Atlanta's Olympic Resurgence: How the 1996 Games Revived a Struggling City Michael Dobbins, Leon S. Eplan & Randal Roark, 2021 The summer of 1996 In nineteen days six million visitors jostled about in a southern city grappling with white flight urban decay and the stifling legacy of Jim Crow Six years earlier a bold audacious partnership of a strong mayor enlightened business leaders and Atlanta s Black political leadership dared to bid on hosting the 1996 Olympic Games Unexpectedly the city won an achievement that ignited a loose but robust coalition that worked collectively if sometimes contentiously to prepare the city and push it forward This is a story of how once struggling Atlanta leveraged the benefits of the Centennial Games to become a city of international prominence This improbable rise from the ashes is told by three urban planning professionals who were at the center of the story Back cover Transgressive Citizenship and the Struggle for Social Justice Lucy Earle, 2017-03-29 This book analyses the struggle for social justice in S o Paulo Brazil It takes the wave of protests that began in the city in 2013 as a starting point and grounds them in the history of social movement mobilisation in urban Brazil Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork with a federation of housing movements this work demonstrates the ongoing relevance of the concept of the right to the city for social movements of the urban poor and examines these movements creative interpretation of national legislation to support their claims for housing and urban citizenship

Memories and Social Struggles in Contemporary Bolivia Sue A. S. Iamamoto, 2025-07-10 Through investigation of three case studies in Bolivia this book offers an innovative perspective to explain the role of collective memories in moments of intense social struggle and political change Memories and Social Struggles in Contemporary Bolivia Platforms in Convulsive Times examines social memories as functioning powerful platforms that structure the experience of activists in convulsive times The first case analyses how the inhabitants of the province of Omasuyos mobilized the memory of the anti colonial rebellion of Tupac Katari and Bartolina Sisa during the so called Gas War in 2003 The second case concentrates on how activists in El Alto recalled the War of the Pacific to make sense of the same conflict Thirdly this book explores the civic strike in Potos in 2010 and its relation to the memory of the rise and fall of the Imperial City of Potos Sue A S Iamamoto argues these memories and narratives have often experienced a path dependent continuous remembrance through history which is both constitutive and instrumental for the activists claiming it

Labor in a Globalizing City Simone Judith Buechler, 2013-12-05 The extraordinary stories of low income women living in S o Paulo industrial case studies and the details of three squatter settlements and communities in the periphery researched in Simone Buechler s book Labor in a Globalizing City allow us to better understand the period of economic transformation in S o Paulo from 1996 to 2003 Buechler s in depth ethnographic research over a period of 17 years include interviews with a variety of social actors ranging from favela inhabitants to Wall Street bankers Buechler examines the paradox of a globalizing city with highly developed financial service and industrial sectors but at the same time a growing sector of microenterprises degraded labor considerable unemployment unprecedented inequality and precarious infrastructure in its low income communities The author argues that informalization and low income women s labor are an integral part of the global economy Other countries are continuing to use the same kind of neo liberal economic model even though once again with the latest global financial crisis it has proven to be detrimental to many workers

The Struggle for Social Justice in British Columbia Irene Howard, 2011-11-01 Helena Gutteridge was a socialist and feminist whose vision helped to shape social reform legislation in British Columbia in the first decades of the twentieth century and also one of the first women there to hold high political office She was born in England in 1879 A militant suffragist tutored by the Pankhursts she learned the politics of confrontation early Emigrating to Vancouver in 1911 she found the suffrage movement there too polite and organized the B C Woman s Suffrage League to help working women fight for the vote And she kept on organizing As a journeyman tailor she was a power in her union local and as the only woman on the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council their rebel girl she championed the rights of workers and organized women to fight for themselves In the 1930s as a member of the feisty new political movement the Co operative Commonwealth Federation she joined in the struggles of the unemployed for work and wages Then in 1937 as the first woman ever elected to Vancouver City Council she led the fight for low income housing As was typical for women of her class and time Helena did not keep personal records nor did organizational records exist to any extent Irene Howard made it her task over a period of years to search out and assemble details of Helena s life and career and to interview old comrades who knew Helena and the turbulent times in which she lived Herself a miner s daughter the author brings to her subject an affectionate regard and sympathy qualified by the larger view of the scholar and researcher The result is a lively biography shot through with humour and pathos that pays homage to Helena Gutteridge and to many of the people who have been inspired by a cause and who have taught us about the politics of caring Beyond the Networked City Olivier

Coutard,Jonathan Rutherford,2015-12-14 Cities around the world are undergoing profound changes In this global era we live in a world of rising knowledge economies digital technologies and awareness of environmental issues The so called modern infrastructural ideal of spatially and socially ubiquitous centrally governed infrastructures providing exclusive homogeneous services over extensive areas has been the standard of reference for the provision of basic essential services such as water and energy supply This book argues that after decades of undisputed domination this ideal is being increasingly questioned and that the network ideology that supports it may be waning In order to begin exploring the highly diverse fluid and unstable landscapes emerging beyond the networked city this book identifies dynamics through which a break with previous configurations has been operated and new brittle zones of socio technical controversy through which urban infrastructure and its wider meaning are being negotiated and fought over It uncovers across a diverse set of urban contexts new ways in which processes of urbanization and infrastructure production are being combined with crucial sociopolitical implications through shifting political economies of infrastructure which rework resource distribution and value creation through new infrastructural spaces and territorialities which rebundle socio technical systems for particular interests and claims and through changing offsets between individual and collective appropriation experience and mobilization of infrastructure With contributions from leading authorities in the field and drawing on theoretical advances and original empirical material this book is a major contribution to an ongoing infrastructural turn in urban studies and will be of interest to all those concerned by the diverse forms and contested outcomes of contemporary urban change across North and South Social Reproduction and the City Simon Black,2020

The transformation of child care after welfare reform in New York City and the struggle against that transformation is a largely untold story In the decade following welfare reform despite increases in child care funding there was little growth in New York s unionized center based child care system and no attempt to make this system more responsive to the needs of working mothers As the city delivered child care services on the cheap relying on non union home child care providers welfare rights organizations community legal clinics child care advocates low income community groups activist mothers and labor unions organized to demand fair solutions to the child care crisis that addressed poor single mothers need for quality affordable child care as well as child care providers need for decent work and pay Social

Reproduction and the City tells this story linking welfare reform to feminist research and activism around the crisis of care social reproduction and the neoliberal city At a theoretical level Simon Black s history of this era presents a feminist political economy of the urban welfare regime applying a social reproduction lens to processes of urban neoliberalization and an urban lens to feminist analyses of welfare state restructuring and resistance Feminist political economy and feminist welfare state scholarship have not focused on the urban as a scale of analysis and critical approaches to urban neoliberalism often fail to address questions of social reproduction To address these unexplored areas Black unpacks the urban as a contested site of welfare state restructuring and examines the escalating crisis in social reproduction He lays bare the aftermath of the welfare to work agenda of the Giuliani administration in New York City on child care and the resistance to policies that deepened race class and gender inequities

Social Justice and the City Nik Heynen,2020-06-09 This special collection aims to offer insight into the state of geography on questions of social justice and urban life While using social justice and the city as our starting point may signal inspiration from Harvey s 1973 book of the same name the task of examining the emergence of this concept has revealed the deep influence of grassroots urban uprisings of the late 1960s earlier and contemporary meditations on our urban worlds Jacobs 1961 1969 Lefebvre 1974 Massey and Catalano 1978 as well as its enduring significance built upon by many others for years to come Laws 1994 noted how geographers came to locate social justice struggles in the city through research that examined the ways in which material conditions contributed to poverty and racial and gender inequity as well as how emergent social movements organized to reshape urban spaces across diverse engagements including the U S Civil Rights Movement anti war protests feminist and LGBTQ activism the American Indian Movement and disability access This book originally published as a special issue of Annals of the American Association of Geographers

Counteracting the Neoliberal City Michaela De Marco,2025-09-22 This book presents a groundbreaking theoretical and methodological framework for analyzing urban phenomena and urban policies and a pioneering approach to urban regeneration projects The text advocates for an Integral and Recognitive Urban Regeneration of public spaces in cities to confront current neoliberal urban policies which have been ineffective in achieving genuine overall wellbeing in contemporary urban environments Integral and Recognitive Urban Regeneration is a macro process composed of several micro contextualized urban projects that account for the complexity of urban spaces This process goes beyond merely enhancing the aesthetics and functionality of architectural spaces rather presenting itself as an educational community oriented cooperative creative socializing eco friendly multidisciplinary and transdisciplinary process that serves as a platform for regenerating compromised ecosystems promoting the cognitive psychological emotional social and political empowerment of resident communities and addressing local and global forms of social and ecological injustice As such this book is an essential resource for students researchers academics and experienced planners alike
