Prison Food in America Erika Camplin, 2016-12-08 America seems presently fascinated by prison culture and the inner workings of what happens behind closed doors With TV shows creating binge watchers of us all and celebrities piquing public interest as they end up behind bars Americans seem to enjoy a good gawk at prison life Each year more than 1.3 million visitors still trek out to Alcatraz Island one of the most famous prisons in the world And why shouldn't they be curious about prison We as a nation currently incarcerate more people per capita than any other country and our prisons are notoriously rough violent and overcrowded At the same time we love our food take pictures of it post it socially and discuss our foodie favorites Rarely do we consider the food experiences of those for whom sustenance is more difficult to obtain particularly those incarcerated where choice and access is severely limited Prison food is often everything to prisoners It is the only marker of time throughout the day Food becomes commerce in the microeconomies behind prison walls It is often the only source of pleasure in a monotonous routine It creates sites of community when prisoners ban together to create recipes but also becomes a site of discord when issues surrounding fairness and equity arise in the chow hall Prison Food in America offers a high level snapshot of the fare offered behind bars its general guidelines and regulations fascinating stories about prisoners and food and the remarkable and varied ways food plays a role in the fabric of prison culture

Visualizing Law in the Age of the Digital Baroque Richard K Sherwin, 2012-05-23 Visualizing Law in the Age of the Digital Baroque explores the profound impact that visual digital technologies are having on the practice and theory of law Today lawyers judges and lay jurors face a vast array of visual evidence and visual argument From videos documenting crimes and accidents to computer displays of their digital simulation increasingly the search for fact based justice inside the courtroom is becoming an offshoot of visual meaning making But when law migrates to the screen it lives there as other images do motivating belief and judgment on the basis of visual delight and unconscious fantasies and desires as well as actualities Law as image also shares broader cultural anxieties concerning not only the truth of the image but also the mimetic capacity itself the human ability to represent reality What is real and what is simulation This is the hallmark of the baroque when dreams fold into dreams like immersion in a seemingly endless matrix of digital appearances When fact based justice recedes laws proliferate within a field of uncertainty Left unchecked this condition of ontological and ethical uneasiness threatens the legitimacy of law s claim to power Visualizing Law in the Age of the Digital Baroque offers a jurisprudential paradigm that is equal to the challenge that current cultural conditions present

Encountering Earth Trevor George Hunsberger Bechtel, Matt Eaton, Tim Harvie, 2018-05-14 One day Matthew Eaton was walking through an impromptu animal shelter display at his local pet store when suddenly an eight month old kitten dug his claws into Eaton s flesh Eaton recognized that the eyes of this cat and the curve of his claw compelled a response analogous to those found in the writings of Buber Levinas and Derrida And not just Eaton but a whole community of theologians have found themselves in an encounter with particular places and animals that demands rich theological reflection Eaton enlisted fellow editors Harvie and Bechtel to collect the essays in this volume in which theologians listen to horses rats snakes cats dogs and the earth itself who become new theological voices demanding a response In this volume the voice of the more than human world is heard as making theology possible These essays suggest that what we say theologically represents not simply ideas of our own making subsequently superimposed onto the natural world through our own discovery but rather flow from an expressive Earth With additional contributions from Kimberly Carfore Lisa E Dahill Celia Deane Drummond Heather Eaton Nathan Kowalsky Abigail Lofte Jame Schaefer Cristina D Vanin Mark Wallace Grace Y Kao Chris Carter John Berkman Laura Hobgood

Mapping Precarity in Contemporary Cinema and Television Francesco Sticchi, 2021-02-11 This book examines a corpus of films and TV series released since the global financial crisis addressing them as emblematic expressions of our age of precarity The analysis of the motifs and characters of these case studies is built around notions originating from Mikhail Bakhtin s literary theory and in particular the concept of chronotope affirming the material and dynamic connection between form and content in artistic experience This book observes how precarious lives are enacted in forms of spatio temporal compositions which carry conceptual and ethical challenges for their viewers This book falls within the film philosophy framework and although primarily directed to an academic audience it provides an interdisciplinary account of the notion of cinematic precarity It puts the embodied analysis of viewers ethical participation in close dialogical relationship with a philosophical and sociological examination of current dynamics of inequality and exclusion

The Public Value of the Humanities Jonathan Bate, 2011-01-27 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com Recession is a time for asking fundamental questions about value At a time when governments are being forced to make

swingeing savings in public expenditure why should they continue to invest public money funding research into ancient Greek tragedy literary value philosophical conundrums or the aesthetics of design Does such research deliver value for money and public benefit Such questions have become especially pertinent in the UK in recent years in the context of the drive by government to instrumentalize research across the disciplines and the prominence of discussions about economic impact and knowledge transfer In this book a group of distinguished humanities researchers all working in Britain but publishing research of international importance reflect on the public value of their discipline using particular research projects as case studies Their essays are passionate sometimes polemical often witty and consistently thought provoking covering a range of humanities disciplines from theology to architecture and from media studies to anthropology

A Scream Goes Through the House Arnold Weinstein, 2007-12-18 For too long we have been encouraged to see culture as an affair of intellect and reading as a solitary exercise But the truth is different literature and art are pathways of feeling and our encounter with them is social inscribing us in a larger community Through art we discover that we are not alone So writes the esteemed Brown University professor Arnold Weinstein in this brilliant radical exploration of Western literature In the tradition of Harold Bloom and Jacques Barzun Weinstein guides us through great works of art to reveal how literature constitutes nothing less than a feast for the heart Our encounter with literature and art can be a unique form of human connection an entry into the storehouse of feeling Writing about works by Sophocles Shakespeare Dickens Charlotte Bront Munch Proust O Neill Burroughs DeLillo Tony Kushner Toni Morrison and others Weinstein explores how writers and artists give us a vision of what human life is really all about Reading is an affair of the heart as well as of the mind deepening our sense of the fundamental forces and emotions that govern our lives including fear pain illness loss depression death and love Provocative beautifully written essential A Scream Goes Through the House traces the human cry that echoes in literature through the ages demonstrating how intense feelings are heard and shared With intellectual insight and emotional acumen Weinstein reveals how the scream that resounds through the house of literature history the body and the family shows us who we really are and joins us together in a vast and timeless community
