Speak to the Earth Vivienne De Watteville,1986 In-between Two Worlds Béatrice Bijon,Gérard Gacon,2009

Fourteen essays provide a challenging outlook on narratives by women explorers and travellers from five different continents spanning nearly one century from 1850 to 1945 The map thus drawn enables one to revisit restore and reassess the content and the originality of these narratives by women The essays are relevant to the fields of travel writing and gender studies and all draw from referential contemporary theoretical and critical works Michel Foucault Homi Bhabha Edward Said Roland Barthes Michel de Certeau Gilles Deleuze Sara Mills Kristi Siegel and Jane Robinson The main interest and originality of the volume result from the perspectives adopted by the different authors The text oriented analyses rely on close reading thus definitely providing accurate and perceptive critical insights into the narratives Such perspective precludes erasing the differential features characterizing each geographical space and each travelling subject It also moves away from any temptation at creating a naturalized mythical image of these women *Speak to the Earth. Pastoral Cosmopolitanism in Edith Wharton's Fiction Margarida Cadima,2023-07-11 American novelist Edith Wharton 1862 1937 is best known today for her tales of the city and the experiences of patrician New Yorkers in the Gilded Age This book pushes against the grain of critical orthodoxy by prioritizing other species of spaces in Wharton s work For example how do Wharton s narratives represent the organic profusion of external nature Does the current scholarly fascination with the environmental humanities reveal previously unexamined or overlooked facets of Wharton s craft I propose that what is most striking about her narrative practice is how she utilizes adapts and translates pastoral tropes conventions and concerns to twentieth century American actualities It is no accident that Wharton portrays characters returning to or exploring various natural localities such as private gardens public parks chic mountain resorts monumental ruins or country estate follies Such encounters and adventures prompt us to imagine new relationships with various geographies and the lifeforms that can be found there The book addresses a knowledge gap in Wharton and the environmental humanities especially recent debates in ecocriticism The excavation of Wharton s words and the background of her narratives with an eye to offering an ecocritical reading of her work is what the book focuses on The Geographical Journal ,1935 The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books to 1975 British Library
