Muslim Women in America Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad,Jane I. Smith,Kathleen M. Moore,2006-03-02 The treatment and role of women are among the most discussed and controversial aspects of Islam The rights of Muslim women have become part of the Western political agenda often perpetuating a stereotype of universal oppression Muslim women living in America continue to be marginalized and misunderstood since the 9 11 terrorist attacks Yet their contributions are changing the face of Islam as it is seen both within Muslim communities in the West and by non Muslims In their public and private lives Muslim women are actively negotiating what it means to be a woman and a Muslim in an American context Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad Jane I Smith and Kathleen M Moore offer a much needed survey of the situation of Muslim American women focusing on how Muslim views about and experiences of gender are changing in the Western diaspora Centering on Muslims in America the book investigates Muslim attempts to form a new American Islam Such specific issues as dress marriage childrearing conversion and workplace discrimination are addressed The authors also look at the ways in which American Muslim women have tried to create new paradigms of Islamic womanhood and are reinterpreting the traditions apart from the males who control the mosque institutions A final chapter asks whether 9 11 will prove to have been a watershed moment for Muslim women in America This groundbreaking work presents the diversity of Muslim American women and demonstrates the complexity of the issues Impeccably researched and accessible it broadens our understanding of Islam in the West and encourages further exploration into how Muslim women are shaping the future of American Islam

Mohammed,2008-06-01 Islam in Urban America Garbi Schmidt,2004 In recent years world events have trained a harsh spotlight on the Muslim religion and its adherents The misunderstanding and bias against Muslims in the United States not only persists but has deepened In this detailed study of an immigrant community in Chicago Garbi Schmidt considers the formation and meaning of an American Islam This vivid portrait of the people and the institutions that draw them together contributes to the academic literature on ethnic and religious identity at the same time as it depicts an immigrant community s struggle against bias and forces that threaten its cohesion Chicago has long been home to Muslim immigrants from numerous countries in the Middle East and South Asia For some members of these groups religion carries more weight than ethnic identity in the American context and enables them to form and participate in a broad spectrum of institutions that support their religious and social interests Schmidt offers her observations of the schools and student associations that serve young Muslims as well as the social religious and political organizations that serve adults By looking at the ways in which children adolescents and adults come together in these institutions she is able to show the dynamic process in which a variegated American Muslim identity takes shape Readers will come away from this book with a better understanding of the ideological and cultural differences among Muslims and a greater appreciation of their struggles in becoming Americans Author note Garbi Schmidt is a senior researcher and coordinator of the ethnic minorities initiative at the Danish National Institute of Social Research Copenhagen
