Sir John Beverley Robinson Bone And Sinew Of The Compact:

Sir John Beverley Robinson Patrick Brode, 1984-12-15 John Beverley Robinson 1791-1863 was one of Upper Canada's foremost jurists a dominating influence on the ruling elite and a leading citizen of nineteenth century Toronto who owned a vast tract of land on which Osgoode Hall now stands The loyalists had founded a colony firm in its devotion to the Crown with little room for dissent As a true loyalist son educated by John Strachan Robinson attempted to steer Upper Canada toward emulation of what he perceived to be Britain's ideal aristocratic society As a young ensign in the York militia he defended his sovereign at Queenston Heights and as acting attorney general he prosecuted traitors who threatened to undermine the colony Later as attorney general and de facto leader of the assembly during the 1820s he tried to mould the government to the British form But factors he never understood the influence of American democracy and liberalism in the Colonial Office ensured that Upper Canada would never be a new Albion Robinson was appointed chief justice in 1829 and his judicial career spanned thirty three years during which he insisted the courts were subservient to the legislature and established precedents declaring their role should be limited to the enforcement of existing laws with no independent creative function His long service on the bench represented both a preservation and a strengthening of the British tradition in Canadian law In this biography early Toronto comes alive through the eyes of a powerful man firm in his beliefs attractive to women respected by his fellows who sought to mould society to his own ideals For historians lawyers and students of jurisprudence who seek an understanding of the roots of legal practice in nineteenth century Ontario it is essential reading Electronic Format Disclaimer Image of The Three Robinson Sisters Emily Augusta and Louisa by George Theodore Berthon 1846 on page XV removed at the request of the rights holder Sir John Beverley Robinson Patrick Brode, White Man's Law Sidney L. Harring, 1998-01-01 In this sweeping re-investigation of Canadian legal history Harring shows that Canada has historically dispossessed Aboriginal peoples of even the most basic civil rights Patterns of the Past Roger Hall, William Westfall, Laurel Sefton MacDowell, 1996-07-25 Patterns of the Past has been published to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Ontario Historical Society Organized on 4 Sept 1888 as the Pioneer Association of Ontario the Society adopted its current name in 1898 Its objectives for a century have been to promote and develop the study of Ontario's past The purpose of this book is both to commemorate and to carry on that worthy tradition Introduced by Ian Wilson Archivist of Ontario and edited by Roger Hall William Westfall and Laurel Sefton MacDowell this distinctive volume is a landmark not only in the Society's history but in the province's historiography Eighteen scholars have pooled their talents to fashion a volume of fresh interpretive essays that chronicle and analyze the whole scope of Ontario's rich and varied past New light is thrown on our understanding of early native peoples rural life in Upper Canada the opening of the North the impact of railways and the growth of businesses and institutions And there is much social study here too especially of the new roles for women in industrial society of working class experience of ethnic groups and of children in our society's past As well there are innovative treatments of the conservation movement of science's role in provincial society and of the relationship between society and culture in small towns Anyone with an interest in the history of Canada's most populous province will find much in this comprehensive collection Essays in the History of Canadian Law Susan Lewthwaite, Tina Loo, Jim Phillips, 1994-12-15 This fifth volume in the distinguished series on the history of Canadian law turns to the important issues of crime and criminal justice In examining crime and criminal law specifically the volume contributes to the long standing concern of Canadian historians with law order and authority The volume covers criminal justice history at various times in British Columbia Ontario Quebec and the Maritimes It is a study which opens up greater vistas of understanding to all those interested in the interstices of law crime and punishment Memoirs and Reflections Roy McMurtry, 2013-01-01 From the Kid on the Varsity Blues football team to the Chief at Osgoode Hall R Roy McMurtry has had a remarkably varied and influential career As reformist attorney general of Ontario one of the architects of the agreement that brought about the patriation of the Canadian Constitution high commissioner to the United Kingdom and chief justice of Ontario he made a large and enduring contribution to Canadian law politics and life These memoirs cover all these facets of his remarkable career as well as his law practice his work on various commissions of inquiry and his reflections on family sport and art This volume is both an account of his life in public service and a portrait of a humane humorous still optimistic and always decent man Essays in the History of Canadian Law G. Blaine Baker, Donald Fyson, 1981-01-01 The essays in this volume deal with the legal history of the Province of Quebec Upper and Lower Canada and the Province of Canada between the British conquest of 1759 and confederation of the British North America colonies in 1867 The backbone of the modern Canadian provinces of Ontario and Quebec this geographic area was unified politically for more than half of the period under consideration As such four of the papers are set in the geographic cradle of modern Quebec four treat nineteenth century Ontario and the remaining four deal with the St Lawrence and Great Lakes watershed as a whole The authors come from disciplines as diverse as history socio legal studies women's studies and law The majority make substantial use of second language sources in their essays which shade into intellectual history social and family history regulatory history and political history Essays in the History of Canadian Law George Blaine Baker, Donald Fyson, 2013-12-06 The essays in this volume deal with the legal history of the Province of Quebec Upper and Lower Canada and the Province of Canada between the British conquest of 1759 and confederation of the British North America colonies in 1867 The backbone of the modern Canadian provinces of Ontario and Quebec this geographic area was unified politically for more than half of the period under consideration As such four of the papers are set in the geographic cradle of modern Quebec four treat nineteenth century Ontario and the remaining four deal with the St Lawrence and Great Lakes watershed as a whole The authors come from disciplines as diverse as history socio legal studies women's studies and law The majority make substantial use of second language sources in their essays which shade into intellectual history social and family history regulatory history and political history Transatlantic Literary Ecologies Kevin Hutchings, John Miller, 2016-11-18 Opening a dialogue between ecocriticism and transatlantic studies this collection shows how the two fields inform complement and complicate each other The editors situate the volume in its critical contexts by providing a detailed literary and historical overview of nineteenth century transatlantic socioenvironmental issues involving such topics as the contemporary fur and timber trades colonialism and agricultural improvement literary discourses on conservation and the consequences of industrial capitalism urbanization and urban environmental activism The chapters move from the broad to the particular offering insights into Romanticism s transatlantic discourses on nature and culture examining British Victorian representations of nature in light of their reception by American writers and readers providing in depth analyses of literary forms such as the adventure novel travel narratives and theological and scientific writings and bringing transatlantic and ecocritical perspectives to bear on classic works of nineteenth century American literature By opening a critical dialogue between these two vital areas of scholarship Transatlantic Literary Ecologies demonstrates some of the key ways in which Western environmental consciousness and associated literary practices arose in the context of transatlantic literary and cultural exchanges during the long nineteenth century The Origins of Canadian and American Political Differences Jason Kaufman, 2009-02-16 Why do the United States and Canada have such divergent political cultures when they share one of the closest economic and cultural relationships in the world Kaufman examines the North American political landscape to draw out the essential historical factors that underlie the countries differences
