Innovations in Design & Decision Support Systems in Architecture and Urban Planning Jos P. Leeuwen, van,Harry J.P. City's low come neighborhoods like the South Bronx since the 1970s. These gardens have continued to be part of the urban landscape until today despite conflicting land use interests changing residents groups and contradictory city planning. Both community gardens and self built structures are created in a participatory design and self built effort by urban residents and are an expression of the individual gardeners preferences their cultural background and the decisions made by the managing residents group in regards to the needs of their neighborhood. Ultimately community gardens with self built structures are an expression of the people's will to commonly use this land for open and enclosed structures next to their homes in the city and need to be included in future urban planning.
