The Paintings of the America's Cup, 1851-1987 Ranulf Rayner, Tim Thompson, 1986 The Winning Moment Ranulf Rayner, Tim Thompson, 1986 Twenty six paintings depict the point at which each defense of the America's Cup was decided and provides information about each competing ship and each race The America's Cup, 1990 The Story of the America's Cup, 1851-1995 Ranulf Rayner, 1996-10 All who love the sea and sailing will enjoy these beautiful marine paintings by Tim Thompson of Cornwall His fine technique is reminiscent of former great marine artists and his paintings noted for their superb expression of wind and light are increasingly in demand throughout the world Canadiana, 1986

Nautical Quarterly, 1986 Bibliography of Nautical Books ,1997 Whitaker's Books of the Month & Books to Come .1986 Painting the Inhabited Landscape Margaretta M. Lovell, 2023-03-27 The impulse in much nineteenth century American painting and culture was to describe nature as a wilderness on which the young nation might freely inscribe its future the United States as a virgin land that is unploughed unfenced and unpainted Insofar as it exhibited evidence of a past its traces pointed to a geologic or cosmic past not a human one The work of the New England artist Fitz H Lane however was decidedly different In this important study Margaretta Markle Lovell singles out the more modestly scaled explicitly inhabited landscapes of Fitz H Lane and investigates the patrons who supported his career with an eye to understanding how New Englanders thought about their land their economy their history and their links with widely disparate global communities Lane's works depict nature as productive and allied in partnership with humans to create a sustainable balanced political economy What emerges from this close look at Lane's New England is a picture not of a virgin wilderness but of a land deeply resonant with its former uses and a human history that incorporates rather than excludes Native Americans as shapers of land and as agents in that history Calling attention to unexplored dimensions of nineteenth century painting Painting the Inhabited Landscape is a major intervention in the scholarship on American art of the period examining how that body of work commented on American culture and informs our understanding of canon formation
