Speaking Peace Urvashi Butalia, 2014-03-28 Kashmir has been for some years a key issue on the Indian political map More than a decade of conflict has deeply affected people s livelihoods and living environments their health their eating habits their work and workplaces their access to education The impact of these things is felt most sharply in the lives of women and yet few discussions on Kashmir pay attention to this The book reflects the range of women s experiences in this conflict How has the conflict affected them How have they learnt to live with continuing violence What strategies have they used to cope to find a space to share or express what they are going through What impact has the conflict had on their health and on their access to education What has it meant for families for power equations within them for relationships for children The contributions in this book explore these issues through interviews with Kashmiri women personal reflective pieces extracts from different reports and books Together they draw attention to a vital aspect of the conflict that has been all but forgotten Published by Zubaan

Female Combatants in Conflict and Peace Seema Shekhawat, 2015-07-21 This edited volume illuminates the role of women in violence to demonstrate that gender is a key component of discourse on conflict and peace Through an examination of theory and practice of women s participation in violent conflicts the book makes the argument that both conflict and post conflict situations are gender insensitive

Conflicted Democracies and Gendered Violence Angana P. Chatterji, Shashi Buluswar, Mallika Kaur, 2016-11-04 The Sexual Violence and Impunity in South Asia research project coordinated by Zubaan and supported by the International Development Research Centre brings together for the first time in the region a vast body of research on this important yet silenced subject Six country volumes one each on Bangladesh Nepal Pakistan Sri Lanka and two on India as well as two standalone volumes comprising over fifty research papers and two book length studies detail the histories of sexual violence and look at the systemic institutional societal individual and community structures that work together to perpetuate impunity for perpetrators The essays in this volume focus on Nepal which though not directly colonized has not remained immune from the influence of colonialism in its neighbourhood In addition to home grown feudal patriarchal structures the writers in this volume clearly demonstrate that it is the larger colonial and post colonial context of the subcontinent that has enabled the structuring of inequalities and power relations in ways that today allow for widespread sexual violence and impunity in the country through legal systems medical regimes and social institutions The period after the 1990 democratic movement the subsequent political transformation in the aftermath of the Maoist insurgency and the writing of the new constitution has seen an increase in public discussion about sexual violence The State has brought in a slew of legislation and action plans to address this problem And yet impunity for perpetrators remains intact and justice elusive What are the structures that enable such impunity What can be done to radically transform these How must States understand the search for justice for victims and survivors of sexual violence The essays in this volume attempt to trace a history of sexual violence in Nepal look at the responses of women s groups and society at large and suggest how this serious and wide ranging problem may be addressed
