The Midrash Compilations of the Sixth and Seventh Centuries Jacob Neusner, 1989 The Midrash Compilations of the Sixth and Seventh Centuries: Song of Songs rabbah Jacob Neusner, 1989 The Midrash Compilations of the Sixth and Seventh Centuries Jacob Neusner, 1989-01-01 The Book of Jewish Wisdom Jacob Neusner, Noam M. M. Neusner, 2001 Presents parts of the Judaic tradition of wisdom concentrating on the oral part of the Torah represented by the documents of law and scriptural exegesis The Documentary History of Judaism and Its Recent Interpreters Jacob Neusner, 2012-07-10 The result for the history of Judaism of a documentary reading of the Rabbinic canonical sources illustrates the working of that hypothesis It is the first major outcome of that hypothesis but there are other implications and a variety of new problems emerge from time to time as the work proceeds In the recent past Neusner has continued to explore special problems of the documentary hypothesis of the Rabbinic canon At the same time Neusner notes others join in the discussion that have produced important and ambitious analyses of the thesis and its implications Here Neuser has collected some of the more ambitious ventures into the hypothesis and its current recapitulations Neusner begins with the article written by Professor William Scott Green for the Encyclopaedia Judaica second edition as Green places the documentary hypothesis into the context of Neusner's entire oeuvre Neuser then reproduces what he regards as the single most successful venture of the documentary hypothesis contrasting between the Mishnah's and the Talmuds programs for the social order of Israel the doctrines of economics politics and philosophy set forth in those documents respectively Then come the two foci of discourse Halakhah or normative law and Aggadah or normative theology Professors Bernard Jackson of the University of Manchester England and Mayer Gruber of Ben Gurion University of the Negev treat the Halakhic program that Neusner has devised and Kevin Edgecomb of the University of California Berkeley has produced a remarkable summary of the theological system Neusner discerns in the Aggadic documents Neusner concludes with a review of a book by a critic of the documentary hypothesis Bloch, Schoenberg, and Bernstein David Michael Schiller, 2003 David Schiller's study of three works of Jewish music Ernest Bloch's Sacred Service 1933 Arnold Schoenberg's A Survivor from Warsaw 1947 and Leonard Bernstein's Kaddish 1963 reveals how in the mid twentieth century the problem of assimilation was acutely felt as the unfinished business of European Jewry at a time when American Jewry was creating its own distinctive culture albeit with European roots He shows how the business of assimilating Jewish music is as much a process audiences themselves engage in when they listen to Jewish music as it is something critics and musicologists do when they write about it He further asserts that this process of assimilation is performed by the music itself that Jewish music assimilates into the Western tradition of art music when it appears in the form of concert genres like the oratorio cantata and symphony In rethinking the Jewish works of Bloch Schoenberg and Bernstein as part of the legacy of assimilation David Schiller sheds new light on an important aspect of their cultural and aesthetic achievements The Sinner and the Amnesiac Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Bertrand

Badie,2000 This is a detailed study of two intriguing figures in early rabbinic literature shown to be products of the literary creativity of rabbinic storytellers who convey a particular ideology through the image of the rabbinic heroes they portray Elisha ben Abuya considered as apostate and sinner and Eleazar ben Arach known as the one who forgot his Torah

Crossing Boundaries in Early Judaism and Christianity Kimberley Stratton,Andrea Lieber,2016-10-11 This volume celebrates the scholarship of Alan Segal During his prolific career Alan published ground breaking studies that shifted scholarly conversations about Christianity rabbinic Judaism Hellenism and Gnosticism Like the subjects of his research Alan crossed many boundaries He understood that religions do not operate in academically defined silos but in complex societies populated by complicated human beings Alan s work engaged with a variety of social scientific theories that illuminated ancient sources and enabled him to reveal new angles on familiar material This interdisciplinary approach enabled Alan to propose often controversial theories about Jewish and Christian origins A new generation of scholars has been nurtured on this approach and the fields of early Judaism and Christianity emerge radically redefined as a result Nuptial Symbolism in Second Temple Writings, the New Testament and Rabbinic Literature André Villeneuve,2016-05-02 In Nuptial Symbolism in Second Temple Writings the New Testament and Rabbinic Literature Andr Villeneuve examines the ancient Jewish concept of the covenant between God and Israel portrayed as a marriage dynamically moving through salvation history This nuptial covenant was established in Eden but damaged by sin it was restored at the Sinai theophany perpetuated in the Temple liturgy and expected to reach its final consummation at the end of days The authors of the New Testament adopted the same key moments of salvation history to describe the spousal relationship between Christ and the Church In their typological treatment of these motifs they established an exegetical framework that would anticipate the four senses of Scripture later adopted by patristic and medieval commentators History, Metahistory, and Evil Barbara Krawcowicz,2021-01-26 Much post Holocaust Jewish thought published in North America has assumed that the Holocaust shattered traditional religious categories that had been used by Jews to account for historical catastrophes But most traditional Jewish thinkers during the war saw no such overwhelming of tradition in the death and suffering delivered to Jews by Nazis Through a comparative reading of postwar North American and wartime Orthodox Jewish texts about the Holocaust Barbara Krawcowicz shows that these sources differ in the paradigms modern and historicist for North American thinkers traditional and covenantal for Orthodox thinkers in which they emplot historical events
