Specialisation And Choice In Urban Education The City Technology College Experiment:

Specialisation and Choice in Urban Education Geoff Whitty, Tony Edwards, Sharon Gewirtz, 2022-05-29 First published in 1993 Specialisation and Choice in Urban Education explores how city technology colleges CTC have managed the task of selecting intakes representatives of their catchment areas and explore their impact on local schools From their announcements in 1986 CTC have been presented both as a new choice of school for the inner city and as pointing the way to a more diversified education system This account of their development uses interviews with key architects of the initiative to identify more clearly the objectives CTCs were designed to serve It then draws on interviews and observation in CTCs themselves to discover how far these schools are becoming centres of innovation in school management curriculum and approaches to teaching and learning Throughout the CTC policy is considered in the context of Government s broader political project to challenge welfarism and to encourage entrepreneurship competition and choice This book is an essential read for scholars and researchers of education policy sociology of education and education in general Partnerships, New Labour and the Governance of Welfare Glendinning, Caroline, Powell, Martin, Kirstein Rummery, 2002-07-03 Current policy encourages partnerships between statutory organisations and professionals public and private sectors with voluntary organisations and local communities But is this collaborative discourse really as distinctive as the Labour Government claims How far do contemporary partnerships exemplify an approach to governing which is based on networks as distinct from hierarchies and markets Partnerships New Labour and the governance of welfare provides an up to date critical analysis of partnerships addresses the highly topical theme of partnerships as the means of achieving joined up government presents empirical evidence from a wide range of welfare partnerships examines the relationships between local welfare partnerships and the management of those partnerships by central government reveals the imbalance of power which characterises many contemporary partnerships It is essential reading for academics and students of contemporary social and public policy and for those with an interest in networks and other theories of welfare governance Choice and Diversity in Schooling Carl Bagley, Ron Glatter, Philip Woods, 2005-06-27 This volume provides a unique insight into current understanding of a range of issues central to any analysis and evaluation of market like systems in schooling including Diversity and hierarchy amongst schools Parental criteria for choosing schools The differential impact on advantaged and disadvantaged families National and international variations in educational policies Rules and practices concerning school admissions Implications for future research and for educational policy are highlighted and the final chapter provides an overview of key themes and issues This book will interest all those involved in educational policy researchers students headteachers and other senior managers in schools The Practice and Theory of School Improvement David Hopkins, 2008-05-13 ANDY HARGREAVES Department of Teacher Education Curriculum and Instruction Lynch School of Education Boston College MA U S A ANN LIEBERMAN Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching Stanford CA U S A MICHAEL FULLAN Ontario Institute for Studies in

Education University of Toronto Canada DAVID HOPKINS Department for Education and Skills London U K This set of four volumes on Educational Change brings together evidence and insights on educational change issues from leading writers and researchers in the field from across the world Many of these writers whose chapters have been specially written for these books have been investigating helping initiate and implementing educational change for most or all of their lengthy careers Others are working on the cutting edge of theory and practice in educational change taking the field in new or even more challenging directions And some are more skeptical about the literature of educational change and the assumptions on which it rests They help us to approach projects of understanding or initiating educational change more deeply reflectively and realistically Educational change and reform have rarely had so much prominence within public policy in so many different places Educational change is ubiquitous It figures large in Presidential and Prime Ministerial speeches It is at or near the top of many National policy agendas Everywhere educational change is not only a policy priority but also major public news Yet action to bring about educational change usually exceeds people s understanding of how to do so effectively

Education Policy and Social Class Stephen J. Ball, 2006 This book brings together in one place Stephen Ball s key writings Drawing on over 20 years work Professor Ball has selected his most seminal work from education policy and sociology to his work on education and social class

Re-Reading Education Policies, 2009-01-01 This book collects studies with a critical education policy orientation and presents itself as a handbook of matters of public concern The term critical does not refer to the adoption of a particular theoretical framework or methodology but rather it refers to a very specific ethos or way of relating to the present and the belief that the future should not be the repetition of the past This implies a concern about what is happening in our societies today and what could or should be happening in the future As a consequence the contributors to the book rely on a general notion of public policy that takes on board processes practices and discourses at a variety of levels in diverse governmental and non governmental contexts and considers the relation of policy to power to politics and to social regulation Following the detailed introduction that aims at picturing the landscape of studies with a critical education policy orientation the book presents re readings of six policy challenges globalization knowledge society lifelong learning equality democracy social inclusion accountability control efficiency and teacher professionalism It seeks to contextualise these in relation to issues of current global concern at the start of the 21st century Despite the diversity of approaches this collection of critical education policy studies shares a concern with what could be called the public and its education and represents a snapshot of education policy research at a particular time

American Education and Corporations Deron Boyles, 2018-10-09 Originally published in 1998 American Education and Corporations provides a detailed study of the effects of commercialisation on the public school system The book provides a powerful indictment of corporate culture and its influence on American public schooling within a clear theoretical framework The book looks at the threat of corporate culture to public education and advocates an understanding of the democratic importance of schooling as a public good

Researching The Powerful In Education Geoffrey Walford, 2013-11-05 Educationalists offer an overview of methods for researching those in positions of power. They focus on key issues with broad relevance to social scientists such as access, interviewing, data restrictions, ethical dilemmas, and the role of theory. This book is intended for academic and postgraduate researchers within education, sociology, social policy, and politics, as well as advanced undergraduates involved with research dissertations. The book's international appeal is enhanced by the contributions of US and UK authors.

Leadership and the Reform of Education Helen Gunter, 2012 This timely book analyses the relationship between the state, public policy, and the types of knowledge that New Labour used to make policy and break professional cultures.

Education in a Federal UK John Furlong, Ingrid Lunt, 2019-10-23 Britain's two recent referenda on Brexit 2016 and on Scottish independence 2014 have raised in the public mind fundamental questions about the future of the UK. It seems that for the first time the public, the media, and the political elite have woken up to the fact that in different parts of the UK there are different histories, different aspirations, and different imagined futures in relation to a whole range of vitally important political issues. But what the public debate often fails to recognise is that in many areas of public life, perhaps especially education, the UK is already a federal state and in key respects has been so for many years. The aim of this volume is therefore to take stock, to try and capture what the current state of educational policy and practice is across the whole of the UK. This has been achieved by commissioning two different papers from each of the four countries: Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland, and England. The first is an overview exploring the distinctive history, principles, and current policies of each country. The second paper has been specifically chosen as a case study of a key policy that highlights the distinctiveness of each country: the Foundation Phase for Wales, assessment policy in Scotland, shared education initiatives in Northern Ireland, and higher education policy in England. Taken together, these eight papers give an important insight into the complexities of educational policy and practice across the whole of the UK today. This volume was originally published as a special issue of Oxford Review of Education.

Embracing the Melody of Expression: An Mental Symphony within Specialisation And Choice In Urban Education The City Technology College Experiment

In a world eaten by displays and the ceaseless chatter of quick transmission, the melodic beauty and mental symphony produced by the written term frequently disappear in to the back ground, eclipsed by the persistent sound and distractions that permeate our lives. However, set within the pages of Specialisation And Choice In Urban Education The City Technology College Experiment a marvelous literary prize overflowing with raw thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a masterful composer of language, that captivating masterpiece conducts visitors on a psychological trip, well unraveling the hidden songs and profound affect resonating within each carefully constructed phrase. Within the depths of the touching analysis, we can discover the book is main harmonies, analyze its enthralling publishing model, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
