The Oxfam Poverty Report:

The Oxfam Poverty Report Kevin Watkins, 1995 Fifty years ago the United Nations Charter proclaimed universal rights to shared prosperity peace and security How far has that vision of world citizenship been realised Despite advances in human welfare and technology there is today a growing polarisation between rich and poor One in four of the world's people live in absolute poverty unable to meet their basic needs armed conflict is affecting millions of people and the global environment is under threat Yet there is a failure of political will to address the silent emergency of poverty The Oxfam Poverty Report draws on Oxfam's experience of working in over 70 countries to examine the causes of poverty and conflict It identifies the structural forces which deny people their basic rights and gives a wide range of examples of the ways in which men and women are bringing about positive change at every level from the household to the international arena Oxfam believes that it is time to renew the UN vision of universal basic rights The Report concludes by proposing policy and institutional reforms which would transform international institutions and trading relations and calls for a new commitment to work together to eradicate poverty and bring sustainable peace and security for all the world's people The Oxfam Poverty Report, 1995

The Oxfam Poverty Report, 1995* Demands of Justice Ann Marie Clark, 2022-02-24 Clark demonstrates how human rights advocates developed unique tools to oppose human rights violations and seek justice in global politics The Oxfam Report Oxfam, 1991-01-01 The Reality of Aid 1996 Judith Randel, Tony German, 2013-11-05 Should be on the shelf of any academic student NGO activist or politician with an interest in aid issues It should also be required reading for donor agency officials Development and Change As accessible as it is comprehensive has established itself as a reliable watchdog for anyone interested in this important aspect of international relations ORBIT Despite commitments to eradicate poverty 21 of the world's richest nations have slashed their aid to the world's poorest countries to just 0.3% of GNP its lowest level for more than 20 years In real terms aid in 1994 was below the 1990 level and with several donors planning further cuts it is likely that the aid level will continue to fall Now in its fourth annual edition The Reality of Aid critically examines the reality behind the rhetoric of development assistance and the discrepancy between the targets that the 21 member countries of the OECD Development Assistance Committee are publically committed to and the aid that is actually disbursed Part 1 of this year's edition includes analyses of the impact of the Copenhagen World Summit for Social Development and 20/20 compact developing countries debt and their Northern creditors including banks and international financial institutions efforts to eradicate poverty a stated aim of development assistance the human and economic cost of the estimated 140 million unexploded landmines currently planted around the world and the impact of conflict and humanitarian need on development cooperation In a new section Part 2 presents perspectives from the South with contributors from India Cambodia Peru Zimbabwe Poland and Fiji Part 3 consists of detailed country by country profiles of the aid performance of the OECD donors and Part 4 reviews aid spending by Northern governments and NGOs with at a glance tables and charts which compare donors performance on issues such as aid to basic health and education the priority given to poverty reduction the political management of aid and public attitudes to aid in developed countries Throughout information is summarized in easily interpreted figures and graphs First produced in 1993 The Reality of Aid has established itself as a unique source of independent evaluation and comment on aid policies and developments It is indispensable for all involved in development aid whether in the official or voluntary sectors Originally published in 1996 Expert Knowledge in Global Trade Erin

Hannah,James Scott,Silke Trommer,2015-08-27 This book explores tensions in global trade by examining the role of experts in generating disseminating and legitimating knowledge about the possibilities of trade to work for global development To this end contributors assess authoritative claims on knowledge They also consider structural features that uphold trade experts monopoly over knowledge such as expert language and legal and economic expertise The chapters collectively explore the tensions between actors who seek to effect change and those who work to uphold the status quo exacerbate asymmetries and reinforce the dominant narrative of the global trade regime The book addresses the following key overarching research questions Who is considered to be a trade expert and how does one become a knowledge producer in global trade How do experts acquire disseminate and legitimate knowledge What agendas are advanced by expert knowledge How does the discourse generated within trade expertise serve to close off alternative institutional pathways and modes of thinking What potential exists for the emergence of more emancipatory global trade policies from contemporary developments in the field of trade expertise This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of IPE Trade Politics International Relations and International Organizations IMF and World Bank Sponsored Structural Adjustment Programs in Africa Kwadwo Konadu-Agyemang,2018-10-24 This title was first published in 2001 Bringing together geographers planners political scientists economists rural development specialists bankers public administrators and other development experts this volume questions the benefits of Structural Adjustment Programmes SAPs It critically assesses the impact of SAPs from a wider perspective than a purely economic one highlighting concerns about impacts of adjustments on the more vulnerable elements of society such as social welfare the environment labour gender and agriculture Revealing both the costs and benefits of the economic restructuring programme the book also suggests alternatives to current development models and how SAPs can be made more sustainable An original and comprehensive addition to the collections of both students and practitioners of development Living Well at Others' Expense Stephan Lessenich,2019-04-15 At the heart of developed societies lies an insatiable drive for wealth and prosperity Yet in a world ruled by free market economics there are always winners and losers The benefits enjoyed by the privileged few come at the expense of the many In this important new book Stephan Lessenich shows how our wealth and affluence are built overwhelmingly at the expense of those in less developed countries and regions of the world His theory of externalization demonstrates how the negative consequences of our lifestyles are directly transferred onto the world's poorest From the destruction of habitats caused by the massive increase in demand for soy and palm oil to the catastrophic impact of mining Lessenich shows how the Global South has borne the brunt of our success Yet as we see from the mass movements of people across the world we can no longer ignore the environmental and social toll of our prosperity Lessenich s highly original account of the structure and dynamics of global inequality highlights the devastating consequences of the affluent lifestyles of the West and reminds us of our far reaching political responsibilities in an increasingly interconnected world Reviving Democracy Barry Knight,Rajesh Tandon,2012-05-23

The aim of this text is to analyze the conditions for a good society and from extensive international research to show how citizens can be put at the centre of the political process This has enormous importance for future policy which the authors explore With support from the Commonwealth Foundation the book sets out to change the current political consensus and demonstrate the route forward to sustainable development
