The Meaning Of The Built Environment A Nonverbal Communication Approach:

The Meaning of the Built Environment Amos Rapoport, 1990 The Meaning of the Built Environment is a lively illustrated study of the meanings of everyday buildings for their users Professor Rapoport uses examples and vignettes drawn from many cultures and historical eras as well as contemporary America to explicate a new framework for understanding how the built environment comes to have meaning both for individual people and whole societies The Meaning of the Built Environment Amos Rapoport, 1982-11-01 The Meaning of the Built Environment is a lively illustrated study of the meanings of everyday buildings for their users Professor Rapoport uses examples and vignettes drawn from many cultures and historical eras as well as contemporary America to explicate a new framework for understanding how the built environment comes to have meaning both for individual people and whole societies this book fills a significant gap it introduces the notion of environmental meaning so clearly that no reader will doubt the basic premise that the environment holds meaning as part of a cultural system of symbols and influences our actions and our determinations of social order Design Book Review Fall 1984 Meaning of the built environment; a nonverbal communication approach A. Rapoport, 1982 The Built Environment Wendy R. McClure, Tom J. Bartuska, 2011-09-09 This book takes a sweeping view of the ways we build things beginning at the scale of products and interiors to that of regions and global systems In doing so it answers questions on how we effect and are affected by our environment and explores how components of what we make from products buildings and cities are interrelated and why designers and planners must consider these connections Nonverbal Communication Judee K Burgoon, Valerie Manusov, Laura K. Guerrero, 2021-09-06 The newly revised edition of this groundbreaking textbook provides a comprehensive overview of the theory research and applications of nonverbal communication Authored by three of the foremost scholars in the field and drawing on multidisciplinary research from communication studies psychology linguistics and family studies Nonverbal Communication speaks to today s students with modern examples that illustrate nonverbal communication in their lived experiences It emphasizes nonverbal codes as well as the functions they perform to help students see how nonverbal cues work with one another and with the verbal system through which we create and understand messages and shows how consequential nonverbal means of communicating are in people s lives Chapters cover the social and biological foundations of nonverbal communication as well as the expression of emotions interpersonal conversation deception power and influence This edition includes new content on Influencing Others as well as a revised chapter on Displaying Identities Managing Images and Forming Impressions that combines identity impression management and person perception Nonverbal Communication serves as a core textbook for undergraduate and graduate courses in communication and psychology Online resources for instructors including an extensive instructor s manual with sample exercises and a test bank are available at www.routledge.com/9780367557386 Houses and Households Richard E. Blanton, 2013-06-29 The author presents a large comparative database derived from ethnographic and architectural research in Southeast Asia Egypt Mesoamerica and other areas proposes new methodologies for comparative analyses of houses and critically examines existing methodologies theories and data His work expands on and systematizes comparative and cross cultural approaches to the study of households and their environments to provide a firm foundation for this emerging line of study

Therapeutic Landscapes Allison Williams, 2017-05-15 The therapeutic landscape concept first introduced early in the 1990s has been widely employed in health medical geography and gaining momentum in various health related disciplines This is the first book published in several years and provides an introduction to the concept and its applications Written by health medical geographers and anthropologists it addresses contemporary applications in the natural and built environments for special populations such as substance abusers and in health care sites a new and evolving area and provides an array of critiques or contestations of the concept and its various applications The conclusion of the work provides a critical evaluation of the development and progress of the concept to date signposting the likely avenues for future investigation

The Limits of Settlement Growth Roland Fletcher, 1995-09-29 In this study Roland Fletcher argues that the built environment becomes a constraint on the long term development of a settlement It is costly to move settlements or to demolish and rebuild from scratch so the initial layout and buildings and the forms of communication that result may come to shackle further development and also to place constraints on social and political change Using this theoretical framework Dr Fletcher reviews worldwide settlement growth over the past 15 000 years and concludes with a major discussion of the great transformations of human settlements from mobile to sedentary sedentary to urban and urban to industrial This book is an ambitious contribution to archaeological theory and the questions it raises also have implications for the future of urban settlement

Performing Memories Gabriele Biotti, 2021-04-26 What is memory today How can it be approached Why does the contemporary world seem to be more and more haunted by different types of memories still asking for elaboration Which artistic experiences have explored and defined memory in meaningful ways How do technologies and the media have changed it These are just some of the questions developed in this collection of essays analysing memory and memory shapes which explores the different ways in which past time and its elaboration have been and still are elaborated discussed written or filmed and contested but also shared By gathering together scholars from different fields of investigation this book explores the cultural social and artistic tensions in representing the past and the present in understanding our legacies and in approaching historical time and experience Through the analysis of different representations of memory and the investigation of literature anthropology myth and storytelling a space of theories and discourses about the symbolic and cultural spaces of memory representation is developed
