Societal Decision-making Svein S. Andersen, Tom R. Burns, 1992 This text deals with societal decision making relating to large scale major energy facilities abbreviated hereafter as MEFs hydro power developments nuclear power plants and off shore petroleum projects In Norway as in many other countries national authorities have a major responsibility for the planning financing and construction of such projects Construction of large scale energy facilities is part of industrialization and modernization

Transparency and Accountability in Science and Politics K. Andersson, 2008-07-10 This book challenges the role of scientists in policy making and the idea of deliberative democracy The author argues that awareness must increase among both politicians and the citizens who elect them We must revitalise the decision making processes in representative democracy The book proposes new institutional structures

Democratic Education for Social Studies Anna S. Ochoa-Becker, 2006-12-01 In the first edition of this book published in 1988 Shirley Engle and I offered a broader and more democratic curriculum as an alternative to the persistent back to the basics rhetoric of the 70s and 80s This curriculum urged attention to democratic practices and curricula in the school if we wanted to improve the quality of citizen participation and strengthen this democracy School practices during that period reflected a much lower priority for social studies Fewer social studies offerings fewer credits required for graduation and in many cases the job descriptions of social studies curriculum coordinators were transformed by changing their roles to general curriculum consultants The mentality that prevailed in the nation's schools was back to the basics and the basics never included or even considered the importance of heightening the education of citizens We certainly agree that citizens must be able to read write and calculate but these abilities are not sufficient for effective citizenship in a democracy This version of the original work appears at a time when young citizens teachers and schools find themselves deluged by a proliferation of curriculum standards and concomitant mandatory testing In the 90s virtually all subject areas including United States history geography economic and civics developed curriculum standards many funded by the federal government Subsequently the National Council for the Social Studies issued the Social Studies Curriculum Standards that received no federal support Accountability captured in the No Child Left Behind Act passed by Congress has become a powerful political imperative that has a substantial and disturbing influence on the curriculum teaching and learning in the first decade of the 21st century

Decision Behaviour, Analysis and Support Simon French, John Maule, Nadia Papamichail, 2009-07-30 A multi disciplinary exploration of how we can help decision makers to deliberate and make better decisions

Professional Decision Making in Social Work Brian Taylor, 2010-04-21 Many social workers face daily pressure to make sound decisions in very difficult circumstances occasionally having to manage impossible expectations Politicians and the media may spotlight care decisions where a tragedy or complaint occurs In this complex arena of conflicting demands and considerations from the public the client the family the organisation the professional needs a robust and yet flexible framework to inform practice decisions This book is written to help social work practitioners and students make professional decisions with clients from exercising statutory powers and duties to protect children from abuse to making decisions about risk      Civil Society and Nuclear Non-Proliferation Claudia Kissling, 2016-05-23 Since the end of the Cold War globalization has brought new actors to the political arena One of those which has attracted considerable attention in academic research is civil society or NGOs Claudia Kissling addresses the topic of civil society participation in the nuclear non proliferation regime The regime qualifies well for this objective since it features given its characteristics as a treaty regime in the international security field notable legal avenues for civil society participation The study takes on a twofold perspective It addresses the empirical question of whether civil society can contribute to the evolution of regimes in the security field especially when it comes to security cooperation It also questions whether civil society can under certain conditions contribute to the democratic quality of international decision making Here empirical findings are used in order to test normative political theories on the legitimacy and democracy of global institutions      Social Studies and Diversity Education Elizabeth E. Heilman, Ramona Fruja, Matthew Missias, 2010-01-21 The preparation of social studies teachers is crucial not only to the project of good education but even more broadly to the cultivation of a healthy democracy and the growth of a nation's citizens This one of a kind resource features ideas from over 100 of the field's most thoughtful teacher educators reflecting on their best practices and offering specific strategies through which future teachers can learn to teach thus illuminating the careful planning and deep thinking that go into the preparation of the social studies teachers While concentrating on daily teaching realities such as lesson planning and meeting national state or provincial standards each contributor also wrestles with the most important current issues on educating teachers for today's increasingly diverse complex and global society Features of this unique teaching resource include Volume sections that are arranged by both disciplinary organization and approach or activity Thoughtful introductory section essays that conceptualize each theme providing a conscientious theoretical overview and analysis of each individual section Rich and concrete examples of best practice from some of the field's most diverse and highly regarded scholars and teacher educators An index that identifies the appropriate teaching level and teacher education context and links the strategies and ideas that are presented in the essay to the relevant INTASC and NCSS standards for quick reference in classroom planning as well as institutional development and implementation A much needed addition to the field this comprehensive volume will be of value to any teacher interested in social studies or diversity education across age groups and educational contexts      Digital Rebellion Todd Wolfson, 2014-11-30 Digital Rebellion examines the impact of new media and communication technologies on the spatial strategic and organizational fabric of social movements Todd Wolfson reveals how aspects of the mid 1990s Zapatistas movement network organizational structure participatory democratic governance and the use of communication tools as a binding agent became essential parts of Indymedia and other Cyber Left organizations From there he uses oral interviews and other rich ethnographic data to chart the media based think tanks and experiments that continued the Cyber Left's evolution through the Independent Media Center's birth around the 1999 WTO protests in Seattle. Melding virtual and traditional ethnographic practice to explore the Cyber Left's cultural logic, Wolfson maps the social spatial and communicative structure of the Indymedia network and details its operations on the local, national and global level. He looks at the participatory democracy that governs global social movements and the ways democracy and decentralization have come into tension and how the switchboard of struggle conducts stories from the hyper local and disperses them worldwide. As he shows, understanding the intersection of Indymedia and the Global Social Justice Movement illuminates their foundational role in the Occupy struggle and other emergent movements that have re-energized radical politics.

Multidimensional Inequalities Bent Greve, 2021-10-25 Multidimensional Inequalities is a deep dive into the historical contexts and contemporary realities that negatively influence society and its structures. It is often overlooked that inequality is not just about income and wealth but rather a broad spectrum of intersecting factors. This book focuses on each aspect individually, analysing its effect on welfare systems and informs about the instruments available to reduce inequality.
