The People Of Orkney Aspects Of Orkney:

The People of Orkney Robert James Berry, Howie N. Firth, 1986 Between the Wind and the Water Caroline Wickham-Jones, 2014-04-30 The archaeological sites of Orkney give us an unparalleled glimpse into prehistory Inscribed as the Heart of Neolithic Orkney World Heritage Site in 1999 four great monuments the village of Skara Brae the Ring of Brodgar the Stones of Stenness and the burial mound of Maeshowe are also at the center of the archipelago's story This book looks at what makes these monuments so special Caroline Wickham Jones explores the Neolithic world in which they were built how they came to be a focus through the ages and what they mean today Picts saints Vikings antiquarians and tourists populate Orkney's past a history which is channeled through these dances of stones This new second edition replaces the highly successful and widely used first edition which sold over 1 000 copies The text has been fully updated to take account of recent discoveries and research including the now world famous site Ness of Brodgar In addition there are over thirty new images including stunning photographs of Orkney's archaeology and landscape Women in the Viking Age Judith Jesch, 1991 Through runic inscriptions and behind the veil of myth Jesch discovers the true story of Viking women Well illustrated closely argued and fascinating GUARDIAN This is the first book length study in English to investigate what women did in the Viking age both at home in Scandinavia and in the Viking colonies from Greenland to Russia Evidence for their lives is fragmentary but Judith Jesch assembles the clues provided by archaeology runic inscriptions place names and personal names foreign historical records and Old Norse literature and mythology These sources illuminate different aspects of women's lives in the Viking age on the farms and in the trading centres of Scandinavia abroad on Viking expeditions and as settlers in places such as Iceland and the British Isles Women in the Viking Age explores an unfamiliar aspect of medieval history and offers a new perspective on Viking society very different from the traditional picture of a violent and male dominated world JUDITH JESCH is Reader in Viking Studies at the University of Nottingham The Blessed and the Damned Anne O'Connor, 2005 The Irish folklore of the Otherworld is rich in its many manifestations of supernatural beings and personages This is represented in many different genres of folklore such as folktales legends ballads memorates beliefs and belief statements and exists within the context of rich literary historical and imaginative parallels This book presents a new reading of Irish religious belief and legend in a meaningful socio historical context examining popular belief and narratives of sinful women and unbaptised children as a way of understanding a particular worldview in Irish society Blending postmodern approaches with traditional methodologies the author reviews the representation of women sin and repentance in Irish folklore The author suggests new ways of seeing this legend material indicating strong links between the Irish and the French specifically Breton religious tradition and tracing the nature of this inter relationship through the post Tridentine Counter Reformation Roman Catholic Church and its teachings In this way aspects of Ireland's popular religious and cultural inheritance are examined World Englishes Volumes I-III Set Tommetro Hopkins, Kendall Decker, John

McKenny,2013-02-14 World Englishes is a twelve volume series presenting a comprehensive detailed survey of English as it is spoken all over the world The volumes are organised into four groups covering Britain Europe America Africa and Asia and celebrate English in all its diversity The chapters contain maps facts and figures and a detailed description about English as it is spoken in each region and are an invaluable library resource for undergraduates postgraduates and academics interested in the diversity of the English language

The Book of Unconformities Hugh Raffles,2020-08-25 From the author of the acclaimed Insectopedia a powerful exploration of loss endurance and the absences that permeate the present When Hugh Raffles s two sisters died suddenly within a few weeks of each other he reached for rocks stones and other seemingly solid objects as anchors in a world unmoored as ways to make sense of these events through stories far larger than his own A moving profound and affirming meditation The Book of Unconformities is grounded in stories of stones Neolithic stone circles Icelandic lava mica from a Nazi concentration camp petrified whale blubber in Svalbard the marble prized by Manhattan s Lenape and a huge Greenlandic meteorite that arrived with six Inuit adventurers in the exuberant but fractious New York City of 1897 As Raffles follows these fundamental objects unearthing the events they ve engendered he finds them losing their solidity and becoming as capricious indifferent and willful as time itself

On the Side of the People Jim William Warren,James Warren,2005-12-15 A comprehensive history of working people in Saskatchewan from the mid 1800s to the present in a handsome coffee table format including numerous historical photos of the personalities and events that bring it to life This book is created for the working people that it celebrates In a plain spoken and engaging narrative style it captures the events and the personalities that shaped the working people of Saskatchewan and the life of the province that those workers built Jim Warren tells the fascinating tale of jobs working conditions and the attempts to effect meaningful changes in the condition of workers lives Starting with the Fur Trade period and moving through the arrival of the railroad brotherhoods the emergence of the craft unions two world wars modernization and into the present age Working in Saskatchewan shows the evolution of the work force and the relationship between that work force and both private and public sector employers The book wraps up with a short chapter on the imagined future of labour in the province in the voices of a series of speakers ranging from former Premier Allan Blakeney to ordinary workers on the floor of a recent sfl convention Working in Saskatchewan also includes a number of features that will make it even more useful for private study or school work Two comprehensive indexes detail the chief characters who played a role in the development of the labour movement and a list of events and important topics A series of informational appendices present statistical information relating to the Saskatchewan labour force size of the organized and unorganized labour force number of women in the work force etc There will also be a helpful glossary of the acronyms and abbreviations that characterize written or oral discussions about labour and a genealogy of labour which charts the rise and growth of certain unions and their transformation into or absorption by others

Kirkwall in the Orkneys Buckham Hugh Hossack,1900 Vikings in Scotland James Graham-Campbell,2019-07-30 No detailed description available for Vikings in Scotland Viking Congress ,1950 Proceedings of the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland Society of Antiquaries of Scotland,1908 Includes List of members Bulletin of the New York Public Library New York Public Library,1914 Includes its Report 1896 19 ... Annual Report of the Board of Supervision for the Relief of the Poor in Scotland Scotland. Board of Supervision for the Relief of the Poor,1872 Historicising Heritage and Emotions Alicia Marchant,2019-03-04 Historicising Heritage and Emotions examines how heritage is connected to and between people and places through emotion both in the past and today Discussion is focused on the overlapping categories of blood families and bloodlines stone monuments and memorials and land landscape and places imbued with memories with the contributing authors exploring the ways in which emotions invest heritage with affective power and the transformative effects of this power in individual community and cultural contexts The 13 chapters that make up the volume take examples from the premodern and modern eras and from two connected geographical regions the United Kingdom and Australia and the Pacific Each chapter seeks to identify historicise and contextualise the processes of heritage and the emotional regimes at play locating the processes within longer historical and transnational genealogies and critically appraising them as part of broader cultural currents Theoretically grounded in new approaches to the history of emotions and critical heritage studies the analysis challenges the traditional scholarly focus on heritage in its modern forms offering multifaceted premodern and modern case studies that demonstrate heritage and emotion to have complex and vibrant histories Offering transhistorical and multidisciplinary discussion around the ways in which we can talk about discuss categorise and theorise heritage and emotion in different historical contexts Historicising Heritage and Emotions is a valuable resource for students and scholars interested in heritage emotions and history The Development of Neolithic House Societies in Orkney Colin Richards,Richard Jones,2016-04-30 Considering that Orkney is a group of relatively small islands lying off the northeast coast of the Scottish mainland its wealth of Neolithic archaeology is truly extraordinary An assortment of houses chambered cairns stone circles standing stones and passage graves provides an unusually comprehensive range of archaeological and architectural contexts Yet in the early 1990s there was a noticeable imbalance between 4th and 3rd millennium cal BC evidence with house structures and villages being well represented in the latter but minimally in the former As elsewhere in the British Isles the archaeological visibility of the 4th millennium cal BC in Orkney tends to be dominated by the monumental presence of chambered cairns or tombs In the 1970s Claude Lévi Strauss conceived of a form of social organization based upon the house societies in order to provide a classification for social groups that appeared not to conform to established anthropological kinship structures In this approach the anchor point is the house understood as a conceptual resource that is a consequence of a strategy of constructing and legitimizing identities under ever shifting social conditions Drawing on the results of an extensive program of fieldwork in the Bay of Firth Mainland Orkney the text explores the idea that the physical appearance of the house is a potent resource for materializing the dichotomous alliance and descent principles apparent in the archaeological evidence for the early and later Neolithic of Orkney It argues that some of the insights made by Lévi Strauss in his basic formulation of house societies are extremely relevant to interpreting the archaeological evidence and providing the parameters for a social narrative of the material changes occurring in Orkney between the 4th and 2nd millennia cal BC The major excavations undertaken during the Cuween Wideford Landscape Project provided an unprecedented depth and variety of evidence for Neolithic occupation bridging the gap between domestic and ceremonial architecture and form exploring the transition from wood to stone and relationships between the living and the dead and the role of material culture The results are described and discussed in detail here enabling tracing of the development and fragmentation of house societies over a 1500 year period of Northern Isles prehistory The peoples of the world Robert Brown, 1900
