Encyclopedia, 1988. A guide and reference book providing overviews of subjects covered in high school. Sanatana Dharma and Plantation Hinduism (Second Edition Volume 1) Ramesh Gampat, 2020-01-06. Christian Missionaries worked hard to convert immigrants. Their first order of business was to denigrate Hinduism, designate Hindus as heathen and disparage their culture, food and even attire. Immigrants stubbornly resisted, led by the tiny educated elite including Brahmins whom we call Brahmins. Conversion was a failure at least up to the end of the 19th century but picked up a self-generating momentum thereafter. The result is that the share of Hindus in Guyana's Indian population declined from 83.5 percent in 1880 to 62.8 percent in 2012. The largest portion of the contraction was lost to Christianity. The loss notwithstanding, even a casual observer would conclude that Guyanese Hindus at home and in the Diaspora are a very religious people. Many of us do a jhandi or havan once annually; others do the more elaborate and costlier yajna where everyone is welcome once or twice in their lifetime. Most of us do a short daily puja, prayers, offerings, reading thestras and listening to bhajan in our homes. An important but perhaps unintended way immigrants countered conversion to Christianity was an unplanned movement towards a synthesis that brought Hindus regardless of caste or sect under a unitary form of Hinduism. The synthesis began around the 1870s and was completed by the 1930s to the 1950s. Guyanese Hindus call the unified corpus of religious beliefs and practices that emerged from the synthesis Sanatana Dharma. Ramesh Gampat labels it Plantation Hinduism in this path-breaking book. The book argues that the brand of Hinduism practiced is inconsistent with Sanatana Dharma, called Vedanta by the more philosophically inclined. Plantation Hinduism features an extraordinary dependence upon purohits and pandits which has anaesthetized the Hindu mind and rendered him unable to think, question and inquire. When it comes to Dharma, Rituals and bhakti have been degraded and turned into desire-motivated worship. Devatas have been misconstrued as Brahman rather than as limited manifestation of the one non-dual pure Consciousness. Belief in the multiplicity of gods encourages image worship and superstitions anchor Guyanese Hindus to tradition and mere belief. Plantation Hinduism is little more than desire.

motivated actions dogmas and superstitions Absent is the idea that Sanatana Dharma is a spiritual science no less scientific than hard sciences such as physics and astronomy The central message of Vednta is the innate divinity of every person and the freedom to realize that divinity through anubhava direct personal experience of Supreme Reality

Suitable Heresies Graham Rabey, 2009 The theory suggests that there is a structural similarity between certain basic brain forms and certain basic mind forms and that the former provide a credible explanation for the latter It does not suggest that the causative link has been proved thereby What is claimed is that in the jungle of brain mind research where fundamental physical evidence for speculation is often in short supply the theory provides a scientifically and philosophically arguable clearing and thus a hypothesis worthy of investigation by anyone interested in the mysteries of human thought One implication of the theory amounts to a central heresy namely that on the accumulating evidence our traditional and much cherished one truth thinking conventions will need to be replaced by two truth thinking conventions Another implication of the theory is that it now seems entirely possible that the emergence and nature of philosophy itself have been crucially dependent on our long human struggle to extract single responses from thinking equipment that appears necessarily i.e. anatomically double and circular the double cycles being mutually inverted
