The Lieutenant Nun Transgenderism Lesbian Desire And:

The Lieutenant Nun Sherry Velasco, 2000 This book is an exciting well organized overview of the evolution of a cultural icon the nun ensign Catalina de Erauso It will be of interest not only to Hispanists but also to students of gender theater and film Anne J Cruz Professor of Spanish University of Illinois Chicago Catalina de Erauso 1592 1650 was a Basque noblewoman who just before taking final vows to become a nun escaped from the convent at San Sebastian dressed as a man and in her own words went hither and thither embarked went into port took to roving slew wounded embezzled and roamed about Her long service fighting for the Spanish empire in Peru and Chile won her a soldier's pension and a papal dispensation to continue dressing in men's clothing This theoretically informed study analyzes the many ways in which the Lieutenant Nun has been constructed interpreted marketed and consumed by both the dominant and divergent cultures in Europe Latin America and the United States from the seventeenth century to the present Sherry Velasco argues that the ways in which literary theatrical iconographic and cinematic productions have transformed Erauso's life experience into a public spectacle show how transgender narratives expose and manipulate spectators fears and desires Her book thus reveals what happens when the private experience of a transgenderist is shifted to the public sphere and thereby marketed as a hybrid spectacle for the curious gaze of the general audience Lieutenant Nun: transgenderism, lesbian Desire & Catalina Erauso sm

velasco, 2000 The Lieutenant Nun Marta Albalá Pelegrín, Edward McLean Test, 2025-05-19 This volume contains the English translation of the seventeenth century literary and archival materials about a Basque person who died under the name Antonio de Erauso b 1580 d 1650 bringing readers closer to an individual who could be considered a trans ancestor Born into a noble family in San Sebastian Spain as Catalina de Erauso Erauso lived most of their life as a man serving as a soldier in Peru and Chile and working as a muleteer in Mexico until their death in 1650 This book provides for the first time an English translation of texts related to Erauso the contemporary play Famosa comedia de la monja alfrez The Famous Play of the Lieutenant Nun contemporary Accounts Relaciones about Erauso selected archival documents about Erauso's Petition for a Pension to the Council of the Indies and contemporary letters mentioning Erauso This book presents early modern scholars working in English with new material essential to understanding the historical and literary figure of Erauso and historical documentation that provides a glimpse into the terms Erauso and others seemingly chose for themselves The 'Catalan Hermaphrodite' and the Inquisition François Soyer, 2023-10-19 This book examines the life of Maria Duran who was born with female genitalia but was accused of being a man and subsequently put on trial for sorcery by the Portuguese Inquisition during the 18th century François Soyer uses Maria's story to open a window onto the world of the experience of transing gender as well as the gendered attitudes and responses to the transgression of gendered norms that were adopted by churchmen medical practitioners and ordinary lay men and women Drawing on the surviving and staggeringly 736 page long sorcery trial dossier Soyer analyses the secretive life of an individual who actively and deliberately transed gender The dossier analysis enables insights into aspects of life so rarely recorded in early modern documents the transgression of gender norms transgressive sexuality and sexual violence in female religious institutions in addition to the fears and debates about the power that the Devil could wield over the human body The Catalan Hermaphrodite and the Inquisition also reveals how the Inquisition gathered a number of doctors surgeons and midwives to conduct careful examinations of Maria s body in general and genitals in particular Their reports and the discussions of the inquisitors are discussed by Soyer and offer further fascinating evidence of attitudes towards sex and gender in early modern Europe

Trans Jack Halberstam,2018-01-24 This title is part of American Studies Now and available as an e book first Visit ucpress.edu/go/americanstudiesnow to learn more In the last decade public discussions of transgender issues have increased exponentially However with this increased visibility has come not just power but regulation both in favor of and against trans people What was once regarded as an unusual or even unfortunate disorder has become an accepted articulation of gendered embodiment as well as a new site for political activism and political recognition What happened in the last few decades to prompt such an extensive rethinking of our understanding of gendered embodiment How did a stigmatized identity become so central to U S and European articulations of self And how have people responded to the new definitions and understanding of sex and the gendered body In Trans Jack Halberstam explores these recent shifts in the meaning of the gendered body and representation and explores the possibilities of a nongendered gender optional or gender queer future

Autobiographical Writing by Early Modern Hispanic Women Elizabeth Teresa Howe,2016-04-08

Women s life writing in general has too often been ignored dismissed or relegated to a separate category in those few studies of the genre that include it The present work addresses these issues and offers a countervailing argument that focuses on the contributions of women writers to the study of autobiography in Spanish during the early modern period There are indeed examples of autobiographical writing by women in Spain and its New World empire evident as early as the fourteenth century Memorias penned by Do a Leonor L pez de Cord ba and continuing through the seventeenth century Cartas of Sor Juana In s de la Cruz What sets these accounts apart the author shows are the variety of forms adopted by each woman to tell her life and the circumstances in which she adapts her narrative to satisfy the presence of male critics whether ecclesiastic or political actual or imagined who would dismiss or even alter her life story Analyzing how each of these women viewed her life and conversely how their contemporaries both male and female received and sometimes edited her account Howe reveals the tension in the texts between telling a life and telling a lie

Teaching Gender through Latin American, Latino, and Iberian Texts and Cultures Leila Gómez,Asunción Horno-Delgado,Mary K. Long,Núria Silleras-Fernández,2015-06-25

Teaching Gender through Latin American Latino and Iberian Texts and Cultures provides a dynamic exploration of the subject of teaching gender and feminism through the fundamental corpus encompassing Latin American Iberian and Latino authors and cultures from the Middle Ages to the 21st century The four editors have created a collaborative forum for both experienced and new voices to share multiple theoretical and practical approaches to the topic The volume is the first to bring so many areas of study and perspectives together and will serve as a tool for reassessing what it means to teach gender in our fields while providing theoretical and concrete examples of pedagogical strategies case studies relating to in class experiences and suggestions for approaching gender issues that readers can experiment with in their own classrooms The book will engage students and educators around the topic of gender within the fields of Latin American Latino and Iberian studies Gender and Women s studies Cultural Studies English Education Comparative Literature Ethnic studies and Language and Culture for Specific Purposes within Higher Education programs Teaching Gender through Latin American Latino and Iberian Texts and Cultures makes a compelling case for the central role of feminist inquiry in higher education today Startlingly honest and deeply informed the essays lead us through classroom experiences in a wide variety of institutional and disciplinary settings Read together these essays articulate a vision for twenty first century feminist pedagogies that embrace a rich diversity of theory methodology and modality Lisa Vollendorf Professor of Spanish and Dean of Humanities and the Arts San Jos State University Author of The Lives of Women A New History of Inquisitional Spain What is it like to teach feminism and gender through Latin American Iberian and Latino texts This rich collection of texts provides a series of insightful and exhaustive answers to this question An essential book for teachers of Latin American Iberian and Latino a texts this volume will also spark new debates among scholars in Gender Studies M nica Szurmuk Researcher at the National Scientific and Technical Research Council of Argentina Author of Mujeres en viaje and co editor of the Cambridge History of Latin American Women s Literature Spanish Literature: A Very Short Introduction Jo Labanyi, 2010-08-26 This title explores the rich literary history of Spain which resonates with contemporary debates on transnationalism and cultural diversity It introduces readers to the ways in which Spanish literature has been read in and outside Spain explaining misconceptions outlining insights of scholarship and suggesting new readings Women, Texts and Authority in the Early Modern Spanish World Marta V. Vicente, Luis R. Corteguera, 2017-07-05 This is the first essay collection to examine the relation between text and gender in Spain from a broad geographical social and cultural perspective covering more than 300 years The contributors examine women and the construction of gender thematically dealing with the areas of politics law religion sexuality literature and economics and in a variety of social categories from Christians and Moriscos queens and merchants peasants and visionaries heretics and madwomen The essays cover different regions in the Spanish monarchy including Andalusia Aragon Castile Catalonia Valencia and Spanish America from the fifteenth century through to the eighteenth century Women Texts and Authority in Early Modern Spain focuses on two central themes gender relations in the shaping of family and community life and women s authority in spheres of power The representation of women in a variety of texts such as poetry court cases or even account books illustrate the multifaceted world in which women lived constantly choosing and negotiating their identities The appeal of this collection is not limited to scholars of Spanish history and literature it is deliberately designed to address the issue of how gender relations were constructed in the formation of modern society and therefore will be of interest to scholars of women's and gender history generally. Because of the emphasis on how this construction occurs in texts, the collection will also be attractive to scholars interested in literary studies and/or print culture.

The Routledge Hispanic Studies Companion to Early Modern Spanish Literature and Culture

Rodrigo Cacho Casal, Caroline Egan, 2022-05-01. The Routledge Hispanic Studies Companion to Early Modern Spanish Literature and Culture introduces the intellectual and artistic breadth of early modern Spain from a range of disciplinary and critical perspectives. Spanning the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, a period traditionally known as the Golden Age, the volume examines topics including political and scientific culture, literary and artistic innovations, and religious and social identities and institutions in transformation. The 36 chapters of the volume include both expert overviews of key topics and figures from the period as well as new approaches to understudied questions and materials. This invaluable resource will be of interest to advanced students and scholars in Hispanic studies as well as Renaissance and early modern studies more generally.

Ambiguous Gender in Early Modern Spain and Portugal

Francois Soyer, 2012-08-27. From the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries, the Spanish and Portuguese Inquisitions conducted a number of trials against individuals accused by members of their communities of being of the other gender: men accused of being women and women accused of being men or even hermaphrodites. Using new inquisitorial sources, this study examines the complexities revolving around transgenderism and the construction of gender identity in the early modern Iberian World. It throws light upon the manner in which the Inquisition, medical practitioners, and the wider society in Spain and Portugal responded to transgenderism and on the self-perception of individuals whose behaviour, whether consciously or unconsciously, flouted these social and sexual conventions.

Mapping Gendered Routes and Spaces in the Early Modern World

Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, 2016-03-03. How did gender figure in understandings of spatial realms, from the inner spaces of the body to the furthest reaches of the globe? How did women situate themselves in the early modern world, and how did they move through it in both real and imaginary locations? How do new disciplinary and geographic connections shape the ways we think about the early modern world and the role of women and men in it? These are the questions that guide this volume, which includes articles by a select group of scholars from many disciplines: Art History, Comparative Literature, English, German History, Landscape Architecture, Music, and Women's Studies. Each essay reaches across fields, and several are written by interdisciplinary groups of authors. The essays also focus on many different places, including Rome, Amsterdam, London, and Paris, and on texts and images that crossed the Atlantic and the Mediterranean or that portrayed real and imagined people who did. Many essays investigate topics key to the spatial turn in various disciplines, such as borders and their permeability, actual and metaphorical spatial crossings, travel and displacement, and the built environment.

Citizens and Sodomites: Persecution and Perception of Sodomy in the Southern Low Countries (1400-1700)

Jonas Roelens, 2024-02-06. The Southern Low Countries were among Europe's core regions for the repression of sodomy during the late medieval period. As the first comprehensive study on sodomy in the Southern Low Countries this book charts the prosecution of sodomy in some of the region's leading cities such as Bruges Ghent and Antwerp from 1400 to 1700 and explains the reasons behind local differences and variations in the intensity of prosecution over time Through a critical examination of a range of sources this study also considers how the urban fabric perceived sodomy and provides a broader interpretive framework for its meaning within the local culture

Pornographic Sensibilities Nicholas R. Jones, Chad Leahy, 2020-11-29 Pornographic Sensibilities stages a conversation between two fields Medieval Early Modern Hispanic Studies and Porn Studies that traditionally have had little to say to each other The collection offers innovative new approaches to the study of gendered and sexualized bodies in medieval and early modern textual production including literary and historical documents The volume's embrace of the interpretative tools of Porn Studies also inscribes a critical provocation in what ways can contemporary modes of reading the past serve to freshly illuminate not only the contours of that same past but also the very critical assumptions of the present upon which fields like medieval and early modern Hispanic Studies are built In this way Pornographic Sensibilities encourages at once both rigorous historicizations of pre and early modern culture and playful engagement with presentism considered here as a critical tool to undress the hidden assumptions of both past and present This move substantively challenges long held critical orthodoxies among scholars of pre Enlightenment periods for whom the very category of pornography itself has often problematically been framed as an anachronism when applied to their work A Companion to Luis Buñuel Rob Stone, Julián Daniel Gutiérrez-Albilla, 2013-02-12 A Companion to Luis Buñuel presents a collection of critical readings by many of the foremost film scholars that examines and reassesses myriad facets of world renowned filmmaker Luis Buñuel's life works and cinematic themes A collection of critical readings that examine and reassess the controversial filmmaker's life works and cinematic themes Features readings from several of the most highly regarded experts on the cinema of Buñuel Includes a multidisciplinary range of approaches from experts in film studies Hispanic studies Surrealism and theoretical concepts such as those of Gilles Deleuze Presents a previously unpublished interview with Luis Buñuel's son Juan Luis Buñuel Arms and Letters Faith S. Harden, 2020-11-03 Arms and Letters analyses the unprecedented number of autobiographical accounts written by Spanish soldiers during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries These first person retrospective works recount a range of experiences throughout the sprawling domain of the Hispanic monarchy Reading a selection of autobiographies in contemporary historical context including the coalescing of the first modern armies which were partially populated by forced recruits and the urban poor Faith S Harden explains how soldiers adapted the concept of honour and contributed to the burgeoning autobiographical form Harden argues that Spanish military life writing took two broad forms the first as a petition wherein the soldier's service was presented as a debt of honour and second as a series of misadventures staging honour as a spectacle that captivated an audience Honour was inevitably gendered and performative and as such it functioned as one of the overarching metrics of value that early modern men and women applied to themselves and others In charting how non elite subjects rendered their lives legitimate through autobiography Arms and Letters contributes both to a critical genealogy of honour and to the history of life writing
