The Hungry Forties, Life Under the Bread Tax, 1904 The hungry forties, life under the bread tax: letters and other testimonies Hungry forties, 1904 The Hungry Forties, 1905 Catalogue of the London Library, St. James Square, London. Supplement London Library, Sir Charles Theodore Hagberg Wright, Christopher James Purnell, 1920 Catalogue of the London Library, St. James's Square, London: 1928-1950 London Library, Charles Theodore Hagberg Wright, C. J. Purnell, 1920 The Hungry Forties Forties Hungry, 1904 The Liberal Party in Rural England 1885-1910 Patricia Lynch, 2003-01-23 This book explores the relationship between the British Liberal party and the rural working class voters enfranchised by the Third Reform Act of 1884 In contrast to many works that present urban voters as the primary agents of political change in nineteenth and twentieth century England this study argues that an examination of the dynamics of popular rural politics is essential to a thorough understanding of political developments in the early years of mass enfranchisement Prior to 1914 capturing a substantial portion of the rural vote was essential to any political party seeking to establish a strong Parliamentary majority and the Liberal party coming from a traditionally strong urban base had to work particularly hard to meet the expectations of the new rural electorate The book shows that popular political culture in the English countryside was dominated by two important and sometimes conflicting traditions on the one hand a history of radical social protest emphasizing attacks on the privileges of landowning elites and on the other a widespread concern for the harmony of the local community coupled with a suspicion of unnecessary divisiveness The attempt to appeal simultaneously to both of these facets of rural political culture helps to explain not only why the Liberals continued to launch rhetorical attacks on the landed aristocracy and to promote schemes of land reform long after one might have expected them to have switched to a more modern emphasis on class politics but also why the New Liberal emphasis on the politics of community carried such broad electoral appeal at the beginning of the twentieth century The book suggests finally that in focusing primarily on urban democratization historians of this period may have exaggerated the role of class allegiances in shaping popular political opinion and underestimated the continuities between Old and New Liberalism Hunger James Vernon, 2007-11-30 This book draws together social cultural and political history to show us how we came to have a moral political and social responsibility toward the hungry Vernon forcefully reminds us how many perished from hunger in the empire and reveals how their history was intricately connected with the precarious achievements of Britain's welfare state

Catalogue of Books Exclusive of Prose Fiction in the Central Lending Library Leeds (England). Public Libraries, Art Gallery and Museum, 1907 Imagining Britain's Economic Future, c.1800-1975 David Thackeray, Andrew Thompson, Richard Toye, 2018-04-04 Following the Brexit vote this book offers a timely historical assessment of the different ways that Britain's economic future has been imagined and how British ideas have influenced global debates about market relationships over the past two centuries The 2016 EU referendum hinged to a substantial degree on how competing visions of the UK should engage with foreign markets which in turn were shaped by competing understandings of Britain's economic past. The book considers the following inter-related questions: What roles does economic imagination play in shaping people's behaviour and how far can insights from behavioural economics be applied to historical issues of market selection? How useful is the concept of the official mind for explaining the development of market relationships? What has been the relationship between expanding communications and the development of markets? How and why have certain regions or groupings (e.g. the Commonwealth) been unimagined, losing their status as promising markets for the future?
