The Heads of Religious Houses David M. Smith, Vera C. M. London, 2001-08-09 This book is a continuation of The Heads of Religious Houses England and Wales 940-1216 edited by David Knowles, C. N. L. Brooke and Vera London which itself is reissued with substantial addenda by Professor Brooke. This present volume continues the lists from 1216 to 1377. In this period further record sources have been provided by episcopal registers, governmental enrolments, court records and so on. Full references are given for establishing the dates and outline of the career of each abbot or prior, abess or prioress when known. The lists are arranged by order: the Benedictine houses, independent dependencies and alien priories, the Cluniacs, the Grandmontines, the Cistercians, the Carthusians, the Augustinian canons, the Premonstratensians, the Gilbertine order, the Trinitarian houses, the Bonhommes and the nuns. An introduction discusses the nature, use and history of the lists and examines critically the sources on which they are based. The Franciscan Order in the Medieval English Province and Beyond Michael Robson, Patrick Zutshi, 2025-10-01 Commemorating John Moorman's immense contribution to Franciscan history across five decades, the essays in this collection reflect upon Moorman's diverse writings on biography, hagiography, history, art and prosopography. Contributors draw upon Moorman's diaries and his materials for a biographical register of the Franciscans in medieval England. The volume is in tune with recent developments in Franciscan history in general, with a special interest in the English province. This is exemplified by studies on Franciscan iconography, the English province's impact of the wider order, the scholastic enterprise, prosopography, economy, sermons, the application of Canon Law to the debates at the papal court and the evolution of John Moorman's studies on St Francis and his followers. Castles, Siegeworks and Settlements Duncan W. Wright, Oliver H. Creighton, 2016-11-30 This volume comprises thirteen reports detailing fieldwork undertaken by a research project which sought to assess the archaeological evidence of the period of conflict that took place in mid-twelfth century England, popularly known as the Anarchy. Women in Thirteenth-century Lincolnshire Louise J. Wilkinson, 2015 Written by Louise J. Wilkinson, this book offers a regional study of women in 13th century England, making pioneering use of charters, chronicles, government records, some of the earliest manorial court rolls to examine the interaction of gender, status, life cycle in shaping women's experiences in Lincolnshire. Medieval Adaptation, Settlement and Economy of a Coastal Wetland Luke Barber, Greg Priestley-Bell, 2008-10-08 Romney Marsh is the largest coastal lowland on the south coast of England. Since 1991, excavations in advance of gravel extraction around Lydd on Romney Marsh have uncovered large areas of medieval landscape, one of the largest to be exposed in southern England. Features uncovered include 12th-13th century drainage ditches, ditched field systems and sea defences. Also of particular significance is the identification of a series of occupation sites and their enclosures. The excavation of dispersed settlements is particularly difficult because of the scale of work required to produce meaningful results. In this case, it has been possible to work on sufficiently large areas to allow significant conclusions to be drawn. The excavations at Lydd Quarry have shown how dispersed settlement existed alongside the nucleated market settlements on Romney Marsh This extensive report details the archaeological investigations of the field systems and occupation sites finds and environmental material There is also a section by Sheila Sweetinburgh on the documentary evidence Two final chapters set out broader conclusions from the evidence for the field systems settlements and economy and set the area in its wider context The research has provided an unprecedented opportunity to study reclamation occupation and economy of a large tract of marginal landscape through a considerable period of time

Law in Common Tom Johnson, 2020 Law in Common draws on a large body of unpublished archival material from local archives and libraries across the country to show how ordinary people in the later Middle Ages such as peasants craftsmen and townspeople used law in their everyday lives developing our understanding of the operation of late medieval society and politics

Plantagenet Ancestry: A Study In Colonial And Medieval Families, 2nd Edition, 2011 , Peasant and Community in Medieval England, 1200-1500 P. Schofield, 2002-12-17 In recent years work on the medieval English peasant has tended to stress the degree of interaction between the village and the world beyond its bounds This book not only provides an overview of this research but also develops this approach Phillipp R Schofield describes the traditional world of the peasant with attention given to such issues as relations between lord and tenant and the nature of the peasant family and places the peasantry of the late middle ages within the wider political legal ecclesiastical and commercial world of the medieval community

Bury St. Edmunds Antonia Gransden, 2020-11-25 This book focuses on art palaeography bindings and the monastic library It is based on lectures given at the Association s Annual Conference the 20th in the present series which was held at Bury St Edmunds from 16 to 20 April 1994 three specially commissioned articles are also included

Pilgrims and Pilgrimage in the Medieval West Diana Webb, 2001-02-16 Pilgrimage was an integral part not only of medieval religion but medieval life and from its origins in the 4th century Mediterranean world rapidly spread to northern Europe as a pan European devotional phenomenon Drawing upon original source materials this text seeks to uncover the motives of pilgrims and the details of their preparation maintenance hazards on the route and their ideas about pilgrimage sites especially Jerusalem Compostela and Rome and gives an account of the multiplicity of interest which grew up around the many shrines along the way The period covered is from about 1000 AD to 1500 AD before the first crusade and the beginning of the great growth in pilgrimage in the Orthodox church Byzantine of Russia The bibliography includes printed sources and a listing of secondary works
