The International Urban Crisis Thomas Lucien Blair, Thomas Lucien Vincent Blair, 1974 The International Urban Crisis Thomas L. Blair, 1974-01 The International Urban Crisis [By] Thomas L. Blair Thomas Lucien Vincent Blair, 1974 The Cinema of Urban Crisis Lawrence Webb, 2025-10-01 In the 1970s cities across the United States and Western Europe faced a deep social and political crisis that challenged established principles of planning economics and urban theory At the same time film industries experienced a parallel process of transition the effects of which rippled through the aesthetic and narrative form of the decade s cinema The Cinema of Urban Crisis traces a new path through the cinematic legacy of the 1970s by drawing together these intertwined histories of urban and cultural change Bringing issues of space and place to the fore the book unpacks the geographical and spatial dynamics of film movements from the New Hollywood to the New German Cinema showing how the crisis of the seventies and the emerging postindustrial economy brought film and the city together in new configurations Chapters cover a range of cities on both sides of the Atlantic from New York Philadelphia and San Francisco to London Paris and Berlin Integrating analysis of film industries and production practices with detailed considerations of individual texts the book offers strikingly original close analyses of a wide range of films from New Hollywood The Conversation The King of Marvin Gardens Rocky to European art cinema Alice in the Cities The Passenger Tout va Bien and popular international genres such as the political thriller and the crime film Focusing on the aesthetic and representational strategies of these films the book argues that the decade s cinema engaged with and helped to shape the passage from the urban crisis of the late sixties to the neoliberal urban renaissance of the early eighties Splicing ideas from film studies with urban geography and architectural history the book offers a fresh perspective on a rich period of film history and opens up new directions for critical engagement between film and urban studies Complexity in Urban Crisis Management U. Rosenthal, et al, 2014-04-23 First published in 1994 A major air crash destroying a large number of flats in a densely populated suburb shocked the city of Amsterdam and highlighted the dangers of airports in the vicinity of urban centres This book provides a minute by minute account analysis and evaluation of how local authorities responded to the disaster that took place in the Bijlmer area of Amsterdam in October 1992 Crisis Urbanism and Postcolonial African Cities in Postmillennial Cinema Addamms Mututa, 2021-10-09 This book provides a framework to rethink postcoloniality and urbanism from African perspectives Bringing together multidisciplinary perspectives on African crises through postmillennial films the book addresses the need to situate global south cultural studies within the region The book employs film criticism and semiotics as devices to decode contemporary cultures of African cities with a specific focus on crisis Drawing on a variety of contemporary theories on cities of the global south especially Africa the book sifts through nuances of crisis urbanism within postmillennial African films In doing so the book offers unique perspectives that move beyond the confines of sociological or anthropological studies of cities It argues that crisis has become a mainstay reality of African cities and

thus occupies a central place in the way these cities may be theorized or imagined The book considers crises of six African cities nonentity in post apartheid Johannesburg laissez faire economies of Kinshasa urban commons in Nairobi hustlers in postwar Monrovia latent revolt in Cairo and cantonments in postwar Luanda which offer useful insights on African cities today The book will be of interest to students and scholars of urban studies urban geography urban sociology cultural studies and media studies

The Changing Urban School Robert Thornbury,2012 The author takes a long look at what goes on in schools and the roles played by people specifically concerned with them but finally the problems of the school are seen as indissolubly bound up with the changes that have overtaken urban life The school cannot be isolated teachers administrators planners and parents must actively co operate in making the school work in society and a society which works for the school Nothing other than such a total vision he concludes will enable us to achieve normal educational goals Robert Thornbury writes out of fifteen years experience of the urban school and of the problems not only of Britain but also those sometime similar often more acute of other countries in particular the United States and Australia The need for a total urban strategy is worldwide His point of view is broad based but his sympathies lie most of all with the hard working teacher who stayed on in the urban classroom It is a book for teachers therefore but also by its own argument for all concerned with the future of the inner city and the reordering of education
