Childbirth in the Global Village Dawn Hillier, 2013-10-14 Childbirth in the Global Village highlights and examines the role that globalisation plays in changing childbirth practices and to try to understand more clearly the interrelationship between globalisation modernization science the medical The Promise Keepers Bryan W. Brickner, 1999-01-01 This informative book explores the ideological practices that construct the Promise Keepers movement while investigating the fundamentals of the Promise Keepers belief system Based upon non participant observations of events as well as in depth interviews The Promise Keepers Politics and Promises studies the movement from the inside providing a better understanding of this evangelical phenomenon Examining the group from its modest beginning in 1990 of seventy men joining together in prayer Bryan Brickner discusses the meaning of the movement in a social context This book will be invaluable to scholars of religion gender studies and political theory Social Capital in Eastern Europe Katarzyna Lasinska, 2013-01-11 Katarzyna Lasinska deals with the consequences of democratic transitions in Middle and Eastern Europe By selecting specific sets of countries according to the main explanations such as Catholic tradition transformation process and communist legacies the author identifies key factors explaining particular findings in Poland Thank to systematically used comparative research strategy the pitfalls of idiosyncratic argumentation are successfully avoided Through inclusion of religious tradition as an explanative factor the results go beyond the commonly used East West comparisons The author presents a comprehensive picture of complex conditions and different processes for social capital building across Eastern European societies Violent Conflict and the Transformation of Social Capital Nat J. Colletta, Michelle L. Cullen, 2000-01-01 A book based on field studies conducted in Cambodia Rwanda Guatemala and Somalia Home-based Economic Activities and Caribbean Urban Livelihoods Hebe Verrest, 2007 Poor urban households in the economic south deploy various livelihood activities One of these is a Home Based Economic Activity HBEA e g sales of home made snacks or car maintenance This study examines the prevalence organisation and relevance of HBEAs in four neighbourhoods in the Caribbean cities Paramaribo Suriname and

Port of Spain Trinidad and Tobago Recent economic developments in these countries diverge Suriname recovers slowly from a crisis while Trinidad and Tobago s economy is buoyant These economic features together with local political developments have produced distinct institutional contexts This gives ground for a comparison between the two cities In addition the study discusses the relevance of currently popular policies on entrepreneurship and micro finance The above issues have been assessed through use of multiple quantitative and qualitative methods The study shows that forty percent of households in the examined neighbourhoods earn money through operating HBEAs These are mainly operated by women and assist households in improving their livelihoods from a level of survival to a level of security Most HBEA operators aim at earning additional incomes and reducing vulnerability Only a small group meets the image of the classic operator who innovates takes risk and aims at growth and profit The two groups organize their HBEA in very distinct ways Differences between Suriname and Trinidad and Tobago are small First of all economic growth has limited impact on assets and vulnerability of low income groups Moreover policies aiming at stimulation of entrepreneurship such as micro credit are relevant to classic entrepreneurs and not to the large group of security seeking HBEA operators

Democratic Policing in Transitional and Developing Countries Michael D. Wiatrowski, 2016-05-13 Is it possible to create democratic forms of policing in transitional and developing societies This volume argues that policing models and practices promoted by the west are often inadequate for adoption by countries making democratic transitions because they do not adequately address issues such as human rights equity co production accountability openness and organizational change Therefore police reform is often limited to a one size fits all approach The book expands the dialogue so that discussions of democratic policing around the world are more realistic comprehensive and sensitive to the local context Detailed case studies on Iraq South Africa Northern Ireland and Kazakhstan provide a realistic assessment of the current state of policing The editors use the studies to suggest how to promote democratic policing and other important goals of democratic reform around the world The volume will assist academics policy makers NGOs and others in tailoring a local democratic policing strategy within a broader framework to enhance socioeconomic development and citizen capacity build social capital reduce various forms of conflict and support human rights

Faith, Morality, and Civil Society Dale McConkey, Peter Augustine Lawler, 2003-01-01 In this rich collection of essays editors Dale McConkey and Peter Augustine Lawler explore the contributions that religious faith and morality can make to a civil society Though the level of religious expression has remained high in the United States the shift from traditional religious beliefs to a far more individualized style of faith has led many to contend that no faith commitment collective or personal should contribute to the vibrancy of a civil democratic society Challenging those who believe that the private realm is the only appropriate locus of religious belief the contributors to this volume believe that religion can inform and invigorate the secular institutions of society such as education economics and politics Drawn from a wide variety of religious and moral traditions these diverse essays show from many perspectives the important contribution religion has to make in the public square that is civil society

Faith, Reason, and Political Life Today Peter Augustine Lawler, Dale McConkey, 2001-01-01 This rich and varied collection of essays addresses some of the most fundamental human questions through the lenses of philosophy literature religion politics and theology Peter Augustine Lawler and Dale McConkey have fashioned an interdisciplinary consideration of such perennial and enduring issues as the relationship between nature and history nature and grace reason and revelation classical philosophy and Christianity modernity and postmodernity repentance and self limitation and philosophy and politics These tensions are explored through the works of such eminent thinkers as Aristotle Augustine and Tocqueville but the contributors engage a wide variety of texts from popular culture American literature Flannery O Connor receives notable attention and social theory to create a remarkably comprehensive if far from harmonious introduction to political philosophy today

Governance for Peace David Cortright, Conor Seyle, Kristen Wall, 2017-09-21 An evidence based analysis of governance focusing on the institutional capacities and qualities that reduce the risk of armed conflict

The No-growth Imperative Gabor Zovanyi, 2013 More than two decades of mounting evidence confirms that the existing scale of the human enterprise has surpassed global ecological limits to growth Based on such limits The No Growth Imperative discounts current efforts to maintain growth through eco efficiency initiatives and smart growth programs and argues that growth is inherently unsustainable and that the true nature of the challenge confronting us now is one of replacing the current growth imperative with a no growth imperative Gabor Zovanyi asserts that anything less than stopping growth would merely slow today s dramatic degradation and destruction of ecosystems and their critical life support services Zovanyi makes the case that local communities must take action to stop their unsustainable demographic economic and urban increases as an essential prerequisite to the realization of sustainable states The book presents rationales and legally defensible strategies for stopping growth in local jurisdictions and portrays the viability of no growth communities by outlining their likely economic social political and physical features It will serve as a resource for those interested in shifting the focus of planning from growth accommodation to the creation of stable sustainable communities While conceding the challenges associated with transforming communities into no growth entities Zovanyi concludes by presenting evidence that suggests that prospects for realizing states of no growth are greater than might be assumed

Inclusive Communities

Andrew Azzopardi, Shaun Grech, 2012-09-11 The term Inclusive Communities has increasingly featured in recent years at policy practice and theoretical levels drawing from different disciplinary standpoints Much of this has been spurred by efforts at understanding the exclusions confronted by certain populations to develop the notion of and mechanisms by which communities can include those who are marginalised and or oppressed and in some contexts to bring back community as something real or imagined In spite of this this deceptive term remains shrouded in epistemological darkness conveniently endorsed but often little theorised and less understood This text provides an exciting introductory textbook drawing academics policy makers and activists from various fields to theorise create new and innovative conceptual platforms and develop further the hybrid idea of inclusive communities
