Jean-Henri Fabre

The Pelt Of Waspsph:

The Pelt of Wasps David Constantine, 1998 The prevailing mood of The Pelt of Wasps is one of unease often elegiac tinged with pleasure barbed with pain The poems hold a worried balance between celebration and anxiety restraint and longing The book includes David Constantine's long poem Lady Hamilton and the Elephant Man recently broadcast on Radio 3 David Constantine writes Wasps many hundreds of them are pressing against the window of a room in which a lamp has been left on all night That poem nishes I bless my life that so much wants in Most of the poems in this new collection have to do with the pressure of phenomena occurrences and other people on an individual consciousness and the determined will of that individuality to press back and extend itself The poems continue old obsessions love and loss but these in reality are never repetitious since we are always each time older The long poem Lady Hamilton and the Elephant Man belongs properly with the others in this book and with Caspar Hauser and my novel Davies In it I have put together four gures in an underworld and let them interconnect Much of my poetics it seems to me consists in placing things oddly side by side Still not so oddly as life does Poetic Revelations Mark S. Burrows, Jean Ward, Małgorzata Grzegorzewska, 2016-08-12 This book explores the much debated relation of language and bodily experience i e the flesh considering in particular how poetry functions as revelatory discourse and thus relates to the formal horizon of theological inquiry The central thematic focus is around a phenomenology of the flesh as that which connects us with the world being the site of perception and feeling joy and suffering and of life itself in all its vulnerability The voices represented in this collection reflect interdisciplinary methods of interpretation and broadly ecumenical sensibilities focusing attention on such matters as the revelatory nature of language in general and poetic language in particular the function of poetry in society the question of Incarnation and its relation to language and the poetic arts the kenosis of the Word and human embodiment in relation to the word enfleshed in poetry

More Hunting Wasps Jean-Henri Fabre, 2021-04-25 In More Hunting Wasps Jean Henri Fabre delves into the intricate lives of solitary wasps presenting a striking blend of scientific observation and lyrical prose Fabre's keen eye for detail illuminates the wasps' behaviors and habitats showcasing their complex relationships with the environment The book is embedded within the naturalist literary tradition of the late 19th century offering readers a unique glimpse into the world of entomology through Fabre's innovative narrative style and vivacious descriptions which breathe life into the rigors of scientific inquiry His meticulous observations not only inform but also enchant elevating the study of wasps to an art form and situating it in the broader context of nature writing of his time Jean Henri Fabre often regarded as a pioneer of modern entomology was deeply influenced by his upbringing in rural France where his early encounters with nature ignited a lifelong passion for observation His extensive field studies and profound commitment to documenting the behaviors of insects stemmed from the dual desire to understand the natural world and communicate its wonders to a broader audience Fabre's literary career reflects his belief that science and storytelling are not mutually exclusive but rather complementary avenues for exploring and sharing knowledge More Hunting Wasps is not merely a scientific text but a call to appreciate the subtleties of the natural world Readers whether they are laypersons with a burgeoning interest in entomology or seasoned scholars will find inspiration in Fabre's articulate prose and passionate exploration of nature This work invites all to rethink their perceptions of insects suggesting that a deeper understanding of these creatures can lead to greater appreciation of biodiversity and ecological complexity
