

RHETORICAL DEVICES

Aporia

Every clear, rhetorical expression of doubt is an aporia.

E.g. To be or not to be, that is the question.

Asyndeton

Asyndeton is the removal of conjunctions between grammatical structures or sentences.

E.g. I came, I saw, I conquered.

Bdelygmia

A bdelygmia is a rant full of abuses.
E.g. If I was raised any differently I might call our coach a complete imbecile incapable of calling the simplest of plays at the right time. Yeah, a total no show, waste of time of a human being".

Chiasmus

You reverse the order of words, whole grammatical structures or concepts and repeat them in reverse order.

E.g. Don't judge unless you want others to judge you

Diacope

This rhetorical device is the repeating of one word or a whole grammatical construction separated by another word.
E.g. In times like these, it is always good to remember that, there were always times like these.

Dehortatio

when you want to give someone a piece of strong advice on what not to do
E.g. Never, never, never give in. No matter how small and insignificant the thing might seem. Never, never give in.

Apostrophe

Every time a speaker goes from addressing one individual and abruptly switches his attention to another person or an item is called apostrophe.

E.g. My dear Sun you torture me. What power this heavenly body possesses over us, oh Lord

Auxesis

It is the gradual increase in power and emphasis from one word to the next, erupting at the end of the sentence with its most powerful phrase or word
E.g. I looked, I smiled, I laughed, I died from laughter

Cacophony

When you use harsh words to add some effect to your statement or to grab the attention of the person you are addressing.
E.g. Every breath that I take without you close to me feels like a thousand daggers taring my insides apart.

Commoratio

Every time you are repeating yourself with different words you are using commoratio.
E.g. He is crazy, nuts, off his rocker, goofy, silly, gone, gonzo, totally gone, whipped like a bat.

Hendiadys

This rhetorical device entails the use of a conjunction between two words that grammatical isn't really all that necessary.
E.g. I'm starting to feel sick and tired of all your rambling.

Language and State

Xing Yu,2021-12-21 Language and State A Theory of the Progress of Civilization Second Edition argues that the state takes form because of language It argues that since humans began to use language they have been able to create and use media Media include materials human behavior human consciousness and humans themselves Media extend the distance of linguistic communication and then humans interact with one another on a large scale and form themselves into a large community This leads to the formation of the state and the dissolution of tribes Linguistic communication then structures human interactions in the formation of the state Humans exchange information with one another give interpretations display attitudes and make promises to one another They even allow for one person to issue commands to all others Humans organize the state in various types of linguistic interaction which further create a condition for the formation of the common interest of all a foundation for the building of the state Then humans rationalize the organization of the state in extending the distance of linguistic communication Humans realize freedom equality peace democracy and justice in their mutual linguistic interactions Language gives origin to the state and sustains the development of the state Language has preset the whole process of the progress of human civilization

The History and Theory of Rhetoric

Luke Winslow,James A.

Herrick,2025-08-19 By tracing the traditional progression of rhetoric from the Greek Sophists to contemporary theorists this updated eighth edition gives students a conceptual framework for evaluating and practicing persuasive writing and speaking in a wide range of settings including written visual and digital media Through an expansive historical purview the book illustrates how persuasive public discourse performs essential social functions and shapes our societies drawing on the ideas of many of history s greatest thinkers and theorists This new edition includes an integrated exploration of non Western rhetorics an updated account of contemporary rhetoric and an enhanced analysis of rhetorical theory in a digital age Known for its clear writing style and contemporary examples throughout The History and Theory of Rhetoric emphasizes the relevance of rhetoric to today's students. This revised edition serves as a core textbook for rhetoric courses in both English and communication programs covering both the historical tradition of rhetoric and contemporary rhetoric studies. A suite of online resources including a detailed instructor's manual, PowerPoint slides and videos from Dr Winslow can be found on the Instructor and Student Resources website at www.routledgelearning.com/historyofrhetoric

Scottish Rhetoric and Its

Influences Lyne Lewis Gaillet, 2016-07-22 An outgrowth of the recent meeting of the International Society of the History of Rhetoric this collection challenges the reader to reexamine the broad influence of 18th and 19th century Scottish rhetoric often credited for shaping present day studies in psychology, philosophy, literary criticism, oral communication, English literature and composition. The contributors examine its influence and call for a new appraisal of its importance in light of recent scholarship and archival research. Many of the essays in the first section discuss the contributions of recognized influential figures including Adam Smith and Hugh Blair. Other essays focus on the importance of 18th century Scottish sermons in relation to public discourse, audience analysis, peer evaluation and professional rhetoric. Essays in the second section address 19th century rhetorical theory and its influence on North American composition practice.

Teaching Academic Writing as a Discipline-Specific Skill in Higher Education Ezza, El-Sadig Y., Drid, Touria, 2019-12-27 It is now held that writing influences and is influenced by the discipline where it occurs. The representations that writers employ to produce and comprehend texts are said to be sensitive to the specificities of their disciplinary discourse communities. This exposes writers to divergent disciplinary demands and expectations on what counts as good and appropriate writing in terms of generic structure, discourse features and stylistic preferences reflecting dissimilar practices Because of such exigencies academic writing seems at times to be very challenging especially for novice scholars Thus any attempt to perceive the function of academic writing in higher education or to evaluate its quality should not discard the shaping force of the disciplines Teaching Academic Writing as a Discipline Specific Skill in Higher Education is a critical scholarly resource that examines the role of writing within academic circles and the disciplinary practices of writing in scholastic environments The book will also explore the particular difficulties that confront writers in the disciplines as well as the endeavors of educational institutions to develop discipline specific writing traditions among practicing and novice scholars Featuring a range of topics such as blended learning data interpretation and knowledge construction this book is essential for instructors academicians administrators professors researchers and students Emotions and Education: Promoting Positive Mental Health in Students with Learning Disabilities Nicholas D.
