociolinguistic aspects and examines the complex nature of the Arabic multidialectal, multinational and multiethnic sociolinguistic situation. Based on the author's recent fieldwork in several Arab countries, this book is an essential resource for researchers and students of sociolinguistics, Arabic linguistics and Arabic studies. Corpus-based Research in Applied Linguistics Viviana Cortes, Eniko

Csomay, 2015-01-14 This volume comprises nine contributions that were written by up and coming corpus-based researchers with varied areas of expertise who were all disciples of Douglas Biber sometime in the past two decades. These papers cover a wide variety of linguistic analyses and describe the principles of the Flagstaff school: a careful procedure for language corpora collection with special consideration for corpus size, representativeness, sampling and systematic analysis; the use of computer programming abilities that allow the posing of corpus-based research questions never asked before; and a strong emphasis on the combination of quantitative methods based on sound and innovative statistical procedures complemented with comprehensive qualitative functional analyses of the language. This volume has been edited in honor of Douglas Biber, a pioneer of the American school of corpus-based research. Modern Linguistics Shivendra Kishore Verma, N.
