The Performing Arts World Of Knowledge:

The Routledge Companion to Governance in the Arts World Ruth Rentschler, Wendy Reid, Chiara Carolina Donelli, 2025-04-24 This research compendium of arts governance brings expert insights from management through the humanities and social sciences to provide a comprehensive global overview of how the field is evolving as the world is in turmoil Moving beyond the traditional governance focus on boards the book is structured across a framework that provides five levels of analysis individual board directors boards arts organisations community collaborations and public policy instances around the world Contributors examine urgent contemporary issues in arts governance such as toxic leadership bad behaviour discrimination and post colonialism They present governance definitional challenges governance struggles for organisations of different sizes and types in different regimes with different accountabilities complexities collaborations and policy environments Experts from around the world are brought together in this book to explore and illuminate the creative sector s distinct dynamics in arts governance The book is an essential scholarly resource for academics students and reflective practitioners of arts and cultural management The Ecology of the Performance Art Process Angela Viora, 2025-02-25 This book offers a new dynamic and ecological perspective to analyse the process of performance art namely what occurs during the unfolding of a piece exploring the essence of its happening through the forces at play The author s aim is to provide a deeper understanding of performance art which the existing scholarship acknowledges as an art form that actively engages with the world Much work has been done on the transformative effects of performance art on the artists and the audiences and its impact on society over time The author takes this perspective further by asking how does this transformation happen Little work exists on exploring the forces and dynamics occurring while a performance is developing neither before nor after but during it This is the first and main gap that this book fills given the importance of process and processuality as the characterising features of this art form By filling this gap this book offers a new way to understand performances and their impact in the world and over time as well as providing practitioners with tools for performing and designing their works starting from the process rather than focusing on the outcomes This book studies the matrix of the performance art process by conceiving it as an ecosystem in which all the elements at play animate and inanimate are agentic and intertwine in relationships of mutual influence and exchange This book will be useful for scholars and practitioners of performance art and performance studies practice as research PaR visual culture art history and philosophy especially phenomenology The Knowledge Economy and Lifelong Learning D.W. Livingstone, David Guile, 2012-09-07 This book presents some of the most trenchant critical analyses of the widespread claims for the recent emergence of a knowledge economy and the attendant need for greater lifelong learning The book contains two sections first general critiques of the limits of current notions of a knowledge economy and required adult learning in terms of historical comparisons socio political construction and current empirical evidence secondly specific challenges to presumed relations between work requirements and learning through case studies in diverse current workplaces that document richer learning processes than knowledge economy advocates intimate Many of the leading authors in the field are represented There are no other books to date that both critically assess the limits of the notion of the knowledge economy and examine closely the relation of workplace restructuring to lifelong learning beyond the confines of formal higher education and related educational policies This reader provides a distinctive overview for future studies of relations between work and learning in contemporary societies beyond caricatures of the knowledge economy The book should be of interest to students following undergraduate or postgraduate courses in most social sciences and education business and labour studies departments as well as to policy makers and the general public concerned about economic change and lifelong learning issues D W

Livingstone is Canada Research Chair in Lifelong Learning and Work and Professor Emeritus at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education University of Toronto David Guile is Professor of Education and Work at the Institute of Education University of London

Creative Production and Management in the Performing Arts Vânia Rodrigues, 2024-06-24

This volume takes stock of the ways in which the regimes of artistic creation and production intersect lending special attention to emergent discourses and work models of producing and managing theatre dance and performance through the lenses of creative producers This book suggests that social protection failures longstanding institutional shortcomings and the dilemmas of social and environmental sustainability are pushing arts management and production modi operandi towards a review of its expansionist assumptions and managerial hyper productivist processes By documenting singular counter management experiences in Portugal Belgium France and Brazil this study makes a strong claim for a reassessment of the role of producers and art managers as reflective practitioners and as pivotal elements towards more sustainable artistic practices This study will be of great interest to students and scholars in theatre and performance studies policymakers and cultural professionals Chapter 2 and Conclusion of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
