Hardcastle, Arthur J. Katz, 1979      Unemployment, the Family and Social Work: a Guide for Social Workers, 1992      Work and Unemployment 1834-1911 Marjorie Levine-Clark, 2022-06-16 This volume explores the idea of unemployment as nineteenth century economists constructed the category unemployment referring to a structural problem that caused genuine workmen to be temporarily unemployed through no fault of their own Sources examine how social thinkers and politicians put forward a range of arguments about the reasons for unemployment the increasingly detailed categorization of people without work and the growing movement to represent labour both inside and outside Parliament in large part to address the problem of unemployment Accompanied by extensive editorial commentary this volume will be of great interest to students of British History      Guide to Communist Tactics Among the Unemployed United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary, 1961      Reforming the Welfare State Richard B. Freeman, Birgitta Swedenborg, Robert H. Topel, 2010-04-15 Over the course of the twentieth century Sweden carried out one of the most ambitious experiments by a capitalist market economy in developing a large and active welfare state Sweden s generous social programs and the economic equality they fostered became an example for other countries to emulate Of late Sweden has also been much discussed as a model of how to deal with financial and economic crisis due to the country s recovery from a banking crisis in the mid 1990s At that time economists heatedly debated whether the welfare state caused Sweden s crisis and should be reformed a debate with clear parallels to current concerns over capitalism Bringing together leading economists Reforming the Welfare State examines Sweden s policies in response to the mid 1990s crisis and the implications for the subsequent recovery Among the issues investigated are the way changes in the labor market tax and benefit policies local government policy industrial structure and international trade affected Sweden s recovery The way that Sweden addressed its economic challenges provides valuable insight into the viability of large welfare states and more broadly into the way modern economies deal with crisis      Unemployment Insurance Occasional Paper, 1985      Inventing Unemployment Anthony O'Donnell, 2019-12-12 This book examines the evolution of Australian unemployment law and policy across the past 100 years It poses the question How does unemployment happen But it poses it in a particular way How do we regulate work relationships gather statistics and administer a social welfare system so as to produce something we call unemployment And how has that changed over time Attempts to sort workers into discrete categories the employed the unemployed those not in the labour force are fraught and do not always easily correspond with people s working lives Across the first decades of the twentieth century trade unionists statisticians and advocates of social insurance in Australia as well as Britain grappled with the problem of which forms of joblessness should be classified as unemployment and which should not This book traces those debates It also chronicles the emergence and consolidation of a specific idea of unemployment in Australia after the Second World War It then charts the eventual unravelling of that idea and relates that unravelling to the changing ways of ordering employment relationships In doing so Inventing Unemployment challenges the preconception that casual work self employment and the gig economy are recent phenomena Those forms of work confounded earlier attempts to define unemployment and are again unsettling our contemporary understandings of joblessness This thought provoking book shows that the category of unemployment rather than being a taken for granted economic variable has its own history and that history is intimately related to our changing understandings of employment Beginning the Unemployment Insurance Program, 1985 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 2006 Valentine v.
