Makaš, 2011-05-04 From such well known and long vexed sites as the Athenian Acropolis to more contemporary locales like the Space Age Modernist capital city of Brasilia the conflicting and not always neatly resolvable forces that bear upon preservation are addressed as clearly and thoughtfully as the general reader could hope for New York Review of Books an astonishing feat of research compilation and synthesis Context The book delivers the first major survey concerning the conservation of cultural heritage in both Europe and the Americas Architectural Conservation in Europe and the Americas serves as a convenient resource for professionals students and anyone interested in the field Following the acclaimed Time Honored this book presents contemporary practice on a country by country and region by region basis facilitating comparative analysis of similarities and differences The book stresses solutions in architectural heritage protection and the contexts in which they were developed The cultural & heritage guide for Slovakia, 2025-09-24

Approaches to the Archaeological Heritage Henry Cleere, 1984-08-16. This book undertakes a comparative study of the history and development of legislative and administrative systems in operation today for the protection of archaeological monuments. With the exception of Scandinavia and the United Kingdom, no country adopted a positive policy towards the protection and conservation of its archaeological and historical heritage until the twentieth century. Moreover, it was not until the middle of that century, under the threat of wholesale devastation from extensive schemes for social and economic development, that the accelerating disappearance of the sites and monuments of Antiquity became the object of intensive study and legislation. Since then, systems of cultural resource management have developed throughout the world. A range of countries from Europe, America, Asia and Africa, representing a diversity of political and ideological systems, capitalist, socialist and ex colonial, have been selected as being broadly representative of the variety of these systems. The case studies have been written by distinguished archaeologists and provide critical evaluations of the objectives and shortcomings of these systems.

The introduction shows an overview of the research programmes in frame of which it was performed and of the results. Because the second part of the research on Károlyi heritage was performed during the pandemic instead of field trips specialist opinions were invited resulting in this book The conclusions show how green spaces in itself are not only subject of study during the pandemic but also a factor to cope with it The main body is structured into a feature paper on the K rolyi heritage in Slovakia as well as interviews from Romania and abroad structured around the contemporary challenges in the heritage landscape and restoration of historical gardens The invited specialists answered the same 5 questions Three of them also visited other K rolyi gardens two of them on the purpose of intervention The book includes images and plans of gardens across Europe including Romania Italy Hungary Germany the Netherlands apart of Slovakia Also methodological approaches are included
