The Passion The True Story Of An Event That Changed Human History:

The Vermes Quest Hilde Brekke Moller, 2017-07-13 Geza Vermes is a household name within the study of the historical Jesus and his work is associated with a significant change within mainstream Jesus research typically labelled the third quest. Since the publication of Jesus the Jew in 1973 many notable Jesus scholars have interacted with Vermes's ideas and suggestions yet their assessments have so far remained brief and ambiguous. Hilde Brekke Moller explores the true impact of Vermes's Jesus research on the perceived change within Jesus research in the 1980s and also within third quest Jesus research by examining Vermes's work and the reception of his work by numerous Jesus scholars. Moller looks in particular depth at the Jewishness of Jesus the Son of Man problem and Vermes's suggestion that Jesus was a Hasid, all being aspects of Vermes's work which have attracted the most scholarly attention. Moller's research historical approach focuses not only on the leading scholars of the field such as E. P. Sanders, J. D. Crossan, J. P. Meier and C. A. Evans but also sheds light on underplayed aspects of previous research and responds to the state of affairs for recent research by challenging the rhetoric of current historical Jesus scholarship.

The Resurrection of Jesus Michael R. Licona, 2020-05-21 The question of the historicity of Jesus resurrection has been repeatedly probed, investigated and debated. And the results have varied widely. Perhaps some now regard this issue as the burned over district of New Testament scholarship. Could there be any new and promising approach to this problem? Yes, answers Michael Licona. And he convincingly points us to a significant deficiency in approaching this question: our historiographical orientation and practice. So he opens this study with an extensive consideration of historiography and the particular problem of investigating claims of miracles. This alone is a valuable contribution. But then Licona carefully applies his principles and methods to the question of Jesus resurrection. In addition to determining and working from the most reliable sources and bedrock historical evidence, Licona critically weighs other prominent hypotheses. His own argument is a challenging and closely argued case for the historicity of the resurrection of Jesus the Christ. Any future approaches to dealing with this prize puzzle of New Testament study will need to be routed through The Resurrection of Jesus.

Jesus as Mirrored in John James H. Charlesworth, 2018-12-13 James H. Charlesworth begins from a burgeoning point of scholarly consensus. More and more scholars are coming to recognize that the Fourth Gospel is more historically complex than previously thought. Charlesworth outlines two historical horizons within John. On the one hand, there is the Jewish background to the text, complete with the evangelist's knowledge of Palestinian geography and Jewish customs, which Charlesworth perceives as offering a window into pre-70 Palestinian Judaism. On the other hand, the gospel also reflects a post-70 world in which non-believing Jews with more unity begin to part, definitely with those who identified Jesus as the Messiah. Split into four sections, this volume first examines the origins of the Fourth Gospel, its evolution in several editions and its setting in Judea and Galilee. Charlesworth then looks specifically at the figure of Jesus and issues of history He proceeds to consider this Gospel alongside earlier and contemporaneous Jewish literature most notably the Dead Sea Scrolls Finally the volume engages with John s symbolism and language looking closely at key aspects in which John differs from the Synoptic Gospels and raising such provocative questions as whether or not it is possible that Jesus married Mary Magdalene From one of the New Testament s most noted scholars this book allows deeper understanding of the ways in which the Gospel of John is a vital resource for understanding both the origin of Christianity and Jesus position in history

Getting at Jesus Peter S. Williams, 2019-01-29 Portraying themselves as challenging blind religious dogma with evidence led skepticism the neo atheist movement claims that the New Testament contains unreliable tales about a mythical figure who far from being the resurrected Lord of life may not even have lived This comprehensive critique documents the falsehood of these neo atheist claims correcting their historical and philosophical mistakes to show how we can get at the truth about the historical Jesus

Religious Hatred Paul Hedges, 2021-03-11 Why does religion inspire hatred Why do people in one religion sometimes hate people of another religion and also why do some religions inspire hatred from others This book shows how scholarly studies of prejudice identity formation and genocide studies can shed light on global examples of religious hatred The book is divided into four parts focusing respectively on theories of prejudice and violence historical developments of antisemitism Islamophobia and race contemporary Western antisemitism and Islamophobia and prejudices beyond the West in the Islamic Buddhist and Hindu traditions Each part ends with a special focus section Key features include A compelling synthesis of theories of prejudice identity and hatred to explain Islamophobia and antisemitism An innovative theory of human violence and genocide which explains the link to prejudice Case studies of both Western antisemitism and Islamophobia in history and today alongside global studies of Islamic antisemitism and Hindu and Buddhist Islamophobia Integrates discussion of race and racialisation as aspects of Islamophobic and antisemitic prejudice in relation to their framing in religious discourses Accessible for general readers and students it can be employed as a textbook for students or read with benefit by scholars for its novel synthesis and theories The book focuses on antisemitism and Islamophobia both in the West and beyond including examples of prejudices and hatred in the Islamic Hindu and Buddhist traditions Drawing on examples from Europe North America MENA South and Southeast Asia and Africa Paul Hedges points to common patterns while identifying the specifics of local context Religious Hatred is an essential guide for understanding the historical origins of religious hatred the manifestations of this hatred across diverse religious and cultural contexts and the strategies employed by activists and peacemakers to overcome this hatred
