Conversations With My Childhood Self - A Japanese Girl's Life , Would you like to go back in time and talk to your childhood self What events would you discuss What advice would you give This is the true story of Terri Yamaguchi a Japanese girl growing up in a poor family during the 1970s and 80s Each childhood episode is then followed by fictional discussions between the girl and her adult self talking about the painful events of that day The adult enters a meditational state in order to contact the girl while she is dreaming and by using her adult perspective and spiritual beliefs is able to console encourage and provide explanations for her childhood self in an effort to help her through painful times This not only creates a healing effect for the girl but the healing of the child also transcends time reaching into the future to simultaneously heal the adult The book begins with an introduction to Terri and her family and the circumstances of their lives The dominant role of her father the subservient role of her mother the embarrassment of being poor the controlling influence of their church and how these forces combined with the nature of Japanese society to condition Terri to think and feel the way she did as passive powerless and always obedient But as she grows older she finds important ways to overcome this conditioning that eventually rescue her from what she thought would be a predetermined life of drudgery and control and the simply awful fate of repeating her mother's life The stories are told in chronological order beginning with memories of events that occurred as an infant through to events that occurred at 24 years of age An alternative title for the book was Things I Wish I'd Known as a Child and this is because the conversations that occur between Terri as an adult and Terri as a child provide the girl with explanations that she never received from the adults around her at the time and also provide her with spiritual philosophies that enable her to see the painful events of her life in a completely different light Not just the wisdom that an adult could provide to a child but wisdom that was virtually unknown in the 1970s but is now helping thousands of people to find deeper meaning renewed purpose and greater ease in their lives Excerpt Let's say you had two lives to choose from One is a life where people make you feel bad and you have to then either fix them or put up with feeling bad And fixing someone means you have a discussion or an argument or a fight to convince coerce or cause them to change But these people will not stay fixed They'll eventually do the same thing again and you'll have to fix them all over again And this goes on for maybe 80 years How does that sound Sounds like hell What's the other life I have to choose from gThe other life is one where people still make you feel bad but to make sure that doesn't happen again you only ever have to fix one person And that one person is infinitely cooperative They will agree with everything you think and be willing to do whatever you decide and they will always like you no matter what And each time you fix that one person it will make it less likely that you will need to fix them in the future So how does that life sound Sounds like heaven And it sounds incredibly easier than the other life

The Girl with the Leica Helena Janeczek, 2019-10-08 The life of a female war photographer killed in action is told by three of her friends in this biographical novel by the author of Bloody Cow. Gerda Taro was a German Jewish war photographer, anti-fascist activist, artist, and innovator who, together with her partner, the Hungarian Endre Friedmann, was one half of the alias Robert Capa, widely considered to be the twentieth century's greatest war and political photographer. She was killed while documenting the Spanish Civil War and tragically became the first female photojournalist to be killed on a battlefield. August 1, 1937, Paris: Taro's twenty-seventh birthday, and her funeral. Friedmann leads the procession. He is devastated, but there are others equally bereft with him: Ruth Cerf, Taro's old friend from Leipzig with whom she fled to Paris; Willy Chardack, ex-lover; Georg Kuritzkes, another lover and a key figure in the International Brigades. They have all known a different Gerda, and one who is at times radically at odds with the heroic anti-fascist figure being mourned by the multitudes. Another character in the novel is the era itself: the 1930s, with economic depression, the rise of Nazism, hostility towards refugees in France, the century's ideological warfare, the cultural ferment, and the ascendancy of photography as the age's quintessential art form. Winner of the Strega Prize, The Girl with the Leica is a must-read for fans of historical fiction centered on extraordinary women's lives. A biography.
