Women Readers in French Painting 1870-1890 Kathryn Brown, 2017-07-05 The first monograph to examine the depiction of reading women in French art of the early Third Republic Women Readers in French Painting 1870-1890 evaluates the pictorial significance of this imagery its critical reception and its impact on notions of femininity and social relations Covering a broad range of paintings prints and sculptures this book shows how the liseuse was subjected to unprecedented levels of pictorial innovation by artists with widely differing aesthetic aims and styles. Depictions of readers are interpreted as contributions to changing notions of public and private life, female agency and women's participation in cultural and political debates beyond the domestic household. This highly original book explores images of women readers from a range of social classes in both urban and rural settings. Such images are shown to have articulated concerns about the impact of female literacy on labour environments and family life while in many cases challenging conventions of gendered reading. Kathryn Brown also presents an alternative way of conceiving of modernity in relation to nineteenth century art, a methodological departure from much recent art historical literature. Artists discussed range from Manet, Cassatt and Degas to less familiar figures such as Lavieille, Carri, Toulmouche and Tissot.

Laboratories of Faith John Warne Monroe, 2018-07-05 At a fascinating moment in French intellectual history, an interest in matters occult was not equivalent to a rejection of scientific thought. Participants in séances and magic rituals were seekers after experimental data as well as spiritual truth. A young astronomy student wrote of his quest: 'I am not in the presence or under the influence of any evil spirit. I study Spiritism as I study mathematics.' He did not see himself as an ecstatic visionary but rather as a sober observer. For him, the darkened room of occult practice was as much laboratory as church. In an evocative history of alternative religious practices in France in the second half of the nineteenth and beginning of the twentieth centuries, John Warne Monroe tells the interconnected stories of three movements: Mesmerism, Spiritism and Occultism. Adherents of these groups, Monroe reveals, attempted to modernize faith by providing empirical support for metaphysical concepts. Instead of trusting theological speculation about the nature of the soul, these believers attempted to gather tangible evidence through Mesmeric experiments, séances and ceremonial magic. While few French people were active Mesmerists, Spiritists or Occultists, large segments of the educated general public were familiar with these movements and often regarded them as fascinating expressions of the modern condition, a notable contrast to the Catholicism and secular materialism that prevailed in their culture. Featuring eerie spirit photographs, amusing Daumier lithographs and a posthumous autograph from Voltaire as well as extensive documentary evidence, Laboratories of Faith gives readers a sense of what being in a séance or a secret society ritual might actually have felt like and why these feelings attracted participants. While they never achieved the transformation of human consciousness for which they strove, these thinkers and believers nevertheless pioneered a way of being religious that has become an enduring part of the Western cultural vocabulary.

The Lives and Times of the Great Composers Michael Steen, 2011-07-01 A glorious plum pudding of a book to be consulted with pleasure and profit over and over again. Sir Jeremy Isaacs' Michael Steen's Great Composers was originally published in 2003. A lifetime's work and almost 1000 pages long, it has since become the reference point and key read on the biographical backgrounds to classical music's biggest names. Authoritative and hugely detailed, but nonetheless a joy to read, this new edition will expand its readership further and capitalise on a newfound popular interest in classical music. Steen's book helps you explore the story of Bach, the respectable burgher, much of whose vast output was composed amidst petty turf disputes in Lutheran Leipzig or the ugly argumentative Beethoven in French occupied Vienna obsessed by his laundry or Mozart the over exploited infant prodigy whose untimely death was shrouded in rumour Read about Verdi who composed against the background of the Italian Risorgimento or about the family life of the Wagners and Brahms who rose from the slums of Hamburg to become a devotee of beer and coffee in fin de siecle Vienna a cultural capital bent on destroying Mahler and much much more
