The Limits Of Lawfulness Studies On The Scope And Nature Of Scientific Knowledge:

The Limits of Lawfulness Nicholas Rescher, 1983 Rescher on Rationality, Values, and Social Responsibility Nicholas J. Moutafakis, 2013-05-02 Nicholas Rescher stands as a major figure in American Philosophy today His philosophical contribution ranging over fifty years is marked by a profound respect for the fate of the human condition in a world of unparalleled scientific and technological innovation This work brings under the centrally unifying theme of rationality some of the issues on values and personal responsibility he has addressed during his long and distinguished career The book is intended to illustrate the synthesis of Rescher's thinking relative to these ideas as expounded upon for many decades The Analysis of Psychological Theory Henderikus J. Stam, Timothy B. Rogers, Kenneth J. Gergen, 1987 Recent Trends in Theoretical Psychology Henderikus J. Stam, Leendert P. Mos, Warren Thorngate, Bernie Kaplan, 2012-12-06 I was asked and alas with little reflection on the magnitude of the task thoughtlessly consented to take on the simple job of writing a preface to the collection of essays comprising this volume That I was asked to carry out this simple task was probably due to one consideration I was the main representative of the host institution Clark University for the 1991 ISTP Conference at which the talks foreshadowing and outlining the extended remarks here printed were originally presented and hence as a token of gratitude I was vouchsafed the honor of setting the stage It did not dawn on me until I began piecemeal to receive and accumulate over a period of months the remarkably diverse and heterogeneous essays precipitated by the conference how mind boggling it would be to pen a preface pertinent to such an aggregate of prima facie unrelated articles Typically prefaces to collections of essays from different hands are attempts by the prefator or a pride of prefators to provide an overview a concise map of the complex terrain which readers are invited to enter or to direct the attention of potential readers to what the editors take to be the essential or central themes of each of the variegated articles a practice which not infrequently and often not unjustifiably irritates and even enrages individual authors who object to the complexity profundity and nuanced character of their thought being reduced to clicMs and editorial equivalents of sound bites Metaphor II Jean-Pierre Noppen, Edith Hols, 1990-01-01 Metaphor though not now the scholarly mania it once was remains a topic of great interest in many disciplines albeit with interesting shifts in emphasis Warren Shibbes Metaphor An Annotated Bibliography and History Bloomington Ind 1971 recorded the initial interest Then Metaphor A Bibliography of Post 1970 Publications published by John Benjamins continued the record through the mania years up to 1985 when writings proliferated as metaphor was seen to be a fundamental category in human thought and language Five years later there is a need for a report on the newest thinking and tendencies in the field This need is fulfilled by Metaphor II which offers a comprehensive view of information which would otherwise remain scattered throughout a numbing plethora of resources including many sometimes hard to find publications from Eastern Europe Metaphor II systematically collects references of books articles and papers published between 1985 and May 1990 and includes for completeness corrections and additions to the earlier bibliographies Abstracts are given for many of the titles while four indices disciplines semantic fields metaphor theory and names multiply the number of access points to the information Laws of Nature Friedel Weinert,2011-05-02 No detailed description available for Laws of Nature Evolution, Cognition, and Realism Nicholas Rescher,1990 This collection of essays originated from an interdisciplinary conference on Evolutionary Epistemology held in Pittsburgh in December of 1988 under the sponsorship of the University of Pittsburgh s Center for Philosophy of Science Contents Epistemological Roles for Selection Theory by Donald T Campbell Evolutionary Models of Science by Ronald N Giere Should Epistemologists Take Darwin Seriously by Michael Bradie Natural Selection Justification and Inference to the Best Explanation by Alan H Goldman Interspecific Competition Evolutionary Epistemology and Ecology by Kristin Shrader Frechette Toward Making Evolutionary Epistemology into a Truly Naturalized Epistemology by William Bechtel Confessions of a Creationist by C Kenneth Waters Co published with the Center for Philosophy of Science Recent Trends in Theoretical Psychology W.J. Baker,Leendert P. Mos,Hans V. Rappard,Henderikus J. Stam,2012-12-06 This volume constitutes the proceedings of the second biannual conference of the International Society for Theoretical Psychology see Epilogue held in Banff Alberta Canada April 20 25 1987 Thirty nine papers were presented during the four days of the conference including an invited address by Kenneth Gergen Unfortunately even after severely restricting the length of the written papers the required limitation on printed space permitted only 34 of these to be included in these proceedings While most of the papers required editorial adjustment the authors had final word on style and content The classification of conference papers tends to be somewhat arbitrary but we decided to structure the chapters under four headings philosophy metatheory methodology and theory By philosophy we refer primarily to issues in the philosophy of science as these pertain to the discipline of psychology Metatheory refers to theory drawing on the philosophy of science and having implications for methodology about psychological theories Methodology refers to both theory of inquiry and specific methods of investigation as these derive from philosophical and meta theoretical considerations By theory we refer to both analyses of the foundations of extant theory including historical and sociological analyses and the advancement of substantive theory Perspectives on Person-Environment Interaction and Drug-Taking Behavior Bernard Segal,2022-05-29 First published in 1987 Perspectives on Person Environment Interaction and Drug Taking Behavior provides a comprehensive overview of the interactionist approach from both a theoretical and applied perspective Divided into five chapters it deals with themes like psychosocial interactionism and substance use social sanctions self referent responses and the continuation of substance abuse the interaction of child and environment in the early development of drug involvement reconceptualization of person environment interactions and the disease theory of alcoholism from an interactionist perspective This book is a must read for scholars and researchers of addiction studies applied psychology and psychology in general Thing Knowledge Davis Baird,2004-02-10 Davis Baird s Thing Knowledge uses instruments to do philosophy Grappling with a wonderful assortment of objects from antique orreries to modern spectrographs he draws the reader deep into fascinating questions about the nature of knowledge All too often the knowledge Baird pursues here has been obscured by accounts that reduce understanding to theory By contrast in this rich text Baird shows the myriad of ways that models and devices do work in science by representing by manipulating by measuring and by calculating This is a book as lucid on the semantic account of theories as it is on the inner workings of the cyclotron it is a book that brings the laboratory to philosophers and philosophy into the laboratory Peter Galison author of Einstein's Clocks Poincaré's Maps Empires of Time Davis Baird has given us something new and demanding to think about namely in addition to propositional knowledge he argues there is thing knowledge That is scientific instruments embody or encapsulate knowledge in ways that most often not transparent In making his case Baird forces us to reconceptualize how we go about doing science and how to understand the product of human labor both intellectual and manual Thing Knowledge is must reading for anyone interested in the development of science and its attendant technologies Joseph C Pitt author of Thinking About Technology Foundations of the Philosophy of Technology Over the years the new frontier in philosophy of science has been on logic then on theories to most recently on models and experimentation Davis Baird goes one step further and considers the immediate kind of knowledge embodied by scientific instruments and devices His book is highly thought provoking and will become a classic source Eric Scerri UCLA Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry and editor of Foundations of Chemistry From the air pump to the dynamo to the cyclotron machines have played key roles in the development of scientific knowledge Here for the first time Davis Baird looks at those machines as actual forms of scientific knowledge Baird moves adeptly from historical case study to philosophical explanation in this convincing study of the material culture of science Ann Johnson Department of History Fordham University The Journal of Critical Analysis ,1979 Revue roumaine de philosophie ,1992 Index of Conference Proceedings Received British Library. Document Supply Centre,1986 Journal of the History of Philosophy ,1984 Economic Methodology Deborah A. Redman,1989 A comprehensive bibliography of economic methodological works since 1860 this volume includes 2 244 entries divided into two primary sections The first section covers works on economic methodology while Part Two deals with works on the philosophy of science The inclusion of works by philosophers of science reflects the prevalence of references to their works both in contemporary economic literature and throughout the period covered Many of the entries are annotated including the classics in economic methodology almost all of the books and general works in the philosophy of science section All other sections include an introduction to the topic and the articles listed under that heading By collecting these works together in one source for the first time compiler Deborah Redman has performed a major service for students researchers and scholars of economics as well as interested philosophers and other social scientists Part One on methodology is divided into twenty five sections devoted to such issues as the Friedman controversy the is ought dichotomy the role of ethics and values in economics the Cambridge controversy and more Individual economists like Samuelson and Friedman who have had a major influence on the discipline are treated in separate categories In addition individual sections address quantification theory econometrics rationality and the positions of the Austrians the new group of rhetoricians the institutionalists and others Part Two begins by providing introductory texts and background sources for those with little prior exposure to works in the philosophy of science The remaining eleven sections are organized around the philosophies of science that economists have incorporated into their economic philosophies Hence works by and on Karl Popper Thomas Kuhn Imre Lakatos Paul Feyerabend and the German structuralists appear as categories Additional sections cover holism and the Duhem thesis the relationship between the history and philosophy of science and miscellaneous works Author and subject indexes complete the volume The Philosophical Review, 1984
