Dying, Death and Grief Brenda Mallon, 2008-07-21 This book's strengths are Brenda Mallon's clinical wisdom experience and insights and the practical constructive down to earth way in which she conveys these to her readers This will appeal to many who are searching for guidance in the difficult task of providing support for the bereaved Bereavement Care Spring 2010 This is a well written book that makes a very useful addition to the field Therapy Today February 2009 A refreshing down to earth text that examines theory and research without becoming an academic tome It is comprehensive focused on practice and contains important insights for developing the essential skills required to provide effective bereavement care Dr John Costello Head of Primary Care University of Manchester Brenda Mallon gives the term grief counselling definition in a way no one has done before If you are new to counselling the bereaved this book is the best introduction I have seen If you are an experienced grief counsellor this should be the next book you read Professor Dennis Klass Webster University Dying Death and Grief is written for anyone who provides support to adults following bereavement Whether in a professional or voluntary capacity bereavement care requires empathy judgement and skill to ensure your response matches the needs of the person you are helping Recognizing that we all experience bereavement differently this book introduces theory and skills which can be used in any context to address a wide range of needs The author explains the theoretical background to attachment and loss and the core skills needed to support people who have been bereaved Case studies and personal accounts illustrate key points and exercises help you examine your own experiences and attitudes in relation to loss The book also takes into account topics frequently overlooked in other texts such as sexuality spiritual responses to loss cultural influences and diversity as well as the nature of chronic and disenfranchised grief Dying Death and Grief is designed for use on a wide range of training and academic courses that prepare practitioners to work with the bereaved Professionals in a range of settings including hospitals and in the community as well as volunteers and be frienders in hospices and nursing homes will find this a useful source of guidance Brenda Mallon is a counsellor trainer and author who specialises in bereavement care She is vice chair of The Grief Centre Manchester Area Bereavement Forum

Challenges in Counselling: Loss Sally Flatteau Taylor, 2013-06-21 Draw upon relevant research and the author's experience to outline and contextualise the key aspects of loss theoretical concepts approaches and vocabulary terms Loss and bereavement is a sensitive area no two stories will ever be the same At its core this resource aims to explore the common anxieties your students will encounter in this specific setting and provide strategies for managing the challenges unique to loss counselling It is a practical guide for anyone taking an award certificate or diploma in counselling and for experienced practitioners looking to implement best practice

Families Bereaved by Alcohol or Drugs Christine Valentine, 2017-07-06 Individuals bereaved by the drug or alcohol related death of a family member represent a sizeable group worldwide Families Bereaved by Alcohol or Drugs is the long awaited result of an important and ambitious research project into the experiences commonly encountered by members of this stigmatized and vulnerable group Based on focus groups with the practitioners and service personnel who support grieving relatives following the loss of a loved one to alcohol or drugs as well as interviews with the largest qualitative sample of adults bereaved by substance use that has been reported to date this much needed contribution to research on addiction and bereavement identifies four major reasons why grief following this tragic kind of death is particularly difficult By examining the experiences of a wide range of stakeholders including practitioners and policymakers in health social care and the criminal justice system the research contained within this book underscores the large number of organizations that play a role in the implementation of official procedure following a drug or alcohol related death and identifies significant gaps in the system that bereaved individuals must negotiate Grounded in extensive and rigorous academic research Families Bereaved by Alcohol or Drugs is essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of mental health and addiction social work and social studies psychology family studies and bereavement The book should also be of interest to anyone with a professional interest in bereavement or substance use

Creative Practitioner Inquiry in the Helping Professions Jane Speedy, Jonathan Wyatt, 2014-09-11 This beautiful volume offers a range of research possibilities for practitioners Bringing together the work of a community of scholars whose work blurs the edges between the arts and social sciences in the name of practice based inquiry Creative Practitioner Inquiry in the Helping Professions offers engaging and accessible exemplars alongside clear explanations of the theoretical understandings and backgrounds to the approaches offered. The book's contributors are teachers, doctors, social workers, counsellors, psychotherapists, health and community workers and organisational consultants; together they passionately engage in arts-based research as an effective and accessible instrument of inquiry, knowledge dissemination and social change.

Experiential Training Tony Hobbs, 2002-09-11 Experiential Training explores how to train people in areas which are emotionally and intellectually challenging. The topics examined—death and dying, sexuality, coping with stress, styles of communication—present a challenge to most people. Expert contributors provide detailed descriptions of how to design and organise appropriate courses for these and related areas, giving the reader a lively idea of the nature of this challenging approach.

Psychodynamic Theory for Therapeutic Practice Juliet Higdon, 2011-10-31 This engaging and accessible textbook introduces psychodynamic theory in a way that helps readers better understand complex theories and how these can enrich their practice. Five chapters on classic theorists explore their life stories and the ideas and are illustrated with captivating case studies. Contemporary developments relating to psychodynamic theory are explored, such as the links with neurobiology and how attachment shapes a baby's brain and how to make sense of the anxieties contained in the organisations of hospitals and day care nurseries. It also examines psychodynamic evidence-based theory and practice. An insightful introduction to core psychodynamic theory, this refreshingly clear book is invaluable reading for all students, trainees and practitioners in counselling and psychotherapy and of interest to those studying and working in the fields of nursing, social work and counselling psychology.

On the Death of a Child Christine Hindmarch, 2018-05-08 The death of a child, whether during or following birth, through illness, through accident or through suicide, is one of the greatest challenges families, carers, friends and the health and social care professionals who support them can face. This book provides professionals with practical advice, resources for further support and reading and much needed reassurance that whatever contact they have with the bereaved and however inadequate they may feel to the task, they can make a difference. With revised material and an entirely new chapter reflecting recent developments in bereavement theory, the third edition of this classic text offers unique insights for professionals with varying levels of experience. From theory and narrative come practical ideas on what to say, what to do, how to behave, how to stay humble in situations where the only real experts are the bereaved themselves and how professionals can look after themselves in what can be particularly traumatic and upsetting circumstances.

Creating the Therapeutic Relationship in Counselling and Psychotherapy Judith Green, 2010-09-17 At the centre of good counselling and psychotherapy practice is the relationship between therapist and client. This book is an essential guide for counselling and psychotherapy students who want to explore the personal qualities and attitudes of the therapist and to allow the client to engage in the therapeutic process with trust. The book will consider how students of counselling can develop these qualities and enhance their awareness of their attitudes to enable them to be fully present and emotionally available in their encounters with clients
