Third World Education Anthony R. Welch, 2002-05-03 This book debunks the argument that quality in education can only be achieved by limiting or trading off equality The quality of schooling is a major issue for Third World nations across the globe However there is no single measure which is universally accepted Whether it is as some economists might argue an issue of the number of desks per classroom or one of national sovereignty is widely disputed Defining equality in education becomes increasingly difficult in an era of globalization in which there exists a wide gap

Education, Social Justice and the Legacy of Deakin University Richard Tinning, Karen Sirna, 2012-01-01 The late Joe Kincheloe once wrote that the amazing Deakin Mafia provided innovative and unprecedented critical scholarship on education for a few short years Informed by various theoretical perspectives eg critical theory neo Marxist poststructuralist postcolonial feminist critical literacy Bourdieuan Foucauldian key Deakin University scholars pursued their commitments to social justice through education A certain criticality characterised their work

Individually and collectively they created a national and international reputation for critical scholarship in education. Since that time the 1980s and 90s however most of the Deakin mafia have moved to senior academic posts elsewhere in Australia and internationally and their influence in educational research and discourse now continues as members of the Deakin diaspora. This collection is an account of the stories of many of these scholars. It will provide valuable reading for any scholar of education who is particularly interested in critical pedagogy and the critical project in education more generally. It also provides insights into what makes a faculty of education successful at a particular point in time.

The Political Economy of Global Citizenship Education Vanessa De Oliveira Andreotti, 2016-03-16. This edited collection offers analyses of global citizenship education within and across different national contexts. This book illustrates the contingency of definitions, the complexities of juxtaposing demands and priorities in different educational contexts and the difficulties and tensions of asking a question that is arguably one of the most pressing of our time: how should we live together in interdependent ecologies in a finite planet. In the discipline of education where market imperatives and the dictatorship of effective replicable results have laid siege to independent debates, this book aims to emphasize the importance of raising our intellectual game as educators to interrupt new and old problematic patterns of engagements, representations, uncomplicated solutions and conceptual straightjackets. Contributors to this volume address the tensions between homogenizing universalisms and parochial specificisms, ethnocentrism and relativism, deficit theorizations and romanticizations of difference, fantasies of supremacy and paralysis in guilt, the global and the local. The chapters take different approaches to map the origins, meanings, workings, ethics, politics and implications of initiatives, approaches and conceptual frameworks related to the ideas of globalization, citizenship and education in different sites of knowledge production. This book was originally published as a special issue of Globalisation, Societies and Education.

Social Justice Education for Teachers, 2008-01-01. Social Justice Education for Teachers Paulo Freire and the Possible Dream is a book that will help teachers in their commitment to and praxis of an education for social justice. In addition it addresses how Freire's ideas could be implemented in urban education both in the industrialized and developing world and how the debates about globalization today need to be addressed also with the politics of liberation as a possible dream. Three of the authors Moacir Gadotti, Carlos Alberto Torres and Jos Eustaquio Romo with the help of Paulo Freire created the first Paulo Freire Institute in São Paulo, Brazil in 1991 and worked very closely with Freire for more than two decades while the remaining scholars/activists are noted Freirean scholars and urban educators devoting their research, teaching and political activism to promote tools of conviviality and models of policy that will make this a better world, a less ugly world, a world in the words of Freire where it will be easier to love.
