The Pawnshop Chronicles:

My Life with Things Elizabeth Chin, 2016-05-19 Unconventional and provocative My Life with Things is Elizabeth Chin's meditation on her relationship with consumer goods and a critical statement on the politics and method of anthropology. Chin centers the book on diary entries that focus on everyday items: kitchen cabinet knobs, shoes, a piano, and uses them to intimately examine the ways consumption resonates with personal and social meaning. From writing love haikus about her favorite nail polish and discussing the racial implications of her tooth cap to revealing how she used shopping to cope with a miscarriage and contemplating how her young daughter came to think that she needed L'Oréal Throughout Chin keeps Karl Marx and his family's relationship to their possessions in mind, drawing parallels between Marx's napkins, the production of late nineteenth-century table linens, and Chin's own vintage linen collection. Unflinchingly and refreshingly honest, Chin unlocks the complexities of her attachments to reliance on and complicated relationships with her things. In so doing, she prompts readers to reconsider their own consumption as well as their assumptions about the possibilities for creative scholarship.

Latino Small Businesses and the American Dream Melvin Delgado, 2011 Latino small businesses provide social, economic, and cultural comfort to their communities. They are also excellent facilitators of community capacity, a major component of effective social work practice. Social work practitioners have a vested interest in seeing such businesses grow, not only among Latinos but all communities of color. Reviewing the latest research on formal and informal economies within urban communities of color, Melvin Delgado lays out the demographic foundations for a richer collaboration between theory and practice. Delgado deploys numerous case studies to cement the link between indigenous small businesses and community well-being. Whether regulated or unregulated, these establishments hire from within and promote immigrant self-employment. Latino small businesses often provide jobs for those whose criminal and mental health backgrounds intimidate conventional businesses. Recently estimated to be the largest group of color running small businesses in the United States, Latino owners top two million, with the number expected to double within the next few years. Joining an understanding of these institutions with the kind of practice that enables their social and economic improvement, Delgado explains how to identify and mobilize the kinds of resources that best spur their development.

The New Biographical Dictionary of Film David Thomson, 2014-05-06 For almost thirty years David Thomson's Biographical Dictionary of Film has been not merely the finest reference book ever written about movies. Graham Fuller Interview not merely the desert island book of art critic David Sylvester not merely a great crazy masterpiece. Geoff Dyer The Guardian but also fiendishly seductive. Greil Marcus Rolling Stone This new edition updates the older entries and adds 30 new ones: Darren Aronofsky, Emmanuelle Béart, Jerry Bruckheimer, Larry Clark, Jennifer Connelly, Chris Cooper, Sofia Coppola, Alfonso Cuarón, Richard Curtis, Sir Richard Eyre, Sir Michael Gambon, Christopher Guest, Alejandro González Iñárritu, Spike Jonze, Wong Kar Wai, Laura Linney, Tobey Maguire, Michael Moore, Samantha Morton, Mike Myers, Christopher Nolan, Dennis Quaid, Adam Sandler, Kevin Smith, Kiefer Sutherland, Charlize Theron, Larry Wachowski and Andy Wachowski, Lew Wasserman, Naomi Watts, and Ray Winstone. In all, the book includes more than 1300 entries, some of them just a pungent paragraph, some of them several thousand words long. In addition to the new musts, Thomson has added key figures from film history: lively anatomies of Graham Greene, Eddie Cantor, Pauline Kael, Abbott and Costello, Noël Coward, Hoagy Carmichael, Dorothy Gish, Rin Tin Tin, and more. Here is a great rare book, one that encompasses the chaos of art, entertainment, money, vulgarity, and nonsense that we call the movies. Personal, opinionated, funny, daring, provocative, and passionate, it is the one book that every filmmaker and film buff must own. Time Out named it one of the ten best books of the 1990s. Gavin Lambert recognized it as a work of imagination in its own right. Now, better than ever, a masterwork by the man playwright David Hare called the most stimulating and thoughtful film critic now writing.

Generation Tarantino Andrew J. Rausch, 2025-07-10 In iconic films like Reservoir Dogs and Pulp Fiction, Quentin Tarantino personified the spirit of 90s filmmaking, boldly forging his own opportunities rather than waiting for the movie industry to come knocking on his door. He and his fellow travelers, directors like Richard Linklater, Dazed and Confused, John Singleton, Boyz n the Hood, Guillermo del Toro, The Devil's Backbone, David Fincher, Seven, Robert Rodriguez, Desperado, Kevin Smith, Clerks, Noah Baumbach, Kicking and Screaming, Wes Anderson, Rushmore, Paul Thomas Anderson, Boogie Nights, Christopher Nolan, Following, Darren Aronofsky, Requiem for a Dream, and Sofia Coppola, The Virgin Suicides, established their maverick style careers by breaking norms, creating new standards, and building on the techniques of the films that preceded them, pushing the artistic boundaries of cinema to new heights. Breaking free from the blockbuster bloat of the 1980s, Generation Tarantino, in some ways, recalled the era of an earlier wave of pioneers: Scorsese, Spielberg, Coppola, Altman, and De Palma. But they were uniquely of their time, capturing the attitude of young adults in the 1990s, breaking the rules, setting new standards, mixing tones and genres in a way that no one had before. These were directors who wouldn't take no for an answer. Generation Tarantino: The Last Wave of Young Turks in Hollywood is an examination of the films, careers, and artistic styles of the most significant filmmakers to emerge during the 1990s. With interviews from filmmakers, screenwriters, cameramen, producers, and actors, this is a book about a generation of directors who raised the artistic bar and changed cinema forever.
