The Transformation of Modernity Michael Hviid Jacobsen,2017-10-05 This title was first published in 2001 For over 30 years it has been argued that contemporary society is undergoing a fundamental transformation The portrait of the modern society or modernity offered by philosophers and social scientists from Hobbes to Parsons is no longer understood as a description of the final and highest stage in the social evolution of mankind Modern society is not the end of history but simply another more or less contingent social and cultural formation on planet earth This new perspective on modernity and its transformation which has emerged from the modernist postmodernist debate is the subject matter of this book It is addressed in a multidisciplinary and international way both theoretically and empirically and is explored not only in general and historical terms but also through specific topics such as sexuality identity democracy globalization knowledge and leadership Offering an important collaborative contribution to contemporary discourse in sociology social psychology politics and philosophy this book represents a unique effort to come to grips with our obscure and elusive social position at the start of the 21st century Key Concepts in Developmental Psychology H Rudolph Schaffer,2006-12-28 Perfect for courses in child development or developmental psychology and arranged thematically in sections corresponding to chapter headings usually found in textbooks this book is ideal for students wanting an accessible book to enrich their learning experience Key Features Provides an overview of the place of each concept in Developmental Psychology under three headings namely its meaning origins and current usage Concepts are grouped into sections corresponding to the main themes usually covered in teaching Relevant concepts in the book are emboldened and linked by listing at the end of each concept Guidance is provided to further reading on each of the concepts discussed The book will be centrally important to undergraduate students who need to learn the language used by developmental psychologists in describing their studies but will also help more advanced readers in checking their ideas regarding the nature and uSAGE of particular concepts Race, Taste, Class and Cars Yunis Alam,2020-07-22 Love them or hate them most of us have an opinion about cars If not the cars themselves then it s driver competence and behaviour that can offend us And then there s modification alloy wheels custom audio systems and bespoke paint jobs For some changing the look feel and sound of a car says something about themselves but for others such enhancements signify a lack of taste or even criminality In subtle and complex ways cars transmit and modify our identities behind the wheel As a symbol of independence and freedom the car projects status class taste and significantly embeds racialisation Using fascinating research from drivers including first person accounts as well as exploring hip hop music and car related TV shows Alam unpicks the ways in which identity is rehearsed enhanced interpreted   Managing Emotions in Mergers and Acquisitions Verena Kusstatscher,Cary L. Cooper,2005-01-01 Just as mergers and acquisitions begin to take off once again this book reminds us that the emotional side of business is often at the heart of success and failure With a terrific mix of case studies and in depth conceptual thinking Managing Emotions in Mergers and Acquisitions addresses the most fundamental of all issues in M As how and why people sometimes disrupt the best merger plans simply because they are well people Sydney Finkelstein Professor of Strategy and Leadership at the Tuck School at Dartmouth College and author of Why Smart Executives Fail This is a very welcome addition to our knowledge on M A process This is an in depth study on emotions how these are effected due to M A activity in two firms and how they influence the process itself It helps us to understand what emotions are How we can deal with them And Why do M As so often fail It offers state of the art knowledge on this complex phenomenon The four cases present in depth and extremely rich insight into how emotions actually work and influence the success failure in M A process In conclusion it is a timely and innovative book which is a must read for anyone interested in mergers and acquisitions Pervez Ghauri University of Manchester UK Research suggests that an increasing number of people experience organisational changes such as mergers and acquisitions as highly emotional life events Indeed given that as the authors prove 70% of all mergers and acquisitions fail to reach their initial goals largely because of neglected people issues it is a must for every manager and M A researcher to understand the emotional side of such change processes This fascinating book explains how managerial behaviour and communication styles influence the emotions of employees and affect their readiness to contribute to a successful post merger integration It combines emotion theories from other disciplines with recent M A findings and offers practical implications through illustrative case studies Academics and practitioners will find the combination of management literature with psychology and sociology literature of great interest
