America Is the Prison Lee Bernstein, 2010-06-01 In the 1970s while politicians and activists outside prisons debated the proper response to crime incarcerated people helped shape those debates through a broad range of remarkable political and literary writings Lee Bernstein explores the forces that sparked a dramatic prison art renaissance shedding light on how incarcerated people produced powerful works of writing performance and visual art These included everything from George Jackson's revolutionary Soledad Brother to Miguel Pinero's acclaimed off Broadway play and Hollywood film Short Eyes An extraordinary range of prison programs fine arts theater secondary education and prisoner run programs allowed the voices of prisoners to influence the Black Arts Movement the Nuyorican writers New Journalism and political theater among the most important aesthetic contributions of the decade By the 1980s and 90s prisoners educational and artistic programs were scaled back or eliminated as the war on crime escalated But by then these prisoners words had crossed over the wall helping many Americans to rethink the meaning of the walls themselves and ultimately the meaning of the society that produced them

Prisons of Creativity John R. Whitman, 2024-11-19 Sparking a discussion of the importance of creativity for the well being of society this book highlights and argues for the potential of those in prison to learn and exercise the skills of writing visual arts and music to protect their intellectual property and to distribute their works to the public and the consequent benefits of their creative contribution to wider society Focused on the premise that a nation's well being and competitive advantage in innovation are advanced by promoting the creative efforts of all its citizens without exclusion including those residing in prisons this book uses the United States as a case study to illuminate the potential among any nation's prison population to contribute to its store of creative works Arguing that creativity should be encouraged for the benefit of all it offers a framework for how incarcerated individuals globally could be permitted to engage in learning and undertaking skills in the expressive arts to produce works for public dissemination Supporting this argument it explores and analyses the Intellectual Property clause of the Constitution of the United States Emphasizing not just the internal but also the external value of creativity in prison Prisons of Creativity widens and elevates the discourse concerning the institution of prison in society and its social goals It will be of great value to anyone with an interest in arts in corrections including educators and practitioners professionals and policy makers within the criminal justice system and students and scholars of criminology criminal justice and related areas

An Ear to the Ground Marie Harris, Kathleen Aguero, 1989 A multicultural anthology of contemporary American poetry featuring works by over one hundred famous and lesser known writers including Gwendolyn Brooks Sandra Cisneros Simon Ortiz and Ray A Young Bear

The Oxford History of the Prison Norval Morris, David J. Rothman, 1998 Ranging from ancient times to the present a survey of the evolution of the prison explores its relationship to the history of Western criminal law and offers a look at the social world of prisoners over the centuries

Witness in the Era of Mass Incarceration Doran Larson, 2017-07-17 Witness in the Era of Mass Incarceration works from the premise that if the law establishes and maintains both its practical and symbolic authority on the basis of its monopoly on legally sanctioned violence and the suffering threatened and delivered by such violence then we cannot know the full human cost or concrete moral status of any legal state without human witness to the depth and manner of suffering meted out by such violence The prison writer stands in the position to offer such witness The prison writer knows the law's violence in the flesh For every other writer reflection upon the degree and manner of suffering meted out under legal sanction that is reflection upon the full human cost of the contemporary legal order is necessarily speculative In close readings of first person witness from prisons in the U S Ireland and Africa Witness in the Era of Mass Incarceration discovers literary tropes that chart at once local national and transnational conditions of carceral experience the extant conditions of legalized suffering In exhibiting the labor required to move from institutionalized abjection to the minimum requirements of rights bearing personhood this witness offers the sole credible vision of the possibility of a post carceral understanding of freedom

The Arts of Imprisonment Leonidas K. Cheliotis, 2016-12-05 The arts spanning the visual design performing media musical and literary genres constitute an alternative lens through which to understand state sanctioned punishment and its place in public consciousness Perhaps this is especially so in the case of imprisonment its nature its functions and the ways in which these register in public perceptions and desires have historically and to some extent inherently been intertwined with the arts But the products of this intertwinement have by no means been constant or uniform Indeed just as exploring imprisonment and its public meanings through the lens of the arts may reveal hitherto obscured instances of social control within or outside prisons so too it may uncover a rich and possibly inspirational archive of resistance to them This edited collection sheds light both on state use of the arts for the purposes of controlling prisoners and the broader public and the use made of the arts by prisoners and portions of the broader public as tools of resistance to penal states The book also includes a number of chapters that address arts in prisons programmes making distinctive contributions to the literature on their philosophy formation operation effectiveness and research evaluation as well as taking care to explore the politics surrounding and underpinning these multiple themes

Disguised as a Poem Judith Tannenbaum, 2000 Tannenbaum reminds readers not only that men and women behind bars are human and therefore deserving of our respect and compassion but that they have much to tell us about our propensity for both barbarism and beauty Booklist critiquing white supremacy and broadly reimagining autobiographical discourse An interdisciplinary work that brings life writing scholarship into conversation with prison studies and law and literature studies Prison Life Writing theorizes how life writing works in prison explains literature's complicated entanglements with institutional power and demonstrates the political and aesthetic innovations of one of America's most fascinating literary genres Carceral Spaces Nick Gill, 2016-04-15 This book draws together the work of a new community of scholars with a growing interest in carceral geography the geographical study of practices of imprisonment and detention It combines work by geographers on mainstream penal establishments where people are incarcerated by the prevailing legal system with geographers' recent work on migrant detention centres where irregular migrants and refused asylum seekers are detained ostensibly pending decisions on admittance or repatriation Working in these contexts the book's contributors investigate the geographical location and spatialities of institutions the nature of spaces of incarceration and detention and experiences inside them governmentality and prisoner agency cultural geographies of penal spaces and mobility in the carceral context In dialogue with emergent and topical agendas in geography around mobility space and agency and in relation to international policy challenges such as the dis functionality of imprisonment and the search for alternatives to detention this book presents a timely addition to emergent interdisciplinary scholarship that will prompt dialogue among those working in geography criminology and prison sociology Crossing the Yard Richard Shelton, 2016-10-01 Ever since he was asked to critique the poetry of a convicted murderer he has lived in two worlds Richard Shelton was a young English professor in 1970 when a convict named Charles Schmid a serial killer dubbed the Pied Piper of Tucson in national magazines shared his brooding verse But for Shelton the novelty of meeting a death row monster became a thirty year commitment to helping prisoners express themselves Shelton began organizing creative writing workshops behind bars and in this gritty memoir he offers up a chronicle of reaching out to forgotten men and women and of creativity blossoming in a repressive environment He tells of published students such as Paul Ashley Greg Forker Ken Lamberton and Jimmy Santiago Baca who have made names for themselves through their writing instead of their crimes Shelton also recounts the bittersweet triumph of seeing work published by men who later met with agonizing deaths and the despair of seeing the creative strides of inmates broken by politically motivated transfers to private prisons And his memoir bristles with hard edged experiences ranging from inside knowledge of prison breaks to a workshop conducted while a riot raged outside a barricaded door Reflecting on his decision to tutor Schmid Shelton sees that the choice has led me through bloody tragedies and terrible disappointments to a better understanding of what it means to be human Crossing the Yard is a rare story of professional fulfillment and a testament to the transformative power of writing Doing Time Bell Gale Chevigny, 2011-11-01 A special collection of the best fiction essays poetry and plays from annual PEN Prison Writing contest offers unique insights into the emotions and thoughts engendered by the prison experience ranging from humor and empathy to rage fear and despair 15 000 first printing and priorities for the future At the End of Ridge Road Joseph Bruchac, 2005 A noted teller of the traditional tales of the Adirondacks and of Native peoples everywhere Joseph Bruchac has performed throughout the world That gift for narrative informs this revealing autobiography Poetry as Therapy Morris R. Morrison, 1987 Words Is a Powerful Thing Brian Daldorph, 2021 Brian Daldorph first entered the Douglas County Jail classroom in Lawrence Kansas to teach a writing class on Christmas Eve 2001 His last class at the jail for the foreseeable future was mid March 2020 right before the COVID 19 lockdown the virus is taking a heavy toll in confined communities like nursing homes and prisons Words Is a Powerful Thing is Daldorph s record of teaching at the jail for the two decades between 2001 and 2020 showing how the lives of everyone involved in the class but especially the inmates who came to class week after week benefited from what happened every Thursday afternoon in that jail classroom where for two hours inmates and instructor became a circle of ink and blood writing together reciting their poems telling stories and having a few good laughs Words Is a Powerful Thing brings into the light the works of fifty talented inmate writers whose work deserves attention Their poetry speaks of what really matters to all of us and gives the reader sustained insight into the role that creativity plays in aiding survival and bringing positive change for inmates and in turn for all of us Daldorph s account of his teaching experience not only takes the reader inside the daily life at a county jail but also sets the work done in the writing class within the larger context of inmate education is the US corrections system where education is often one of the few lifelines available to inmates Words Is a Powerful Thing provides a teaching guide for instructors working with incarcerated writers offering an extensive examination of both the challenges and benefits When Brian Daldorph decided the story of his classroom experiences and the great writing produced by the inmates deserved to be told to wider audiences he struggled with how to bring it all together Not long after an inmate wrote a poem titled Words Is a Powerful Thing offering Daldorph a title concept and purpose to show that the poetry of inmates speaks not just to other inmates but to all of us
