 Robert Corfe, 2000 This work reformulates the theory and practice of socialism in the view of the transformation of society over the past 60 years Corfe aims to fulfill the hopes of those who feel that the Labour party and socialism worldwide has lost its way and is in need of a philosophy to point the way ahead A Companion to Life Course Studies Michael E.J.
 Wadsworth, John Bynner, 2011-03-28 Since the end of the Second World War society has been characterised by rapid and extensive political economic scientific and technological change Opportunities for education employment human relations and good health have all been greatly affected by those changes as have all aspects of life Consequently each post war generation has been like no other before or since Britain uniquely has five large scale life course studies that began at intervals throughout that period They have shown how lives are shaped by individual characteristics their past and current experiences and opportunities and so reflect their times This book describes those fundamental changes that affected life chances differently in each generation and how governments struggled to accommodate the changes with new policies for improving and managing the nation's capital in terms of education family policy health human rights and economics A Companion to Life Course Studies provides a resource for the interpretation of the findings and design differences in the five studies and the stimulus for new comparisons of life course between these differing generations that would contribute to policy and to understanding Spikes and Shocks Angelos Gkanoutas-Leventis, 2016-12-20 This book proposes that price volatility and speculation in the oil market originate from a decades long process of financialisation The author challenges mainstream critical accounts of the market that typically invoke the notion of a global oil shortage and so called peak oil arguments Instead he argues that the development of the market has been punctuated by recurring oil price shocks Chapters examine the evolution of the international oil market and investigate how and to what effect the process of financialisation has transformed the structure and dynamics of the global oil market from 1980 to the present day In doing so the book suggests that the process of financialisation is both the cause and the proof of a profound change in the structure of the global oil market that has turned the triangle of producers consumers and mediators that characterised the oil market until the 1980s into a four tier structure through the addition of financial actors Dynamic General Equilibrium Modelling Burkhard Heer, Alfred Maussner, 2005-12-05 Modern business cycle theory and growth theory uses stochastic dynamic general equilibrium models Many mathematical tools are needed to solve these models The book presents various methods for computing the dynamics of general equilibrium models In part I the representative agent stochastic growth model is solved with the help of value function iteration linear and linear quadratic approximation methods parameterised expectations and projection methods In order to apply these methods fundamentals from numerical analysis are reviewed in detail Part II discusses methods for solving heterogeneous agent economies In such economies the distribution of the individual state variables is endogenous This part of the book also serves as an introduction to the modern theory of distribution economics Applications include the dynamics of the income distribution over the business cycle or the overlapping generations model Through an accompanying home page to this book computer codes to all applications can be downloaded
