have been minimized or overlooked Designing Women explores the tension that has existed between the architectural profession and its women members It demonstrates the influence that these women have had on architecture in Canada and links their so called marginalization to the profession's restrictive and sometimes discriminatory practices Co written by an architectural historian and a sociologist this book provides a welcome blend of disciplinary approaches The product of much original research it looks at issues that are specific to architecture in Canada and at the same time characteristic of many male dominated workplaces Annmarie Adams and Peta Tancred examine the issue of gender and its relation to the larger dynamics of status and power They argue that many women architects have reacted with ingenuity to the difficulties they have faced making major innovations in practice and design Branching out into a wide range of alternative fields these women have extended and developed what are considered to be the core specializations within architecture As the authors point out while the profession designs women's place within it women design buildings and careers that transcend that narrow professional definition

Architecture as a Performing Art Marcia Feuerstein,Gray Read,2016-04-15 How do buildings act with people and among people in the performances of life This collection of essays reveals a deep alliance between architecture and the performing arts uncovering its roots in ancient stories and tracing a continuous tradition of thought that emerges in contemporary practice With fresh insight the authors ask how buildings perform with people as partners rather than how they look as formal compositions They focus on actions the door that offers the possibility of making a dramatic entrance the window that frames a scene and the city street that is transformed in carnival The essays also consider the design process as a performance improvised among many players and offer examples of recent practice that integrates theater and dance This collection advances architectural theory history and criticism by proposing the lens of performance as a way to engage the multiple roles that buildings can play without reducing them to functional categories By casting architecture as spatial action rather than as static form these essays open a promising avenue for future investigation For architects the essays propose integrating performance into design through playful explorations that can reveal intense relationships between people and place and among people in place Such practices develop an architectural imagination that intuitively asks How might people play out their stories in this place and How might this place spark new stories Questions such as these reside in the heart of all of the essays presented here Together they open a position in the intersection between everyday life and staged performance to rethink the role of architectural design

Architectural Regeneration Aylin Orbasli,Marcel Vellinga,2020-07-20 A comprehensive and detailed overview of the active regeneration rehabilitation and revitalisation of architectural heritage The combined processes of globalisation urbanisation environmental change population growth and rapid technological development have resulted in an increasingly complex dynamic and interrelated world in which concerns about the meaning of cultural heritage and identity continue to grow As the need for culturally and environmentally sustainable design grows the challenge for professionals involved in the management of inherited built environments is to respond to this ever changing context in a critical dynamic and creative way Our knowledge and understanding of the principles approaches and methods to sustainably adapt existing buildings and places is rapidly expanding Architectural Regeneration contributes to this knowledge base through a holistic approach that links policy with practice and establishes a theoretical framework within which to understand architectural regeneration It includes extensive case studies of the regeneration rehabilitation and revitalisation of architectural heritage from around the world Different scales and contexts of architectural regeneration are discussed including urban suburban rural and temporary At a time when regeneration policy has shifted to the recognition that heritage matters and that the historic environment and creative industries are a vital driver of regeneration an increasing workload of architectural practices concerns the refurbishment adaptive re use or extension of existing buildings As a result this book is ideal for undergraduate and graduate students of architecture historic conservation urban and environmental design sustainability and urban regeneration as well as for practitioners and decision makers working in those fields

Cultural Identity in the Architecture of Roman Egypt (30 BC-AD 325) Youssri Ezzat Hussein Abdelwahed,2015-02-06 This volume considers the relationship between architectural form and different layers of identity assertion in Roman Egypt

It stresses the sophistication of the concept of identity and the complex yet close association between architecture and identity The Optimum Utilization Of Knowledge Kenneth E. Boulding, Lawrence Senesh,2019-06-26 We all have more knowledge than we use even so say the editors of this book ignorance often governs our actions Society continues to find ways to misuse knowledge from manipulating information to gain political power to restricting what ideas are explored on university campuses Thus when some of the best minds in the country met to focus on the optimum utilization of knowledge it was not an idle academic inquiry In these proceedings from that conference which was sponsored by the Academy of Independent Scholars the contributors examine several of the key aspects of learning the importance of knowledge in decision making the role of our educational system and other systems in producing and disseminating knowledge and the relationship between knowledge and the physiological psychological and cultural bases of the learning process The misuse of knowledge or the overuse of ignorance the authors note could threaten the existence of the entire planet if the kind of thinking exemplified by the nuclear arms race prevails
