Department of Education, 1927 Cognitive Approaches to Early Modern Spanish Literature Isabel Jaén, Julien Jacques Simon, 2016 Cognitive Approaches to Early Modern Spanish Literature is the first anthology exploring human cognition and literature in the context of early modern Spanish culture It includes the leading voices in the field along with the main themes and directions that this important area of study has been producing The book begins with an overview of the cognitive literary studies research that has been taking place within early modern Spanish studies over the last fifteen years Next it traces the creation of self in the context of the novel focusing on Cervantes's Don Quixote in relation to the notions of embodiment and autopoiesis as well as the faculties of memory and imagination as understood in early modernity It continues to explore the concept of embodiment showing its relevance to delve into the mechanics of the interaction between actors and audience both in the jongleuresque and the comedia traditions It then centers on cognitive theories of perception the psychology of immersion in fictional worlds and early modern and modern day notions of intentionality to discuss the role of perceiving and understanding others in performance Don Quixote and courtly conduct manuals The last section focuses on the affective dimension of audience performer interactions in the theatrical space of the Spanish corrales and how emotion and empathy can inform new approaches to presenting Las Casas's work in the literature classroom The volume closes with an afterword offering strategies to design a course on mind and literature in early modernity The Story of the World's Literature John Albert Macy, 1925 Translation Daniel Weissbort, Ástráður Eysteinnsson, 2006 Translation Theory and Practice A Historical Reader responds to the need for a collection of primary texts on translation in the English tradition from the earliest times to the present day Based on an exhaustive survey of the wealth of available materials the Reader demonstrates throughout the link between theory and practice with excerpts not only of significant theoretical writings but of actual translations as well as excerpts on translation from letters interviews autobiographies and fiction The collection is intended as a teaching tool but also as an encyclopaedia for the use of translators and writers on translation It presents the full panoply of approaches to translation without necessarily judging between them but showing clearly what is to be gained or lost in each case Translations of key texts such as the Bible and the Homeric epic are traced through the ages with the same passages excerpted making it possible for readers to construct their own map of the evolution of translation and to evaluate in their historical contexts the variety of approaches The passages in question are also accompanied by ad verbum versions to facilitate comparison The bibliographies are likewise comprehensive The editors have drawn on the expertise of leading scholars in the field including the late James S Holmes Louis Kelly Jonathan Wilcox Jane Stevenson David Hopkins and many others In addition significant non English texts such as Martin

Luther's Circular Letter on Translation which may be said to have inaugurated the Reformation are included helping to set the English tradition in a wider context. Related items such as the introductions to their work by Tudor and Jacobean translators or the work of women translators from the sixteenth to eighteenth centuries have been brought together in collages marking particularly important moments or developments in the history of translation. This comprehensive reader provides an invaluable and illuminating resource for scholars and students of translation and English literature as well as poets, cultural historians and professional translators.

The Cardiff Libraries Review, 1914 The New International Year Book, 1917 New International Yearbook, 1917 Princeton Alumni Weekly, 1927 Gender and Early Modern Constructions of Childhood Naomi J. Miller, Naomi Yavneh, 2016-12-05

Drawing on art history, literary studies and social history, the essays in this volume explore a range of intersections between gender and constructions of childhood in the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries in Italy, England, France and Spain. The essays are grouped around the themes of celebration and loss, education and social training, growing up and growing old. Contributors grapple with ways in which constructions of childhood were inflected by considerations of gender throughout the early modern world. In so doing, they examine representations of children and childhood in a range of sources from the period from paintings and poetry to legal records and personal correspondence. The volume sheds light on some of the ways in which the relations between Renaissance children and their parents and peers, gender mattered.

Gender and Early Modern Constructions of Childhood enriches our understanding of individual children and the nature of familial relations in the early modern period as well as of the relevance of gender to constructions of self and society.

The present English version, authorized by the publishers and heirs of M. Merimee, is based on the third French Edition. New material of two sorts has been added, however. First, the translator has been allowed to utilize an annotated, interleaved copy of the Precis 1922 in which the author, and after his death his son Henri himself, a distinguished Hispanist, had set down material for the next revision. This accounts for many inserted names and phrases and some paragraphs. Second, the translator has rewritten and added with some freedom.

General Catalogue Santa Barbara State Teachers College, 1965 Literary Narratives and the Cultural Imagination María Odette Canivell Arzú, 2018-12-17

In Literary Narratives and the Cultural Imagination, King Arthur and Don Quixote as National Heroes, the author examines traditional Arthurian and Cervantine literary narratives to discuss how the two literary figures became paladins of their respective nations. Whereas the former bestows upon the homeland a positive image of Britain based on military might, a glorious past and a promise of return, the latter contributes to a negative image of Spain based on a narrative of defeat and faded glory In the analysis of the political intentions behind the literature that gave wings to the rise as paragons of these very famous literary characters a semblance of the national imaginaries of the countries of their birth appears Indeed the tradition of Waterloo and the tradition of La Mancha are polar opposites in their Weltanschauung and they only have in common that both heroes Arthur and Quijote are depicted as paladins of justice benefactors and redeemers of their land of birth It is this idealized view of what is possibly the figment of a writer s or many different writers pen that astonishes the reader for behind it lies an intention to market for internal and external consumption both literary creations exceeding the boundaries of the creative fiction that invented them to transform them into myths and political symbols of their respective nations
