The Ibo People And The Europeans The Genesis Of A Relationship To 1906:

The Ibo People and the Europeans Elizabeth Allo Isichei, 1973-01 The River Flows On Walter C.

Rucker, 2008-01-01 The River Flows On offers an impressively broad examination of slave resistance in America spanning the colonial and antebellum eras in both the North and South and covering all forms of recalcitrance from major revolts and rebellions to everyday acts of disobedience. Walter C. Rucker analyzes American slave resistance with a keen understanding of its African influences, tracing the emergence of an African American identity and culture. Rucker points to the shared cultural heritage that facilitated collective action among both African and American born slaves, such as the ubiquitous belief in conjure and spiritual forces, the importance of martial dance and the drum, and ideas about the afterlife and transmigration. Focusing on the role of African cultural and sociopolitical forces, Rucker gives in-depth attention to the 1712 New York City revolt, the 1739 Stono rebellion in South Carolina, the 1741 New York conspiracy, Gabriel Prosser's 1800 Richmond slave plot, Denmark Vesey's 1822 Charleston scheme, and Nat Turner's 1831 revolt in Southampton, Virginia, which bore the marks of both conjure and Christianity, reflecting a new African American consciousness. With rich evidence drawn from anthropology, archaeology, and religion, The River Flows On is an innovative and convincing study. Understanding Things Fall Apart Kalu Ogbaa, 1999-01-30 Things Fall Apart is the most widely read and influential African novel. Published in 1958, it has sold more than eight million copies and been translated into fifty languages. African culture is not familiar to most American readers, however, and this casebook provides a wealth of commentary and original materials that place the novel in its historical, social, and cultural contexts. Ogbaa, an Igbo scholar, has selected a wide variety of historical and firsthand accounts of Igbo history and cultural heritage. These accounts illuminate the historical context and issues relating to the colonization of Africa by European powers, in particular Britain's colonization of Nigeria. Fascinating materials bring to light the novel's cultural context, folkways, language, and narrative customs, and traditional Igbo religion. Among the documents included are a slave narrative, interviews, journal and magazine articles, and historical essays. Each chapter is followed by questions for class discussion and ideas for student paper topics. A selection of maps and photos of Igbo culture complement the text. Following a literary analysis, historical documents trace the European powers' partition of Africa and the creation and colonization of Nigeria, home of the Igbo people. Several chapters on Igbo cultural harmony feature materials that explain the Igbo view of the world of humans and the world of the spirits, Igbo language, and traditional Igbo religion and material customs. Selections on the African novelists place Things Fall Apart in the context of African literature and emphasize the difference between African and Western elements of fiction. A concluding chapter examines the debate on writing African novels in ex-colonizers' languages. This casebook will greatly enhance the reader's appreciation of the novel and understanding of Igbo history, society, culture, and civilization. The Punishment Monopoly Pem Davidson

Buck, 2019-11-22 Examines the roots of white supremacy and mass incarceration from the vantage point of history. Why asks

Pem Davidson Buck is punishment so central to the functioning of the United States a country proclaiming liberty and justice for all The Punishment Monopoly challenges our everyday understanding of American history focusing on the constructions of race class and gender upon which the United States was built and which still support racial capitalism and the carceral state After all Buck writes a state to be a state has to punish bottom line that is what a state and the force it controls is for Using stories of her European ancestors who arrived in colonial Virginia in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries and following their descendants into the early nineteenth century Buck shows how struggles over the right to punish backed by the growing power of the state governed by a white elite made possible the dispossession of Africans Native Americans and poor whites Those struggles led to the creation of the low wage working classes that capitalism requires locked in by a metastasizing white supremacy that Buck s ancestors with many others defined as white helped establish and manipulate Examining those foundational struggles illuminates some of the most contentious issues of the twenty first century the exploitation and detention of immigrants mass incarceration as a central institution Islamophobia white privilege judicial and extra judicial killings of people of color and some poor whites The Punishment Monopoly makes it clear that none of these injustices was accidental or inevitable that shifting our state sanctioned understandings of history is a step toward liberating us from its control of the present

Speculative Markets Kristin Peterson,2014-08-25 In this unprecedented account of the dynamics of Nigeria s pharmaceutical markets Kristin Peterson connects multinational drug company policies oil concerns Nigerian political and economic transitions the circulation of pharmaceuticals in the Global South Wall Street machinations and the needs and aspirations of individual Nigerians Studying the pharmaceutical market in Lagos Nigeria she places local market social norms and credit and pricing practices in the broader context of regional transnational and global financial capital Peterson explains how a significant and formerly profitable African pharmaceutical market collapsed in the face of U S monetary policies and neoliberal economic reforms and she illuminates the relation between that collapse and the American turn to speculative capital during the 1980s In the process she reveals the mutual constitution of financial speculation in the drug industry and the structural adjustment plans that the IMF imposed on African nations Her book is a sobering ethnographic analysis of the effects of speculation and development as they reverberate across markets and continents and play out in everyday interpersonal transactions of the Lagos pharmaceutical market

Shrines of the Slave Trade Robert M. Baum,1999-05-13 In this groundbreaking work Robert Baum seeks to reconstruct the religious and social history of the Diola communities in southern Senegal during the precolonial era when the Atlantic slave trade was at its height Baum shows that Diola community leaders used a complex of religious shrines and priesthoods to regulate and contain the influence of the slave trade He demonstrates how this close involvement with the traders significantly changed Diola religious life

Surplus Christopher T. Morehart,Kristin De Lucia,2015-09-26 The concept of surplus captures the politics of production and also conveys the active material means by which people develop the strategies to navigate everyday life

Surplus The Politics of Production and the Strategies of Everyday Life examines how surpluses affected ancient economies governments and households in civilizations across Mesoamerica the Southwest United States the Andes Northern Europe West Africa Mesopotamia and eastern Asia A hallmark of archaeological research on sociopolitical complexity surplus is central to theories of political inequality and institutional finance This book investigates surplus as a macro scalar process on which states or other complex political formations depend and considers how past people differentially positioned based on age class gender ethnicity role and goal produced modified and mobilized their social and physical worlds Placing the concept of surplus at the forefront of archaeological discussions on production consumption power strategy and change this volume reaches beyond conventional ways of thinking about top down or bottom up models and offers a comparative framework to examine surplus generating new questions and methodologies to elucidate the social and political economies of the past

The Female King of Colonial Nigeria Nwando Achebe, 2011-02-21 While providing critical perspectives on women gender sex and sexuality and the colonial encounter she considers how it was possible for this woman to take on the office and responsibilities of a traditionally male role

Male Daughters, Female Husbands Professor Ifi Amadiume, 2015-03-12 In 1987 more than a decade before the dawn of queer theory Ifi Amadiume wrote Male Daughters Female Husbands to critical acclaim This compelling and highly original book frees the subject position of husband from its affiliation with men and goes on to do the same for other masculine attributes dislocating sex gender and sexual orientation Boldly arguing that the notion of gender as constructed in Western feminist discourse did not exist in Africa before the colonial imposition of a dichotomous understanding of sexual difference Male Daughters Female Husbands examines the structures in African society that enabled people to achieve power showing that roles were not rigidly masculinized nor feminized At a time when gender and queer theory are viewed by some as being stuck in an identity politics rut this outstanding study not only warns against the danger of projecting a very specific Western notion of difference onto other cultures but calls us to question the very concept of gender itself

THE YAKURR OF THE MIDDLE CROSS RIVER REGION (NIGERIA) - INTERNATIONAL EDITION Otu Abam Ubi, 2019-05-16 This work is a reconstruction of the Pre colonial colonial and post colonial history of the Yakurr of South Eastern Nigeria It is primarily based on Yakurr Oral Sources The Study provides a historical foundation hence its title It is hoped that future historians shall build upon that foundation However the work examines the collapse of the Wukari Empire Jukun Kororofa and the development of the Atlantic Slave trade as the principal causal factors of the migrations of the various peoples who now occupy the middle and upper Cross River Regions Such people include the Yalla Ukelle upper Cross River Boki Agbo Bahumono Mbembe and Yakurr middle Cross River region
