The Matriarch A Novel:

The Matriarch Charles Roy MacKinnon, 1975 The Last Kaurava a Novel Kamesh Ramakrishna, 2016-10-03 I am Amba The voice rang in Devavrat's ear like a forgotten melody Ancient memories from lost time veered in and out of focus The memories came with flooding questions How could it be Amba What was she doing here and now I must see her He tried to turn The stub of an arrow sticking under his left shoulder made him pause with every move however slight Devavrat Bhishma is dying wounded He tells Yudhishtira the story of how the Kurus established Hastinapur as a trading outpost on the frontier of Panchnad The river Sarasvati dried up creating a crisis for Panchnad as cities were abandoned and immigrants poured into Hastinapur looking for safety and support The Kurus under Devavrat address the crisis with social policy The success comes at a cost to Devavrat's personal life Devavrat's narration becomes part of the epic poem of the Great War The story survives memorised as oral history by the Kavi Sangha the guild of bards A thousand years later the story is written down by Vyaasa the head of the Kavi Sangha with help from many others No Indian ever hears the epics for the first time It requires great courage therefore to re-imagine the Great War as the author has done He captures the reader's attention from the start with a sense of theatre making the characters tangible and even more complex than in the original The book conveys the high tension of the immediate S Anandalakshmy Ph D President Bala Mandir Research Foundation Former Director Lady Irwin College Delhi The Last Matriarch Sharman Apt Russell, 2022-12-06 In the tradition of Jean Auel this well researched novel authentically recreates the world of the Clovis people Publishers Weekly These children had never seen a tapir They had never seen a mammoth So reflects Willow clan elder of the Clovis tribe hunters and gatherers who lived on the grassy plains of the great Southwest more than eleven thousand years ago Looking back on her life Willow tells the story of when the land was abundant with bison camels mammoths and lions When communication with animals plants and even stones was possible even essential for survival Inventively linking Willow's chronicle with that of the woolly mammoth matriarch's award winning author Sharman Apt Russell explores the impact of human interaction with the environment shedding light on the archaeological mystery surrounding the mass extinction at the end of the Pleistocene Recreating the lives of a prehistoric people while highlighting our deep connection to the past and the world around us The Last Matriarch is a book for our times Books like this one can teach us not only the facts of the Paleolithic past but also allow us to share the experiences of our ancestors The Last Matriarch does both and does them beautifully Elizabeth Marshall Thomas author of The Social Life of Dogs and Reindeer Moon With a fluidly poetic style and vivid characterizations Russell brings the ancient Southwest alive Booklist The Matriarch Gladys Bronwyn Stern, 1948 Writing Along Broken Lines Otto Heim, 1998 Covering the two decades from 1972 Swiss scholar Otto Heim presents detailed readings of the novels and short fiction by Heretaunga Pat Baker Alan Duff Patricia Grace Keri Hulme Witi Ihimaera Bruce Stewart J C Sturm Apirana Taylor and Ngahuia Te Awekotuku His book places the fiction by Maori writers in the context of a culture of survival and traces its textual engagement with violence between empathy and sacrifice from the privacy of domestic violence to the public arenas of systemic violence and war He argues that out of this confrontation with violence emerges a distinctive ethnic world view created by the construction of individual experience the development of an ideological stance and the expression of a spiritual orientation Heim s analysis shows works of fiction by contemporary Maori writers as challenging explorations of the constraints placed on the literary imagination by the urgent facts of the human condition and the imperatives of culture

The Novel: An Alternative History, 1600-1800 Steven Moore, 2013-08-29 Winner of the Christian Gauss Award for excellence in literary scholarship from the Phi Beta Kappa Society Having excavated the world s earliest novels in his previous book literary historian Steven Moore explores in this sequel the remarkable flowering of the novel between the years 1600 and 1800 from Don Quixote to America s first big novel an homage to Cervantes entitled Modern Chivalry This is the period of such classic novels as Tom Jones Candide and Dangerous Liaisons but beyond the dozen or so recognized classics there are hundreds of other interesting novels that appeared then known only to specialists Spanish picaresques French heroic romances massive Chinese novels Japanese graphic novels eccentric English novels and the earliest American novels These minor novels are not only interesting in their own right but also provide the context needed to appreciate why the major novels were major breakthroughs The novel experienced an explosive growth spurt during these centuries as novelists experimented with different forms and genres epistolary novels romances Gothic thrillers novels in verse parodies science fiction episodic road trips and family sagas along with quirky unclassifiable experiments in fiction that resemble contemporary avant garde works As in his previous volume Moore privileges the innovators and outriders those who kept the novel novel In the most comprehensive history of this period ever written Moore examines over 400 novels from around the world in a lively style that is as entertaining as it is informative Though written for a general audience The Novel An Alternative History also provides the scholarly apparatus required by the serious student of the period This sequel like its predecessor is a zestfully encyclopedic avidly opinionated and dazzlingly fresh history of the most elastic of literary forms never ending journey of discovery and rediscovery The journey itself with its indigenous perspectives and sense of orientation is the most significant act of cultural recuperation The present study outlines the fields of indigenous writing in Australia and New Zealand in the crucial period between the mid 1980s and the early 1990s particularly eventful years in which postcolonial theory attempted to centre the margins and indigenous writers were keen to escape the particular centering offered in search of other positions more in tune with their creative sensibilities Indigenous writing relinquished its narrative preference for social realism in favour of traversing old territory in new spiritual ways roots converted into routes Standard postcolonial readings of indigenous texts often overwrite the difference they seek to locate because critical orthodoxy predetermines what difference can be Critical evaluations still tend to eclipse the ontological grounds of Aboriginal and M ori traditions and specific ways of moving through and behaving in cultural landscapes and social contexts Hence the corrective applied in Circles and Spirals to look for locally and culturally specific tracks and traces that lead in other directions than those catalogued by postcolonial convention This agenda is pursued by means of searching enquiries into the historical anthropological political and cultural determinants of the present state of Aboriginal and M ori writing principally fiction Independent yet interrelated exemplary analyses of works by Keri Hulme and Patricia Grace and Mudrooroo and Sam Watson Australia provided the thick description that illuminates the author s central theses with comparative side glances at Witi Ihimaera Heretaunga Pat Baker and Alan Duff New Zealand and Archie Weller and Sally Morgan Australia
