Ruurs,2013 With dozens of engaging and practical writing activities for students in grades 3-8 The Power of Poems makes it easy and fun to integrate poetry into your curriculum and teach to the standards too Margriet Ruurs guides you and your students through the writing process from cultivating an inspiring learning environment and generating poem ideas to publishing poetry on paper and digitally Hundreds of age appropriate poem recommendations student examples and writing tips make this a resource you'll return to again and again Jump start your students passion for reading and writing poetry and realize the power of poetry in your classroom today Are You Sure You Don't Like Reading Poetry? John William Skepper,2024-11-01 Are You Sure You Don't Like Reading Poetry draws on author John William Skepper's rich imagination and wealth of experience to deliver a deeply personal collection of verse Ranging from humorous stories about life and love to sombre reflections on war and loss each poem's vivid imagery and inspiring language is certain to provide readers of all ages with an experience that they can revisit time and again The Creative Crone Sylvia Henneberg,2010 Henneberg shows how these writers offer radically different but richly complementary strategies for breaking the silence surrounding age Rich provides an approach to aging so strongly intertwined with other political issues that its complexity may keep us from immediately identifying age as one of her chief concerns On the other hand Sartor's direct treatment of aging sensitizes us to its importance and helps us see its significance in such writings as Rich's Meanwhile Rich's efforts to politicize age create stimulating contexts for Sartor's work Henneberg explores elements of these writers' individual poems that develop themes of aging including imagery and symbol the construction of a persona and the uses of rhythms to reinforce the themes She also includes analyses of their fiction and nonfiction works and draws ideas from age studies by scholars such as Margaret Morganroth Gullette Kathleen Woodward and Thomas Cole From publisher description Of Women, Poetry, and Power Zofia Burr,2002 The haunting legacy of Emily Dickinson's life and work has shaped a romantic conception of poetry as private personal and expressive that has governed the reception of subsequent American women poets Of Women Poetry and Power demonstrates how the canonization of Dickinson has consolidated limiting assumptions about women's poetry in twentieth century America and models an alternative reading practice that allows for deeper engagement with the political work of modern poetry Analyzing the reception of poems by Josephine Miles Gwendolyn Brooks Audre Lorde and Maya Angelou Zofia Burr shows the persistence of these critical outlooks and dispels the belief that we have long since moved beyond such limiting gendered expectations Turning away from an obsessive concern with a poet's biography Burr's readings of contemporary women's poetry accentuate its engagement and provocation of readers through its forms of address Burr shows how displacing the limits of dominant reception is possible by approaching poetry as communicative utterance not just as self expression
