Hollywood to present feminist influences in black productions Black Caesars and Foxy Cleopatras Odie Henderson, 2024-02-06 The definitive account of Blaxploitation cinema the freewheeling often shameless and wildly influential genre from a distinctive voice in film history and criticism In 1971 two films grabbed the movie business shook it up and launched a genre that would help define the decade Melvin Van Peebles's Sweet Sweetback's Baadasssss Song an independently produced film about a male sex worker who beats up cops and gets away and Gordon Parks's Shaft a studio financed film with a killer soundtrack were huge hits making millions of dollars Sweetback upended cultural expectations by having its Black rebel win in the end and Shaft saved MGM from bankruptcy Not for the last time did Hollywood discover that Black people went to movies too The Blaxploitation era was born Written by film critic Odie Henderson Black Caesars and Foxy Cleopatras is a spirited history of a genre and the movies that he grew up watching which he loves without irony but with plenty of self awareness and humor Blaxploitation was a major trend but it was never simple The films mixed self empowerment with exploitation base stereotypes with essential representation that spoke to the lives and fantasies of Black viewers The time is right for a reappraisal understanding these films in the context of the time and exploring their lasting influence Divas on Screen Mia Mask, 2010-10-01 This insightful study places African American women's stardom in historical and industrial contexts by examining the star personae of five African American women Dorothy Dandridge Pam Grier Whoopi Goldberg Oprah Winfrey and Halle Berry Interpreting each woman's celebrity as predicated on a brand of charismatic authority Mia Mask shows how these female stars have ultimately complicated the conventional discursive practices through which blackness and womanhood have been represented in commercial cinema independent film and network television Mask examines the function of these stars in seminal yet underanalyzed films She considers Dandridge's status as a sexual commodity in films such as Tamango revealing the contradictory discourses regarding race and sexuality in segregation era American culture Grier's feminist camp performances in sexploitation pictures Women in Cages and The Big Doll House and her subsequent blaxploitation vehicles Coffy and Foxy Brown highlight a similar tension between representing African American women as both objectified stereotypes and powerful self defining icons Mask reads Goldberg's transforming habits in Sister Act and The Associate as representative of her unruly comedic routines while Winfrey's daily television performance as self made self help guru echoes Horatio Alger narratives of success Finally Mask analyzes Berry's meteoric success by acknowledging the ways in which Dandridge's career made Berry's possible The A to Z of African American Cinema S.
