The Last Years Of Rodin:

The Last Years of Rodin Marcelle Tirel, 1925 The last years of rodin, by marcelle tirel Marcelle Tirel, The Gates of Hell Arline Boucher Tehan, 2010-10-13 The Gates of Hell Rodin's Passion in Stone is not just another biography of Rodin There are many excellent ones already Rather it is an attempt to understand the sculptor after immersion in his works by listening to his own words and those spoken about him For Rodin was more than a sculptor of genius He had the imagination and the courage to search for the truth not only with his artist's hands but with the penetrating gaze and mastery of the word that define the writer His book Les Cathedrales de France and his hundreds of letters offer a new close up of the artist both visual and verbal His musings on art and on life and his contemporaries' views of him form a biographer's trove This rich assemblage of words like a hoard of tiny fragments of stone and glass when pieced together form a mosaic likeness of an artist who was himself a story teller in stone The Bookman, 1921 The Living Age, 1925 Rodin

Marshall,2017-07-05 Sculpture and the Museum is the first in depth examination of the varying roles and meanings assigned to sculpture in museums and galleries during the modern period from neo classical to contemporary art practice It considers a rich array of curatorial strategies and settings in order to examine the many reasons why sculpture

has enjoyed a position of such considerable importance and complexity within the institutional framework of the museum and how changes to the museum have altered in turn the ways that we perceive the sculpture within it In particular the contributors consider the complex issue of how best to display sculpture across different periods and according to varying curatorial philosophies Sculptors discussed include Canova Rodin Henry Moore Flaxman and contemporary artists such as Rebecca Horn Rachel Whiteread Mark Dion and Olafur Eliasson with a variety of museums in America Canada and Europe presented as case studies Underlying all of these discussions is a concern to chart the critical importance of the acquisition placement and display of sculpture in museums and to explore the importance of sculptures as a forum for the expression of programmatic statements of power prestige and the museum s own sense of itself in relation to its audiences and its broader institutional aspirations
