Bird, Joel Willits, 2013-05-01 This volume which collects together the work of several established scholars attempts to situate the Apostle Paul the Pauline writings and the earliest Christian Gospels together in the context of early Christianity It addresses the issue of how the Christianity depicted in and represented by the individual Gospels relates to the vision of Christianity represented by Paul and the Pauline writings This raises such questions as to what extent did Paul influence the canonical and non canonical Gospels In what way are the Gospels reactions to Paul and his legacy A comparison of the Gospels and Paul on topics such as Old Testament Law Gentile mission Christology and early church leadership structures represents a fruitful area of study While a number of volumes have appeared that attempt to assess the relationship between the historical Jesus and the Apostle Paul relatively few studies on Paul and the Gospels have been published This volume excellently fills this gap in New Testament Studies and makes a valuable contribution to studies on Christian Origins Pauline research and the Gospels

Apocalyptic Imagination in the Gospel of Mark Elizabeth E. Shively, 2012-08-31 This narrative study uses Mark 3 22 30 as an interpretive lens to show that the Gospel of Mark has a thoroughly apocalyptic outlook That is Mark 3 22 30 constructs a symbolic world that shapes the Gospel's literary and theological logic Mark utilizes apocalyptic discourse portraying the Spirit filled Jesus in a struggle against Satan to establish the kingdom of God by liberating people to form a community that does God's will This discourse develops throughout the narrative by means of repetition and variation functioning rhetorically to persuade the reader that God manifests power out of suffering rejection and death This book fits among literary studies that focus on Mark as a unified narrative and rhetorical composition and uses narrative analysis as a key tool While narrative approaches to Mark generally offer non apocalyptic readings this study clarifies the symbols metaphors and themes of Mark 3 22 30 in light of the religious and social context in which the Gospel was produced in order to understand Mark's persuasive aims towards the reader Accordingly a comparative analysis of Jewish apocalyptic literature informs the use of Mark 3 22 30 as a paradigm for the Gospel

The Johannine Gospel's Concept of Community Godibert Kelly Gharbin, 2025-05-27 The Johannine Gospel's Concept of Community takes an interdisciplinary approach to contextualizing the New Testament in an African milieu which helps Johannine scholarship intersect with Akan anthropology and sociology through a tripartite frame of interpretation a narratological analysis of community oriented narratives in John the exegesis of the Akan concept of community encapsulated in their proverbial lore the anthology of inestimable information about the Akan conceptualization of communitarianism and an engagement between the two conceptual schemes through an intercultural reading The methodological principles utilized foster a cross pollination of ideas between the Johannine characterization of a community of God and the community concept present in Akan maxims This allows the Akan concept of communitarianism to enrich the reader's understanding of the text It also allows John's theology of community revealed in what Jesus epitomizes prescribes and proscribes for the believing community to serve as a form of discernible evaluation for Akan and other believers on the modus vivendi redolent of a believing community In the end it forces a redefinition of community replacing the anthropocentric individualistic and acquisitive elements that have typified the human community with a theocentric and authentically collectivist approach

Redescribing the Gospel of Mark Barry S. Crawford, Merrill P. Miller, 2017-06-16 A collaborative project with a variety of critical essays This final volume of studies by members of the Society of Biblical Literature's consultation and later seminar on Ancient Myths and Modern Theories of Christian Origins focuses on Mark As with previous volumes the provocative proposals on Christian origins offered by Burton L. Mack are tested by applying Jonathan Z. Smith's distinctive social theorizing and comparative method Essays examine Mark as an author's writing in a book culture a writing that responded to situations arising out of the first Roman Judean war after the destruction of the Jerusalem temple in 70 CE Contributors William E. Arnal, Barry S. Crawford, Burton L. Mack, Christopher R. Matthews, Merrill P. Miller, Jonathan Z. Smith and Robyn Faith Walsh explore the southern Levant as a plausible provenance of the Gospel of Mark and provide a detailed analysis of the construction of Mark as a narrative composed without access to prior narrative sources about Jesus A concluding retrospective follows the work of the seminar its developing discourse and debates and the continuing work of successor groups in the field Features A thorough examination of the relation between structure and event in social and anthropological theory that provides conceptual tools for representing the project of the author of Mark An exploration of the southern Levant as a plausible provenance of the Gospel a permanent site of successive imperial regimes and culturally related peoples A detailed analysis of the construction of Mark as a narrative composed without access to prior narrative sources about Jesus

The Theology of the Gospel of Luke Joel B. Green, 1995-04-20 The Gospel of Luke often mined for information about the life of Jesus is also one of the earliest Christian examples of narrative theology Unlike some writers of New Testament books Luke has engaged in the theological task by shaping a narrative representation of the coming and mission of Jesus In doing so he goes to great lengths to ground the work of Jesus in the continuing story of God's redemptive plan especially witnessed in the Scriptures and he also emphasises the ongoing character of that story with the result that Luke's audience is challenged to discern the purpose of God in order that they may embrace it and order their lives around it This exploration of the way in which Luke accomplishes his theological task in the first century is both informative and illuminating for contemporary readers seeking approaches to cultural criticism and constructive theology today
