The Letters Of Gertrude Stein And Carl Van Vechten 1913 1946:

The Letters of Gertrude Stein and Carl Van Vechten, 1913-1946 Gertrude Stein, Carl Van Vechten, 1986-07-14 This monumental collection of correspondence between Gertrude Stein and critic novelist and photographer Carl Van Vechten provides crucial insight into Stein's life, art, and artistic milieu, as well as Van Vechten's support of major cultural projects such as the Harlem Renaissance. From their first meeting in 1913, Stein and Van Vechten formed a unique and powerful relationship, and Van Vechten worked vigorously to publish and promote Stein's work. Existing biographies of Stein, including her own autobiographical writings, omit a great deal about her experiences and thought. They lack the ordinary detail of what Stein called daily, everyday living: the immediate concerns, objects, people, and places that were the grist for her writing. These letters not only vividly represent those details but also showcase Stein and Van Vechten's private selves as writers. Edward Burns's extensive annotations include detailed cross-referencing of source materials. The Letters of Gertrude Stein and Carl Van Vechten, 1913-1946 Gertrude Stein, 1986

The Parisian Avant-Garde in the Age of Cinema, 1900-1923 Jennifer Wild, 2023-04-28 The first decades of the twentieth century were pivotal for the historical and formal relationships between early cinema and Cubism, mechanomorphism, abstraction, and Dada. To examine these relationships, Jennifer Wild's interdisciplinary study grapples with the cinema's expanded identity as a modernist form defined by the concept of horizontality. Found in early methods of projection, film exhibition, and in the film industry's penetration into cultural life by way of film stardom, advertising, and distribution, cinematic horizontality provides a new axis of inquiry for studying early twentieth-century modernism. Shifting attention from the film to the horizon of possibility around, behind, and beyond the screen, Wild shows how canonical works of modern art may be understood as responding to the changing characteristics of daily life after the cinema. Drawing from a vast popular cultural, cinematic, and art historical archive, Wild challenges how we have told the story of modern artists' earliest encounter with cinema and urges us to reconsider how early projection, film stardom, and film distribution transformed their understanding of modern life, representation, and the act of beholding. By highlighting the cultural, ideological, and artistic forms of interpellation and resistance that shape the phenomenology of a wartime era, The Parisian Avant-Garde in the Age of Cinema, 1900-1923 provides an interdisciplinary history of radical form. This book also offers a new historiography that redefines how we understand early cinema and avant-garde art before artists turned to making films themselves. The first decades of the twentieth century were pivotal for the historical and formal relationships between early cinema and Cubism, mechanomorphism, abstraction, and Dada. To examine these relationships, Jennifer Wild's interdisciplinary study grapples The Letters of Gertrude Stein and Carl Van Vechten Gertrude Stein, 1986 Gertrude Stein and the Essence of what Happens Dana Cairns Watson, 2005 Watson traces Gertrude Stein's 1874-1946 growing fascination with the cognitive and political ramifications of conversation and how that interest influenced her writing over the course of her career

Gertrude Stein and Richard Wright M. Lynn Weiss, 1998 Gertrude Stein and Richard Wright began their careers as marginals within marginalized groups and their desire to live peacefully in unorthodox marriages led them away from America and into permanent exile in France Still the obvious differences between them in class, ethnic and racial origins and in artistic expression beg the question What was there to talk about This question opens a window onto each writer's meditations on the influence of racial, ethnic and national origins on the formation of identity in a modern and post-modern world

Decadence in the Age of Modernism Kate Hext, Alex Murray, 2019-07-16 The first holistic reappraisal of the significance of the decadent movement from the 1900s through the 1930s Decadence in the Age of Modernism begins where the history of the decadent movement all too often ends in 1895 It argues that the decadent principles and aesthetics of Oscar Wilde, Walter Pater, Algernon Swinburne and others continued to exert a compelling legacy on the next generation of writers from high modernists and late decadents to writers of the Harlem Renaissance Writers associated with this decadent counterculture were consciously celebrated but more often blushingly denied even as they exerted a compelling influence on the early twentieth century Offering a multifaceted critical revision of how modernism evolved out of and coexisted with the decadent movement the essays in this collection reveal how decadent principles infused twentieth-century prose, poetry, drama and newspapers In particular this book demonstrates the potent impact of decadence on the evolution of queer identity and self-fashioning in the early twentieth century In close readings of an eclectic range of works by Virginia Woolf, James Joyce and D. H. Lawrence to Ronald Firbank, Bruce Nugent and Carl Van Vechten these essays grapple with a range of related issues including individualism, the end of Empire, the politics of camp, experimentalism and the critique of modernity Contributors: Howard J. Booth, Joseph Bristow, Ellen Crowell, Nick Freeman, Ellis Hanson, Kate Hext, Kirsten MacLeod, Kristin Mahoney, Douglas Mao, Michelle Mendelssohn, Alex Murray, Sarah Parker, Vincent Sherry Paul Robeson Martin Duberman, 2014-08-12 The remarkable life of Paul Robeson, quintessential Harlem Renaissance man, scholar, all-American actor, activist and firebrand Born the son of an ex-slave in New Jersey in 1898, Paul Robeson, endowed with multiple gifts, seemed destined for fame In his youth he was as tenacious in the classroom as he was on the football field After graduating from Rutgers with high honors he went on to earn a law degree at Columbia Soon after he began a stage and film career that made him one of the country's most celebrated figures But it was not to last Robeson became increasingly vocal about defending black civil rights and criticizing Western imperialism and his radical views ran counter to the country's evermore conservative posture During the McCarthy period Robeson's passport was lifted, he was denounced as a traitor and his career was destroyed Yet he refused to bow His powerful and tragic story is emblematic of the major themes of twentieth-century history Martin Duberman's exhaustive biography is the result of years of research and interviews and paints a portrait worthy of its incredible subject and his improbable story Duberman uses primary documents to take us deep into Robeson's life giving Robeson the due that he so richly deserves

Representations of Childhood in American Modernism Mason Phillips, 2016-10-31 This book documents American modernism's efforts to disenchant adult and child readers alike of the essentialist view of childhood as redemptive originary and universal For James Barnes Du Bois and Stein the twentieth century's move to position the child at the center of the self and society raised concerns about the shrinking value of maturity and prompted a critical response that imagined childhood and children's narratives in ways virtually antagonistic to both In this original study Mason Phillips argues that American modernism's widespread critique of childhood led to some of the period's most meaningful and most misunderstood experiments with interiority narration and children's literature

Race and the Modern Artist Heather Hathaway, Josef Ja^D^rab, Jeffrey Melnick, 2003-01-16 Definitions of modernism have been debated throughout the twentieth century But both during the height of the modernist era and since little to no consideration has been given to the work of minority writers as part of this movement Considering works by writers ranging from B A Botkin T S Eliot Waldo Frank and Jean Toomer to Pedro Pietri and Allen Ginsberg these essays examine the disputed relationships between modernity modernism and American cultural diversity In so doing the collection as a whole adds an important new dimension to our understanding of twentieth century literature

Another Self Linda W. Rosenzweig, 1999-08 From nineteenth century romantic friendships to childhood best friends and idealistic versions of feminist sisterhood female friendship has been seen as an essential sustaining influence on women's lives Women are thought to have a special aptitude for making and keeping friends But notions of friendship are not constant and neither are women's experiences of this fundamental form of connection In Another Self Linda W Rosenzweig sheds light on the changing nature of white middle class American women's relationships during the coming of age of modern America As the middle class domesticity of the nineteenth century waned a new emotional culture arose in the twentieth century and the intensely affectionate bonds between women of earlier decades were supplanted by new priorities autonomy careers participation in an expanding consumer culture and the expectation of fulfillment and companionship in marriage An increased emphasis on heterosexual interactions and a growing stigmatization of close same sex relationships fostered new friendship styles and patterns Drawing on a wide range of primary sources including diaries journals correspondence and popular periodicals Rosenzweig uncovers the complex and intricate links between social and cultural developments and women's personal experiences of friendship

Jews in an Illusion of Paradise Norman Simms, 2018-01-23 These further six chapters of Jews in an Illusion of Paradise now focus on individual exemplary figures and clusters of poets dramatists critics journalists art historians Jews whose achievements were once celebrated but now are almost all but forgotten not because of changes in aesthetic taste or style but because of social political and other ideological issues The book continues to examine the clash between their conscious and unconscious self presentation as Jews in a culture that wilfully or inadvertently misunderstood or rejected this aspect of otherness the men and women represented from the mid nineteenth to the mid twentieth centuries Whereas the first volume concentrated on the themes images and rhetorical motifs of this awkward status of Jewish intellectuals and artists here the ambiguous personalities and repressed anxieties of the exemplary figures are stressed For millennia Jews were considered outside of normal history passive victims of persecution then suddenly with Emancipation they fell into history and out of their mythical place in the scheme of things Everything seemed to crumble into dust and ashes

Glamour in Six Dimensions Judith Brown, 2018-09-05 Glamour is an alluring but elusive concept We most readily associate it with fashion industrial design and Hollywood of the Golden Age and yet it also shaped the language and interests of high modernism In Glamour in Six Dimensions Judith Brown looks at the historical and aesthetic roots of glamour in the early decades of the twentieth century arguing that glamour is the defining aesthetic of modernism In the clean lines of modernism she finds the ideal conditions for glamour blankness polish impenetrability and the suspicion of emptiness behind it all Brown focuses on several cultural products that she argues helped to shape glamour s meanings the most significant perfume of the twentieth century Chanel No 5 the idea of the Jazz Age and its ubiquitous cigarette the celebrity photograph the staging of primitivism and the invention of a shimmering plastic called cellophane Alongside these artifacts she takes up the development refinement and analysis of glamour in Anglo American poetry film fiction and drama of the period Glamour in Six Dimensions thus asks its reader to see the proximity between the vernacular and elite cultures of modernism and particularly how glamour was animated by artists working at the crossroads of the mundane and the extraordinary Wallace Stevens F Scott Fitzgerald Virginia Woolf Josephine Baker D H Lawrence Gertrude Stein Nella Larsen and others

Modernism in the Green Julia E. Daniel, Margaret Konkol, 2020-04-15

Modernism in the Green traces a trans Atlantic modernist fascination with the creation use and representation of the modern green From the verdant public commons in the heart of cities to the lookout points on mountains in national parks planned green spaces serve as felicitous stages for the performance of modernism In its focus on designed and public green zones Modernism in the Green offers a new perspective on modernism s overlapping investments in the arts politics urbanism race class gender and the nature culture divide This collection of essays is the first to explore the prominent and diverse ways greens materialize in modern literature and culture along with the manner in which modernists represented them This volume presents the idea of the green as a point of exploration as our contributors analyze social organic spaces ranging from public parks to roadways and refuse piles Like the term green one that evokes both more than human natural zones and crafted public meeting places these chapters uncover the social and spatial intersection of nature and culture in the very architecture of parks gardens buildings highways and dumps This book argues that such greens facilitate modernists exploration of how nature can manifest in an era of increasing urbanization and mechanization and what identities and communities the green now enables or prevents
