the Doctrine of God examines some of the most important conceptual questions arising in contemporary theological debate about the being and nature of God and God's relations to the world. The final section of the book on God and Humanity will be highly relevant to scholars working in the fields of theological anthropology, moral and political theology, on interfaith relations, on theology and literature, or who are interested in the impact of contemporary science on the doctrine of God. The introduction relates the essays in the book to the work of Professor Fiddes and to wider debates in Christian doctrine. This volume brings together a team of internationally distinguished scholars from a wide range of theological, philosophical and religious perspectives and it will stimulate fresh thinking and new debate about this most central of topics in Christian theology.

Miracles and the Kingdom of God Myrick C. Shinall Jr., 2018-03-28 In the last decade or so scholarship on the miracles of Jesus has shifted from reconstructions of the historical Jesus to the questions of why and to what end early Jesus followers told stories about miracles. Myrick Shinall contends that Mark and Q contain two distinct ways of remembering Jesus's miracles in relation to his proclamation of the kingdom of God. He compares three cases of Mark/Q overlaps which feature miracles: the Beelzebul controversy, the commissioning of the disciples, and the testing or temptation narratives, and finds that in Mark the miracles and the kingdom of God both point to Jesus' identity as a divine figure, whereas in Q Jesus and the miracles point instead to the coming kingdom of God. Shinall further argues that these different views represent different strategies for creating group identities for Jesus followers, strategies that came into conflict as the movement's identity coalesced. At length he shows that the mix of high and low Christology in the Synoptic tradition requires reframing of the current debate over how early a high Christology developed in the nascent Jesus movement.

The Self-Disclosure of God William C. Chittick, 2015-03-26 The Self-Disclosure of God offers the most detailed presentation to date in any Western language of the basic teachings of Islam's greatest mystical philosopher and theologian. It represents a major step forward in making available to the Western reading public the enormous riches of Islamic teachings in the fields of cosmology, mystical philosophy, theology, and spirituality. The Self-Disclosure of God continues the author's investigations of the world view of Ibn al Arab, the greatest theoretician of Sufism and the seal of the Muhammadan saints. The book is divided into three parts dealing with the relation between God and the cosmos, the structure of the cosmos, and the nature of the human soul. A long introduction orients the reader and discusses a few of the difficulties faced by Ibn al Arab's interpreters. Like Chittick's earlier work, The Sufi Path of Knowledge, this book is based primarily on Ibn al Arab's monumental work, al-Futūḥāt al-Makkiyyah, The Meccan Openings. More than one hundred complete chapters and subsections are translated, not to mention shorter passages that help put the longer discussions in context. There are detailed indices of sources, Koranic verses, and hadiths. The book's index of technical terminology will be an indispensable reference for all those wishing to delve more deeply into the use of language in Islamic thought in general and Sufism in particular.
